2023-24 GGSC Research Fellowships, March 27

The 2023-24 Greater Good Science Center Research Fellowship application window is NOW OPEN.

The Greater Good Science Center (GGSC) at UC Berkeley announces new 1 year fellowship opportunities for UC Berkeley undergraduate and graduate students whose work relates to our mission: championing research into how social connection, kindness, belonging, and community support personal and collective well-being.

Timeline:

- Application Window: February 6 – March 27, 2023
- Winners Announced: May 5, 2023
- Funding Period: September 1, 2023 – August 31, 2024

Funding:

- Up to two fellowships will be awarded to undergraduates: One GGSC Fellowship (up to $2,500), one Goldberg Fellowship (up to $5,000)
- Up to four fellowships will be awarded to graduate students: Three GGSC Fellowships (up to $10,000), one Hornaday Fellowship (up to $10,000)

GGSC research fellows have come from departments of psychology, integrative biology, sociology, neuroscience, urban studies, and other departments; the school of public health, education, social welfare, and Haas business; and the UC Berkeley-UCSF Joint Medical Program. Students can apply using our online application starting Feb 6, 2023. The application involves submitting a written proposal, an itemized budget and justification, your UCB transcript, and a letter of recommendation from your research advisor. Graduate student applicants are also asked to upload a current CV.

Applications are due Monday, March 27, 2023.

Applicants may contact GGSC science director Emiliana Simon-Thomas for more information at ggscfellowships@berkeley.edu. More information about the GGSC can be found at <http://greatergood.berkeley.edu/about>

Pathways to Forensic & Legal Psychology Session, March 29

My name is Marcus Hanscom and I am the Director of Graduate Admission at Roger Williams University. I'm excited to announce our next virtual Pathways to Forensic & Legal Psychology session on Wednesday, March 29th, at 6:00pm ET.

We've been delivering this Pathways session since 2018 to undergraduates around the country to help educate them on the forensic psychology field, educational requirements, necessary skills, potential careers, and advice for the graduate school search and application process – we've already presented the session to more than 2,000 students. Our ultimate goal is to educate students on the field and help them be better prepared for the graduate school search process.

Call for Abstracts - 14th Annual California Cognitive Science Conference, March 31

The UC Berkeley Cognitive Science Student Association asks you to save the date for the Fourteenth Annual California Cognitive Science Conference on Saturday, April 15, 2023, held on the UC Berkeley campus in the Hearst Mining Building. This year, the theme is CCSC23: Forging Connections: Bonding and the Brain. We are excited to explore this topic from the perspectives of Computer Science, Psychology, Neuroscience, Linguistics, Anthropology, and Philosophy.

You can look forward to a weekend of thought-provoking talks, research poster presentations, and networking opportunities. Register here between now and March 15th for free early bird tickets!

Call for Abstracts

Application Deadline: March 31st, 2023 at 11:59 PM PST

The California Cognitive Science Conference is an opportunity for researchers, especially undergraduates, to exhibit their original work in the Cognitive Sciences. This year's conference will take place on April 15th. Poster Presenters at the conference will be able to share their research and receive feedback from professional scientists and our broader conference audience. Submitted abstracts will be evaluated based on interest and appeal to a wide audience; scientific and professional merit; clarity; and contribution to knowledge, practices, and policies. As in previous years, we will be awarding a prize to the top poster, as selected by a popular vote by our attendees.

Submit your 300 word or less abstract here by March 31st to be considered

You will be notified about the status of your submission no later than April 7th, 2023. If your submission is accepted, you will be able to showcase your research at the Conference.

You can find more information at cogscicon.berkeley.edu. Please extend this invitation to friends, students, and colleagues.

Application deadline: April 2, 2023

Submit your application today!

BUJC Call for Papers, April 5

The Berkeley Undergraduate Journal of Classics is now open for paper submissions for our 2023 Spring Issue. We are now opening submissions to academic papers, translations, and creative writing/art (including poetry and prose). (Submission Deadline - Wednesday, April 5, at midnight PST)

While this is a journal of Classics, we think of the classical world as being any area or people with an effect on the Mediterranean, including less-recognized cultures such as the Carthaginians, Steppe-Nomads, Etruscans, and countless others.

To submit, please visit our website and hit the big “Submit” button. All submissions should be in Times New Roman, 12-pt font, with Chicago-Style footnotes and bibliography (for academic submissions). You will be notified regarding the state of your submission within a month of submission.

If you do not hear back from us or have any questions, please contact us at berkeleyujc@gmail.com. We look forward to working with you!

$2,500 Summer Awards for Berkeley Changemaker Students, April 15

The Berkeley Changemaker® program is granting four $2,500 financial awards to students who, in line with the distinguishing values of the Berkeley campus, are mission-driven and thinking "beyond themselves," who are demonstrating excellence by creating positive impact through one of their planned projects, and who effectively intertwine into their project the core curriculum pillars of the Berkeley Changemaