Connecting Minds 2018 Undergraduate Student Research Conference in Psychology, 5/18/18

What is Connecting Minds?
www.connectingminds.ca

........the exclusively undergraduate research conference in Psychology, hosted by Kwantlen Polytechnic University. Connecting Minds (CM) is the furthest reaching undergraduate conference of its kind, drawing student researchers from across Canada, the United States and even Europe. Since its inauguration in 2008, CM has hosted more than 300 high caliber research presentations representing over 30 institutions.

With events aimed towards the interests of undergraduate students, CM presents graduate panels, grant application panels, and social opportunities.

CM has also featured several world-renowned keynote speakers such as Drs. Elizabeth Loftus and Albert Bandura, both recognized among the top 100 most eminent psychologists of the 20th century.

Who?
Dr. Adele Diamond

Adele Diamond, PhD, FRSC is the Canada Research Chair Professor of Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience at University of British Columbia (UBC), Vancouver, BC, Canada. Her discoveries have impacted education worldwide and improved treatment throughout the world for two medical disorders (PKU and ADHD). She’s been named one of the “2000 Outstanding Women of the 20th Century” and been recognized as one the 15 most influential neuroscientists in the world today. Her specialty is ‘executive functions’ (EFs), which depend on the brain’s prefrontal cortex. EFs enable us to resist temptations or automatic impulsive reactions, stay focused, mentally play with ideas, reason, problem-solve, flexibly adjust to changed demands or priorities, and see things from new and different perspectives.

Dr. Diamond’s keynote address for Connecting Minds 2018 is entitled, “Insights from Psychology and Neuroscience to help you Succeed in University and on the Job Market”.

Where & When?
May 18 - 19, 2018
Kwantlen Polytechnic University – Richmond
8771 Lansdowne Road – Rotunda, 1st Floor
Richmond, British Columbia, Canada

Several advertisement posters will be mailed to you in the New Year. We would greatly appreciate you posting these around your department and encouraging fellow students to attend as either presenters or observers. Also, please advise students that we will be offering limited travel subsidies for non-local student presenters in need of monetary support. creative filmmakers of the early twentieth century.
Global Societies Journal: Call for Papers, 4/1/18

UCSB’s Global Societies Journal is calling for undergraduate submissions for our next issue in Spring 2018. The deadline for submission is: April 1.

Global Societies Journal (GSJ) is a peer-reviewed and open-access journal based in the Global Studies Department at the University of California, Santa Barbara. This interdisciplinary publication explores and analyzes globalization and global-scale issues from a variety of perspectives and disciplines.

GSJ encourages innovative approaches that bridge social sciences and humanities, and seeks to open up new conversations that speak to the contemporary global issues. The journal accepts undergraduate academic work, which addresses a diversity of social, cultural, political, economic, environmental, and legal issues with a holistic perspective that aspires to further our understanding of the contemporary societies.

When you publish in GSJ, you will benefit from:
- Rigorous peer-review process.
- High visibility of your research through wide indexing.
- Green open-access that allows your article to be deposited at the University of California repository and be freely available to anyone with internet access.
- Inclusion of interdisciplinary approaches and diverse perspectives to understanding complex global phenomena as inherently embedded in our societies.
- Far-reaching, interdisciplinary and state-of-the-art research.
- Internationally diverse editorial board.

Join the network of global researchers and submit your paper to Global Societies Journal. For more information, view our website at: http://www.global.ucsb.edu/globalsocieties/ or contact the editorial office at global-societies@ucsb.edu.

The 2018 Summer Institute Political Psychology

Held at Stanford University from August 5 – August 25, 2018

Applications are being accepted now for the 22th Annual Summer Institute in Political Psychology, to be held at Stanford University August 5-25, 2018.

The Summer Institute offers 3 weeks of intensive training in political psychology. Political psychology is an exciting and thriving field that explores the origins of political behavior and the causes of political events, with a special focus on the psychological mechanisms at work.
Research findings in political psychology advance basic theories of politics and are an important basis for political decision-making in practice.

SIPP was founded in 1991 at Ohio State University, and Stanford has hosted SIPP since 2005, with support from Stanford University and from the National Science Foundation. Hundreds of participants have attended SIPP during these years.

The 2018 SIPP curriculum is designed to (1) provide broad exposure to theories, empirical findings, and research traditions; (2) illustrate successful cross-disciplinary research and integration; (3) enhance methodological pluralism; and (4) strengthen networks among scholars from around the world.

SIPP activities will include lectures by world class faculty, discussion groups, research/interest group meetings, group projects, and an array of social activities. Some of the topics covered in past SIPP programs include public attitudes and attitude change, race relations, conflict and dispute resolution, voting and elections, international conflict, decision-making, moral disengagement and violence, social networks, activism and social protest, political socialization, justice, and many more.

In 2018, SIPP will accept up to 60 participants, including graduate students, faculty, professionals, and advanced undergraduates. Please visit our website for more information and to find the application to attend: https://web.stanford.edu/group/sipp/cgi-bin/sipp/Applicants are accepted on a rolling basis until all slots are filled, so applying soon maximizes chances of acceptance. Any questions should be directed to: 2018SIPP@gmail.com

▶ Greek 101: Odyssey - Call for Students

Description: In this class we will read books 9, 10, and 12 of the Odyssey in Greek. Most of our time in class will be devoted to reading and enjoying the Greek together. We will also read the entirety of the Odyssey in English, with each student reading a different translation, and discuss the various translators’ choices and methods for handling the problems of translating ancient epic.
Prerequisites: One year of beginning Greek or equivalent.
Requirements: Regular participation in class; weekly quizzes; one midterm; one final; two writing assignments, one 2-3 pp. and one 5-7 pp.

Things to discuss: Seduction, magic, monsters, and cannibals: in the original adventure story, an unreliable narrator tells tales as vivid as they are surreal, charming and perhaps disturbing his audience. This class will cover books 9, 10, and 12 of the Odyssey, which encompass many of its most famous and fantastical stories: the Lotus-Eaters, the Cyclops, Circe’s island, the Sirens, Scylla and Charybdis, and the Cattle of the Sun.

➢ Summer Minor in Journalism

Interested in improving your communications skills? Come join our popular Summer Minor in Journalism. UC Berkeley School of Journalism now offers a minor in digital journalism that is open to students of all majors and can be completed in one summer. Get hands-on instruction in news writing, video, multimedia, photography and social media. See our site for more information. Registration opens February 1, 2018 and classes fill fast! Students who enroll this summer and complete the minor in one summer or two will receive a $2000 scholarship.

➢ Spring events at Jacobs Hall

Join us for a new season of design events!
As we head into 2018, we're excited to announce our spring season of public events at Jacobs Hall. A lively mix of voices will join us for our Jacobs Design Conversations and Design Field Notes talk series, bringing design perspectives from fields that include art, robotics, law, healthcare, and many more. Beyond these talks, we'll welcome our community for a Cal Day open house and our spring design showcase, celebrating our creative student ecosystem. We hope you'll join us!
In the Jacobs Design Conversations series, guests will join us at Jacobs Hall for lunch and dialogue on design innovation. These talks will take place at noon on Fridays.

Saul Griffith, an inventor and founder of Otherlab, Makani Power, Instructables, and many others, will speak on February 23. Griffith has been awarded numerous awards for invention and engineering, including being named a MacArthur Fellow.
Allison Arieff, editorial director of SPUR and contributing opinion writer for the New York Times, will join us on March 2. Arieff writes about cities and design for numerous publications; previous roles include serving as Senior Content Lead at IDEO and as a founding editor of Dwell magazine, which won a National Magazine Award while she was editor-in-chief. Registration will open one month prior to the talk; to receive a reminder when registration opens, sign up here

Spring also brings a new season of Design Field Notes, a pop-up series that invites design practitioners to a Jacobs Hall teaching studio to share current projects, practices, and ideas. This semester, Design Field Notes talks will take place at 4pm on Tuesdays.
Currently scheduled talks include:
Autodesk UX designer Tiffany Tseng: 4/3
Design anthropologist Melissa Cefkin: 4/10
SFMOMA curatorial assistant Robert Kett: 4/17

We may add additional talks as the semester continues, so look out for news of more events!
Beyond these talks, mark your calendar for Cal Day and for our spring design showcase.

All events are free and open to the public.
Questions? Contact us at jacobsinstitute@berkeley.edu.

Free Access to Lynda.com for Students

To the campus community,
We are pleased to announce that all students now have free access to thousands of courses and online videos covering software, technology, business, and creative skills from the Lynda.com online learning platform! Lynda includes courses on Adobe and Microsoft tools and training on web design and development, audio and video production, and much more.

How to Access Lynda.com

- Browse Courses and Learning Paths: Discover recommended courses for UC Berkeley students from the Library’s Level Up website.
- Login to Lynda.com: Go to the organization sign-in page, enter "berkeley.edu" and login with your CalNet credentials from on or off campus.

Eligibility includes all currently enrolled UC Berkeley undergraduate and graduate students. Lynda.com courses are not available for UC Berkeley credit.
The campus-wide license for all students is available thanks to support from the Student Technology Fund and the University Library. Faculty and staff can continue to access Lynda via Human Resources.

Technical Resources for Students

- Tech Support: Find help online or get drop-in tech support at Moffitt Library or the Academic Centers at each residence hall.
- Free Software: Access free software, such as Adobe Creative Cloud and Microsoft Office, through Software Central.
- Protect Yourself Online: Visit the Information and Security Policy website for tips on how to stay safe online.

Global Poverty & Practice Minor Info Sessions, 3/7/18

Cal Students,
You are invited to attend a Global Poverty & Practice Minor Information Session!
The GPP Minor introduces students to the theoretical frameworks, methods, and practical skills necessary to engage with global poverty and inequality in imaginative and effective ways.

The "Practice Experience" is a central component of the Minor in which students partner with domestic or international non-governmental or community organizations, government agencies, or other poverty or development programs, on various dimensions of poverty action – from community health and food security to economic justice and grass-roots political power. The combination of the the coursework for the Minor and this real world experience allows students to connect theories and practices of poverty action. Funding is available to support students’ practice experiences.
The deadline to declare the Minor this semester is Wednesday, March 7th. There are no prerequisites required to declare.

The Declaration Form and additional information about the Minor can be found at: http://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/gppminor.

Backpacking with a Purpose: Applications Now Open! 3/8/18

Discover the wider world and connect with change makers making a positive and lasting impact in their communities.

Operation Groundswell is a non-profit that runs travel, community service, and experiential education programs around the globe. We dig into social justice issues while working in solidarity with local activists, non-profits, and communities. We want you to join us in the fight for a better world.

It’s time to make the whole world your classroom!

Apply by March 8th.

Programs are filling up quickly, so apply as soon as possible. Financial assistance is available for all students on five- and six-week programs.

Start exploring at: www.operationgroundswell.com

Can’t travel in the summer? We travel all year long!

DACA Open Letter from Psychology Department

See below for information regarding a statement on DACA. The Psychology Department's position statement action committee (Professors: Oz Ayduk, Iris Mauss, Serena Chen, and Graduate Students: Jon Reeves, Vyoma Shah, Jen Pearlstien, and Paul Connor) would like as many signatures as possible before forwarding to the chancellor. They want to make sure all have a chance to sign should they so choose.

NEW: The Developing Child Summer Minor and Certificate

The Developing Child is a new interdisciplinary, developmental science Summer Minor and Certificate, focused on children from birth to age 8. Integrating research, practice, and policy with problem-solving and implementation skills for the real world, the innovative coursework and practicum will enrich your approach to working with or on behalf of young children.
The Developing Child Minor or Certificate can enrich your area of study and give you hands-on skills for working with or on behalf of young children. The Developing Child cohort will be limited to 30 students. The Minor is available to matriculated UC Berkeley students; the Certificate is available to visiting students. All coursework is taught in English and requires complex discussion and problem-solving in English. The Developing Child may be completed in one summer or more.

Berkeley Global Internships and Summer Abroad
Applications Open, 3/2/18

Berkeley Global Internships offers students the opportunity to partake in a professional internship and gain academic experience in locations around the world. New locations this year include:

- Boston: internships in research and entrepreneurship
- Japan: internships in business and computer science

For a list of all of our locations, please go to globalinternships.berkeley.edu. Applications will close on March 2, 2018 and are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Summer Abroad allows students to study abroad with Berkeley faculty. New locations this year include:

- Bosnia, Croatia & Serbia - Balkan Bridges: Contested Histories & Shared Commitments
- Dublin & Galway, Ireland - Irish Theater
- Berlin, Germany - Mathematics in Berlin
- Portugal - Entrepreneurship & Innovation in Europe
- London, England - Paganism: Classical and Modern

For a list of all of our locations, please go to summerabroad.berkeley.edu. Applications will close on March 9, 2018 and are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Please note: you may see an uptake in students requesting to change their graduation term from Spring 2018 to Summer 2018. In order to be eligible for UC tuition rates and financial aid for these programs, applicants must be students. Graduating seniors will not be able to proceed with their application as a Berkeley student until the change is reflected in CalCentral.

Summer 2018: NATAMST 179 "Indigenous Peoples and Env Change in North American West"

Native American Studies 179:
Indigenous Peoples and Environmental Change in the North American West (14941)
Summer Session A 2018
Tuesday/Wednesday/Thursday
1:00PM-3:30PM
Instructor: John J. Dougherty, Ph.D.

This course explores the dynamic relationships between indigenous communities and the continuously changing environmental landscapes of the North American West from before European contact to the present, and how these communities have continually adapted traditional cultural practices to meet ever-changing environmental realities. With this broader context, this course examines how specific indigenous communities have navigated their relationship with the natural world amidst the challenges of colonialism, globalization, environmental ruin, and climate change in the North American West. Additionally, this course examines the specific transformations of the regions unique and diverse environmental landscapes, and demonstrates how Native peoples have been central figures in the past, present, and future of natural resource preservation and management in the North American West.

SERC's New EJ Resource Folder now live

The Environmental Justice Associate for the Student Environmental Resource Center (SERC) at UC Berkeley has been compiling resources related to environmental justice and environmental intersectionality for the past semester. You may find them at the following link: https://serc.berkeley.edu/environmental-justice/

From the Environmental Justice survey SERC distributed in October 2017, over half of the responses requested more learning materials and resources, hence the beginning of this resource collection. The Environmental Justice Resource Collection is a living, growing group of readings, toolkits, books, videos, and activities concerning the intersection of the environment and social justice. The purpose of this collection of resources is to fill some of the gaps we have in mainstream environmentalism and to provide some of the tools to facilitate these conversations in environmental spaces.

If you have any suggestions or know of resources that should be added here, feel free to email the Environmental Justice Associate, Amanina, at amanina.shofry@berkeley.edu, or SERC’s email at serc@berkeley.edu with the subject topic [EJ Resource Submission].

Please share these organized new resources with your networks, and especially anybody considering applying for The Green Initiative Fund (TGIF)'s environmental justice thematic grant cycle this term.
SUMMER 2018: American Studies 101AC - Age of Monopoly

This course satisfies the American Cultures requirement.

AS 101AC - AGE OF MONOPOLY

Summer Session A (6 weeks - 5/21 - 6/29/18)

4 units

MTW 12-3, 155 Kroeber

Instructor: Michael Cohen

Class # 14166

This course will consider the making of modern American culture between the end of the Civil War and the start of the First Great Depression. In these years the United States transformed itself from an isolated and agrarian nation into the richest, most urbanized nation in the world. These enormous changes were driven by the astonishing growth of industrial and finance capitalism into a vast corporate empire of monopolies in money, steel, tobacco, movies, food, oil, electricity, organized crime, etc. With this corporate growth and concentration came tremendous social, political, racial and sexual conflicts characterized by the clash of labor and capital, the triumph of Jim Crow white supremacy, the mass immigration of workers from Asia, Mexico and Europe, the cataclysmic end to 400 years of Indian Wars, the growing woman’s movement, and the vibrant outbreak of radical social movements demanding a “cooperative commonwealth.” This class will consider the economic and political changes of the Age of Monopoly through a study of its culture, for it was this half-century that gave birth to modern American culture in the form of illustrated magazines and comic strips, world's fairs and amusement parks, Wild West shows and vaudeville, the advertising and public relations industry, window shopping and department stores, skyscrapers and national parks, military buildups and IQ tests, talk radio and Jazz music, automobiles and suburbs, and most importantly, the Hollywood movie.

18th International Conference on Hoarding and Cluttering, 3/22-23/18

The Mental Health Association of San Francisco (MHASF) is hosting the 18th International Conference on Hoarding and Cluttering – March 22 & 23, 2018 on the UC Berkeley campus at the Student Union.

MHASF is a pioneer in supporting those with hoarding & cluttering issues in our community. Hoarding & cluttering is very misunderstood by the general public, and we help to provide solutions and support for those in distress with these issues. We will have leaders in this field from around the world joining us for this conference. The mission of the Mental Health Association of San Francisco is to cultivate peer leadership, build community, and advance social justice in mental health.

Summer Abroad Opportunities

Earn 8 units in 4 weeks while studying abroad this summer!

- Open to all UCB students in all majors (freshman through graduating seniors)
- UCB summer financial aid applies
- UC Davis courses, led by UC Davis faculty
- Courses taught in English

Note: UC Berkeley students can request a ninth unit of 199 credit to qualify for financial aid.

Create an online interest profile to receive email updates about programs that interest you (it only takes a minute!). We have 30+ faculty-led programs in over 20 countries scheduled for summer 2018!

We’ve highlighted several programs below that may interest you (and many carry GE credit.)

South Africa, From City to Safari
Courses: English 139 & 198 or African American and African Studies 157 & 198
Experience the literature, history, and culture of South Africa while in the amazing waterfront city of Cape Town and on safari. See elephants, rhinoceros, buffalos, lions, and leopards!

Ecuador, Environmental Justice in Indigenous Ecuador
Courses: Native American Studies (NAS) 120 & 198 (Graduate course option: NAS 202 & 298)
Experience a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to interact with multiple indigenous groups and see parts of Ecuador that are not available to traditional tourists.

Ireland, Filmmaking in Ireland
Courses: Cinema and Digital Media 104 & 198
A great program for many majors as you can do a creative project of your choice! (see Student Projects compilation)

Europe, Celtic Connections—Ireland, France, Spain

Sexuality is a vital, defining part of our identity. We are at our most vulnerable when we experience sexual feelings—therefore we're the most prone to feeling shame. We are subject to sexual shaming from early childhood, when we are most vulnerable to moral judgments from family and society—and to boundary violations from family members and those older than us. Entering our teenage years, we long to be attractive to others and try desperately to "be cool" and fit in. As adults, we seek a partner and try to balance the constraints of monogamy with sexual adventure. In our mature years, our ability to function sexually diminishes and our faces and bodies are no longer as we remember them.

In this workshop, we will offer tools you can use to help clients talk about, explore, and heal the sexual shame that can arise at any stage in the life cycle—and help them towards a life-affirming sexuality.
We will:
· Discover ways to help clients become aware of the many, often conflicting messages they received about body image and sexuality from family and society.
· Learn ways to help clients repair the disconnect between self and others—and between parts of the self—that have been created by shaming, inappropriate behavior, or abuse.
· Understand counter-shaming techniques and develop tools for couples to understand their shame triggers and communicate about taboo sexual topics.
· Work with the shame that can cause and result from affairs.
· Identify challenges in being a sexual minority in society and the layers of shame that can occur.
· Unfreeze shame and open life force in a grounded and embodied way, helping clients to access and safely explore their sexual energy.

Summer 2018 - 2 Unit History Courses

Session A - 2 Unit Courses in History

History N100.001: Financial Crisis, Inequality and Globalization: A Transnational Economic History from the Great Depression to the Great Recession (1920s – 2010s)

• This is a 2 unit course. It does not fulfill a major requirement.

In 2003, during the annual meeting of the American Economic Association, one of its distinguished members, Nobel laureate Robert Lucas confidently proclaimed to his colleagues that the “central problem of depression prevention has been solved, for all practical purposes, and has in fact been solved for many decades.” Just a few years later, during the 2008 Great Recession, his claim was put to the test. If Lucas has been proven right, we can ask at what cost had the global economy been saved from collapse, and for whose benefit? Answers to these questions, as we will discover in this course, critically depend on how we understand the 1929 Great Depression. We will trace what lessons liberal and authoritarian political regimes learned from the Great Depression, and which ones they forgot, and when. Doing this will permit us to evaluate the connections between economic inequality and globalization that give rise to enormous outpouring of professional and popular analysis in the aftermath of financial crisis. Topics covered include global responses to the Great Depression, the Bretton Woods system, 1980s debt crisis, 1990s Asian financial crisis, and the Great Recession.

History N100.002: Pills, Profit, and Power: The History of Medicine in America

• This is a 2 unit course. It does not fulfill a major requirement.

Last year, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reported that life expectancy in the United States has declined for the second consecutive year in a row, even though it spends more on healthcare than any other country. How did this come to be? In an attempt to answer this question, this course examines the cultural, social, political, economic, and intellectual history of American medicine from the eighteenth century to the present. Topics include: Affordable Care Act (Obamacare), bloodletting, health citizenship, bioethics, the AIDS epidemic, the Tuskegee Syphilis Study, mental health, women’s health, health activism, disability, and the opioid crisis.

Session D- 2 Unit Courses in History

History N100.003: American Business History
- This is a 2 unit course. It does not fulfill a major requirement.

When President Calvin Coolidge declared in 1925 that “the chief business of the American people is business,” he was not making a historical argument, though it would have been a defensible one. Nearly a century earlier, French visitor, Alexis de Tocqueville, made a similar observation. Indeed, America was colonized by joint-stock corporations! Understanding the history of American business can therefore unlock a great deal about America itself. How did the exchange of capital become capitalism? How have markets and firms been constructed politically and socially? Is the history of American business primarily one of creative entrepreneurs or exploitative opportunists? What is the relationship between capitalism, gender, and race? In this course, we will explore these questions on a chronological journey from seventeenth-century joint-stock colonization to twenty-first century high-frequency trading.

History N100.005: Youth in Revolt: Post-1945 Europe through Film
- This is a 2 unit course. It does not fulfill a major requirement.

Thoroughly devastated by war and the Holocaust, the Europe of the 1940s was poor, ethnically homogeneous, and politically divided into democratic-capitalist and Communist blocs. By the 1990s, Germany was reunified, the Soviet Union withdrawn from Eastern Europe, and the European Union expanded to include states formerly under Soviet rule. But the road to prosperity and unity required the revolutionary ideas and actions of youth. In this course, we use award-winning feature films from the 1940s through the 1990s as our major primary sources for evaluating the major social, political, and cultural upheavals through which contemporary Europe emerged from its darkest decade. Topics addressed include the psychological aftershocks of fascism and Nazism; the decolonization of the British and French empires and the rise of racial and religious minorities in London, Paris and Berlin; the Sovietization of Eastern Europe and the rise of a dissident culture; the sexual revolution; the rise of television, rock n’ roll, and the mass media; and the politics of Communism and anti-Communism in the Cold War. Focusing on films from England, France, West Germany, and East Germany, our major theme is generational revolt. In postwar Europe, each generation of youth revolted against different aspects of politics and culture: outdated gender and sexual norms, the repression of wartime memory and guilt, political parties, universities and professions, the shallowness of consumer society, conformity under dictatorship.

➢ Summer 2018: great American Cultures and AH&I courses in History with open seats!

Session A- American Cultures Courses in History

History 124B: The United States from World War II to the Vietnam Era
This course satisfies the American Cultures Requirement.
Immediately prior to World War II, the US military ranked 17th in the world, most African-Americans lived in the rural south and were barred from voting, culture and basic science in the United States enjoyed no world-wide recognition, most married women did not work for wages, and the census did not classify most Americans as middle-class or higher. By 1973, all this had changed. This course will explore these and other transformations, all part of the making of modern America. We will take care to analyze the events, significance and cost of US ascendency to world power in an international and domestic context.

What does it mean to be American? Whatever your answer is to this question, chances are it is deeply connected to the themes and events we will discuss in this class. Here we will track America's rise to global power, the fate of freedom in a post-Emancipation political setting, and the changing boundaries of nation, citizenship, and community. We will use landmark events to sharpen our themes, but we will

Session D- American Cultures Courses in History

History 131B: US Social History from the Civil War to the Present
This course satisfies the American Cultures and American History & Institutions Requirement.
Perhaps the most memorable line in the Declaration of Independence (1776) is the one that assures Americans of their unalienable rights to “Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness.” The nation’s founders guaranteed the first two in the Bill of Rights, but the third remains a nebulous concept that requires some contemplation and interpretation. What exactly has it meant to pursue happiness and how has that pursuit shaped the course of United States history since 1865?

This course considers these questions by interrogating the experiences, ideas, values, desires, and actions of various racial, ethnic, gender, age, class, and ability groups. In examining how Americans have defined, pursued, defended, and fought for happiness, we will necessarily also explore the limits, constraints, and challenges to that aim. Some of the topics covered in the course include: civil rights, feminism, labor, migration, consumerism, relationships, and popular culture.

History C139C: Civil Rights and Social Movements in U.S. History

This course satisfies the American Cultures Requirement.

In their fights for justice and equality, civil rights and social movements have put democratic practices and institutions in the United States to test. This course explores the long (chronological) and wide (geographic) civil rights movements of the South, the North, and the West Coast, tracing their multiracial, multiethnic, and multicultural aspects since the Second World War. How did ordinary people and grassroots activists aim to influence electoral processes, legislation, and court decisions? Readings and lectures will delve into the Black Freedom and Black Power struggles, Mexican American and Puerto Rican demands for rights, and Asian American and Native American efforts for equality. Paying particular attention to the Bay Area, we will study the dynamism of Counterculture, the Free Speech Movement, New Left Radicalism, antiwar protests, Environmentalism, and rebellions expressed in music. Appreciating the intersectionality of race, ethnic, and gender identities, we will explore the Women’s and Gay Liberation movements. Continuing into the late and early-twentieth centuries, the course situates social movements within the larger global contexts and traces the fierce opposition to civil rights and social equality that has coalesced around white nationalism, legal discrimination, and campaigns for law and order. Finally, we will consider the shifting roles and impact of technology and media on social movements within American democracy.

> The Undergraduate Psychology Review Seeking Undergrad Research Submissions

Want to publish your research?
The Undergraduate Psychology Review is now accepting submissions for its sixth issue, which will be published this Spring! The Review is a national publication for undergraduate student research. It aims to showcase the scholarly efforts of undergraduate students pursuing psychology, and to create a place for these students to share their research with their peers. Founded here at Binghamton University in 2012, the Review is an annual online publication. The editorial board consists of undergraduate students from Binghamton University, but submissions are accepted from a national audience. Past issues have represented students from Binghamton University, Northwestern University, State University of New York at Geneseo, University of California Berkeley, Fordham University, Pennsylvania State University, University of South Florida, Mount Holyoke College, and Tufts University.

We accept submissions from all undergraduate students conducting research in psychology or neuroscience, and encourage you submit your manuscripts and honors theses. Full details on submission requirements and the first issue of the Review can be found at http://psychologyjournal.binghamtonsa.org. The submission deadline has been set for May 31, 2018 and submissions will be accepted on a rolling basis before the deadline. Submissions and inquiries about the Review can be sent to psychology@binghamtonsa.org.

Undergrad Summer Research grant in Africa

Rosberg/Geist Undergraduate Research Fellowship

Deadline: Thursday, 1 March 2018

The Center for African Studies is pleased to announce the 2018 competition for an undergraduate fellowship of up to $3,000 to support travel to Africa for research and study. The award is a memorial to Carl Rosberg (1923-1996), former professor of Political Science, Director of the Institute of International Studies, and founder of the Center for African Studies at the University of California at Berkeley; and to his student, Judith Geist, who followed in his footsteps with her work in East Africa.

Eligibility: Current UC Berkeley Undergraduate Students with an interest in Africa who will be registered in the 2017-18 academic year (i.e., one must return to campus as a registered student following the research trip). Priority will be given to 1) students with training in African studies and foreign languages, particularly African languages, and 2) students with demonstrated financial need who otherwise would not be able to travel to the African continent.

Funding: Fellowships of up to $3,000 are available to defray the costs of travel to Africa to conduct research focused on Africa-related topics. Generally, such travel will take place during summer, but other arrangements, such as during winter break, may be possible. If costs are to exceed $3,000, students are expected to find additional funds to cover the balance.

Read The Art of Writing Proposals (Preworski & Saloman) and visit our Tips for Researchers page for help on preparing your application.

Greater Good Science Center Fellowship

The Greater Good Science Center offers annual fellowships to UC Berkeley undergraduate and graduate students whose research relates to our mission. The fellowship program aims to attract scholars from across a broad spectrum of academic disciplines, with an emphasis on the social-behavioral sciences.

The window for fellowship applications is now open! UC Berkeley students (enrolled through at least May 2019) can apply using the form below. Please review our Fellowship FAQ if you have questions about the program.

Current & Past Fellows

GGSC fellows have come from psychology, integrative biology, anthropology, sociology, public health, business, and many other disciplines; their research has ranged from studying the biological bases of compassion and awe to identifying ways to combat racism among children. Many of our fellows have gone on to top research and teaching positions at universities nationwide, providing a significant boost to the science of compassion, resilience, altruism, and happiness.

Read on to learn how to apply and to read about our current and former Hornaday Graduate Fellows and Goldberg Undergraduate Fellows.

What You Lose When You Lose Your Job, Prof. Jennie Brand, 3/1/18

The Institute for Research on Labor and Employment presents

WHAT YOU LOSE WHEN YOU LOSE YOUR JOB

How do layoffs affect people, even after they are back in the workforce?

JENNIE BRAND
Professor of Sociology and Statistics, UCLA

As the US economy improves, the unemployment rate continues to fall. But job loss has far-reaching and long-lasting consequences, and many Americans are still dealing with the economic, social, and psychological effects of layoffs. Professor Brand will explore the complex ways that the shock of job loss impacts workers’ career achievement, economic outcomes, and wellbeing, and how these effects reverberate in their families and communities.

2nd Annual First-Generation Student Career Conference, 3/2/18

Friday, March 2- 1:30-6:30pm
Career Center, Blue and Gold Room
Hosted by the Cal Career Center and Centers for Educational Equity and Excellence (CE3), the 2nd annual First-Generation Career Conference will bring together students and industry professionals to discuss topics around career development and issues facing first-generation students. This is a great way for first generation students to discuss shared experiences, learn more about career development (on topics such as leadership, search strategies, interviewing, networking, and more) and connect with professionals across many industries. We will kick off the conference with a dynamic keynote speech by Thuy Thi Nguyen J.D., President of Foothill College, followed by concurrent workshops, refreshments and a networking session with professionals. For more info and to RSVP, please go to the Handshake event page.

Spanish 1M - Spanish for Health Care Professionals, Summer Course

Spanish 1M - Spanish for Health Care Professionals (5 Units)
The Department of Spanish and Portuguese is offering a new, beginning Spanish language course for individuals intending to go into health-related areas. It is designed for students with little or no formal background in Spanish. The course is devoted to the study of medical Spanish terminology and the cultural issues related to successful interactions with Spanish-speaking patients and their families in the clinical encounter. It will introduce a wide array of vocabulary particular to the medical field, as well as help the student develop a cultural understanding of medicine and illness in the Spanish-speaking world to prepare for potential work with Spanish-speaking patients in future careers in medicine, nursing, social work, translation/interpretation, or mental health settings.

The course will be offered in Session C (June 18 - August 10).

Summer Minors/Certificates

Race and Law

Program description:
Jointly offered by the department of African American Studies and Ethnic Studies, the minor program develops understanding of the fundamental interconnections between race and the law within and beyond the U.S. You will examine how law has been instrumental in codifying racial difference and racial hierarchies, as well as how racialized peoples have used the law as an instrument of protest and social change. Interdisciplinary courses will cover a wide range of fields, and possible topics include The Carceral State; The Civil Rights Movement; Race and Immigration; Social Movements and Law; Citizenship; Indigenous Legal Systems; Law and Literature; and Race, Environmental Justice and the Law.

Coursework:
Required Courses
AAS 126L: Criminal Justice and Surveillance in America
ES 144AC: Racism and U.S. Law

Elective Courses:
AAS 125AC: The History of the Modern Civil Rights Movement
AAS 139L: Special Topics in Race and Law
ES 180L: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties: Race in the Law
ES 180L: Race and Immigration

A minor can enrich your area of study and/or give you the freedom to develop skills in a subject you love. Minors are available to matriculated UC Berkeley students. Certificates are available to visiting students. Minors and certificates may be completed in one summer or more.

HEALING SHAME: The Core Workshop
Understanding, Transforming and Reducing Shame

A Workshop for Therapists and Other Helping Professionals
With Bret Lyon PhD, SEP, BCC & Sheila Rubin LMFT, RDT/BCT

ONLINE via Zoom
4 Fridays: March 9, 16, 30 and April 6
10am – 1:15pm Pacific Time

$350 / Special price for interns
12 CEUs available for LIVE PARTICIPATION*
(See CEU stipulations below)

This workshop provides essential, basic knowledge of how to work with shame. You will learn what shame is and how it is created, and how to help your clients recognize shame, work through it and move on. We will discuss how to become more sensitive to the shaming often implicit in the therapy situation and how to counter shame in therapy. You will learn to help clients separate feelings of shame from other emotions. And you’ll learn how to help clients out of the shame morass so they can move their energy powerfully outward rather than turn it against themselves.
Recordings of each class will be available for two weeks following the original class date.

*CEUs are available for live participation on this workshop. In order to receive CEUs for this workshop, you must participate live on all four calls, due to the stipulations guiding continuing education credit for online courses. Unfortunately, we cannot offer CEUs for partial attendance (i.e., attending some classes live and listening to others via the recording) or for those who are only participating via the recordings.

Whether you’re a Berkeley undergraduate hoping to get ahead or a visitor interested in picking up a valuable new skill, you’re welcome here. All courses run June 4 to August 10.

DES INV 10: Discovering Design
This course, ideal for students who are looking for an introduction to the broad world of design, covers design careers, history, ethics, and more. You’ll be learning design both from theoretical perspectives and from studio-based design projects.

DES INV 15: Design Methodology
In this class, you will explore the mindset, skillset and toolset associated with design. Over the course of the summer, you will learn and apply approaches to noticing and observing, framing and reframing, imagining and designing, and experimenting and testing.

DES INV 21: Visual Communication & Sketching
Good ideas alone are not the key to being a great designer or innovator — strong process and communication skills will make you stand out. This course will give participants practice and confidence in their ability to sketch by hand, communicate visually, and tell captivating stories.

DES INV 22: Prototyping & Fabrication
Explore a range of prototyping and fabrication techniques — including laser-cutting, 3D modeling and 3D printing, soldering, basic circuits, microcontrollers (Arduino), sensors and actuators, and interface mockups — as you create original projects.

➢ New NST Summer 2018 Course – NST 30: Sports Nutrition

The Nutritional Sciences and Toxicology department is offering a great new class this summer, NST 30: Sports Nutrition for 3 units.

It is a survey course of nutrition with an emphasis on the relationships among diet, physical activity, and health; exploration of the changes in the metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, protein and water; discussion of the function of vitamins and minerals; practical application of evidence-based dietary recommendations for common sports and varying physical intensities.

NST 10 is a prerequisite for this course.
The course is offered in Session A: May 21 - June 29th, M, Tu, Th 4pm-7pm.

➢ Call for Undergraduate Applications for SMART 2018

UC Berkeley undergraduates are invited to apply for the 2018 Student Mentoring & Research Teams (SMART) Program.

The application deadline is Thursday, March 1st 2018, 11:59 p.m. (PST).

SMART is a summer program designed to encourage graduate student professional development and to foster undergraduate research through mentoring. Approximately 24 undergraduate mentees will be selected; each mentee will work with a graduate student research mentor in summer 2018 and receive a $3,500 stipend.

If you are interested in applying to the 2018 SMART Program, please visit our website at http://smart.berkeley.edu/. The undergraduate application, a description of the projects for the 2018 SMART Program, eligibility criteria for undergraduates, and other information about the program can be accessed at http://smart.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/.

Questions about the SMART Program should be directed to Sarah Macdonald, NSF-SMART Postdoctoral Fellow at smartmentoring@berkeley.edu.

2018 Citrin Lecture: In Defense of Knowledge

The Jack Citrin Center for Public Opinion Research is pleased to invite you to the 2018 Citrin Lecture, In Defense of Knowledge, with Donald Kinder. The lecture will take place on Monday, March 12, 2018 at 4:00 pm in the Banatao Auditorium located in Sutardja Dai Hall. Please register below.

Graduate Recruitment Fair
Come meet face to face with over 150 recruiters from across the nation to answer your questions and help you identify the right schools & programs for you!
Workshops/panels on:
• How to Select, Apply to, Prepare & Pay for Graduate School
• Demystifying and Paying for the GRE
• The Relation of the Master’s to the PhD
• Undergraduate Research Opportunities
• Identifying Pathways for AB 540 and Undocumented Students
• Keys to Success and Survival in Grad School
Subject-specific workshops on:
• Physical Sciences & Math
• Engineering & Computer Science
• Arts & Humanities
• Education
• Social, Behavioral & Life Sciences
• Health & Human Services

➢ Social Impact Career Fair, 3/13/18
2018 Social Impact Career Fair
Make a living while making a difference.
Tuesday, March 13th 3–7pm (ASUC Student Union, MLK Jr., Pauley Ballroom)
Sponsored by the Career Center, join us for the 3rd Annual Social Impact Career Fair! Recruiters will bring information about their entry-level career, fellowship, and internship positions that provide you an opportunity to make a meaningful, positive impact on the world.

More than 55 employers representing:

- Non-profits
- Public service, government, politics
- International relations
- Social welfare, healthcare
- Education
- Environment & sustainability
- Socially-responsible, for-profit companies
- & more! See who's attending (updated daily)

Co-hosted by the Office of ASUC Senator Alexander Wilfert and The Berkeley Group

Recruiting all majors and degree levels! Registration not required. Add the event to your Facebook calendar!

NanoNews: summer study abroad in Portugal for nano, undergrad

The International Iberian Nanotechnology Laboratory (INL) invites students enrolled in the 3rd to the 5th year of their undergraduate studies to participate in the 2018 INL Summer Internship Programme.

About INL
INL is the first and only Intergovernmental Organisation in the field of nanoscience and nanotechnology, providing a basis for scientific and technological cooperation by carrying out both fundamental and applied research. INL aims to become the world-wide hub for nanotechnology deployment addressing society’s grand challenges with specific emphasis on Aging & Wellbeing, Mobility & Urban Living and a Safe & Secure Society.

What is the INL Summer Internship Programme?
Each year, the INL Summer Internship Programme offers undergraduate students from the fields of Nanotechnology, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Engineering (Electrical, Biological, Biomedical, Mechanical) or related areas, a unique opportunity to participate in ongoing research activities during the summer at INL in Braga, North of Portugal.

The goal of this programme is to inspire students to consider a prospective career in Nanotechnology, by engaging them in cutting-edge state-of-the-art research and development activities.

The combination of our multicultural and multidisciplinary environment allows students to explore challenging ideas and will greatly benefit their academic and professional development.

Over the last four years, INL received over 130 undergraduate students from different nationalities and scientific backgrounds.

In 2018, the INL Summer Internship Programme will be holding its 5th edition and will select 25 students with outstanding academic performance to be part of this summer experience.

Benefits of doing a Summer Internship Programme at INL
INL will provide the selected students the opportunity to be part of a research and development group, and to carry out scientific activities in a highly stimulating and demanding environment, which will include access to state-of-the-art equipment as well as other excellent hands-on training opportunities. These opportunities are provided simultaneously by a fully inclusion of the student in a research group and by the tailored activities offered by the programme.

This programme ensures that all Summer Students are well prepared for their future challenges, gaining valuable experience and research skills through their internship stay at INL.

Other benefits include:
- Living Allowance: for each student coming from outside the local area (>50km from Braga) INL will provide a single living allowance of €600 euros for a stay up to 8 weeks.
- Reduced transportation fees: students will have access to reduced prices for bus tickets in the city of Braga.
• INL Summer Internship Social Activities: summer activities calendar including city tours, barbecues and sports.

• Fitness Centre: access to fitness classes onsite.

Programme Details

• Location: INL, Braga, Portugal.

• Duration: 4 to 8 weeks (longer stays may be accepted upon request and agreement with the scientific supervisor).

• Period: from June to August or from July to September (exact dates will be fixed after the selection process).

• Supervision: each student will have the supervision of an INL Researcher.

Eligibility Criteria

• Undergraduate students enrolled between the 3rd and 5th year of university in Nanotechnology-related scientific areas;

• Outstanding academic background and grades;

• Excellent English communication skills.

Research Areas

The candidate should be qualified to conduct research in the field of Nanotechnology in one of our six Research Departments:

• Nanoelectronics Engineering: includes four areas of activity at INL, Systems Engineering, Spintronics, Nanodevices and Precision Medicines Engineering, addressing major challenges in industrial sensing, RF communications, Biosensors and Biomedical devices, Agri-food and Environmental monitoring applications.

• Life Sciences: activities focused on the fields of Food, Health, and Environment, particularly in: i) Nanoencapsulation technologies for smart and controlled drug/genes delivery and for enhancing bioavailability and functional properties of bioactives; ii) Biosensors, microfluidic-based devices and integrated lab-on-a-chip solutions for food and water quality and safety as well as diagnostic and prognostic purposes; iii) Advanced functionalities and applications of bespoke nanostructured materials in combination with novel biomarkers and studies on biointerfaces.

• QMST – Quantum Materials, Science and Technology: works towards the understanding of both materials and energy exchange processes at the nanoscale where the laws of nature are governed by quantum mechanics. Activities follow two main research lines: i) Materials for energy conversion and storage; ii) Quantum materials, e.g. experimental and theoretical research and development of 2D materials and devices (e.g. biosensors and photodetectors), research in atomic scale electronics, and functional point defects in 2D materials for quantum technologies, etc.

• Nanophotonics: aims to carry out top fundamental and applied research in areas such as Biophotonics, Photonic nanomagnetometry, Plasmonics & Materials, Bloch surface wave engineering and the design and application of Photonic crystals.
• AEMIS: Advanced Electron, Microscopy, Imaging and Spectroscopy: performs true atomic/nano resolution electron imaging combined with atomic/nano resolution chemical analysis, in order to achieve a fundamental understanding of the chemical/physical phenomena at the atomic/nano level in real materials systems.

• Micro and Nanofabrication: explores both bottom-up and top-down approaches to the micro and nanofabrication aspects of materials, surfaces and devices. Main research activities include MEMS/NEMS, sensors, microfluidics, energy storage, conversion and adaptive optical devices, lithography, rapid prototyping and cleanroom processes integration, bottom-up catalysis, synthesis of materials, optoelectronic materials and devices and thin film solar cells.

Submission Procedures

The submission period for the INL Summer Internship Programme is from February 19th until April 19th 2018.

For the application to be valid, the student must complete the online application form indicating the preferred Research Department and submit all the required documents listed below:

- Curriculum Vitae and Cover Letter in English;
- Up to date academic records;
- Proof of enrolment in the University for the current year.

All applications must be submitted in English. The student is responsible for the data submission and validation of the application components before the deadline. Only online applications through Jobvite will be accepted.

Selection of Students

After an initial screening based on the submitted documents, shortlisted students will be invited for a video screen interview, where they will have the opportunity to talk about their education background and motivation to participate in this programme.

From this shortlist 25 students will be nominated. They will receive complete information about the programme benefits and logistic issues. Complete information will be provided by the INL Human Resources Unit in May 2018.

Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Principle

INL is an equal opportunity organisation, committed to providing equal opportunities and firmly adheres to a principle of non-discrimination in respect of gender, age, nationality, racial group, or any other possible discriminatory issues.

Enquiries should be made to: hr.services@inl.int.

➢ LGBTQ+ Health and Wellness: Fat & Fabulous, 3/1/18

March 1, 2018: Fat & Fabulous: Sizeism in the LGBTQ+ community

FB Event: tinyurl.com/FatAndFab
Thursday, March 1, 2018
6-8 PM
Gender Equity Resource Center (geneq.berkeley.edu), 202 Cesar E. Chavez Student Center
Food will be provided by Suya African Caribbean Grill! (http://suyafricangrill.com/)

For disability related accommodations, please see access.berkeley.edu with as much notice as possible.

Description:
Come listen to Magnolia Black, Caleb Luna, Joanna Villegas, Ifasina Tameicka L. Clear, and Gem Shannon share their personal experiences through poetry, storytelling, and performance to explore sizeism, fat antagonism, and the ways they intersect with race, gender, sexuality, and class.
Graduate students are most definitely welcome! Folks are also more than welcome to invite friends who are not Cal students.

New Online NUSCTX W104 AC Summer course

NST W104: Food, Culture, and the Environment AC. (3 units, online course)
This course will broadly address the historical, ecological, socioeconomic, biological, political, and cultural environments impacting the human diet in addition to nutrition problems, programs, and consumer protection. It is a nutrition course with an anthropological slant that examines why we eat what we eat and contributes to the pursuit of multidisciplinary degrees in nutrition policy and planning. As an American Cultures course, we will discuss cuisines from a variety of different countries and regions, with a specific focus on those in America, and examine how race and ethnicity affect diet, food access, and the human relationship with food.
This satisfies the AC requirement and the L&S Social and Behavioral Sciences breadth.
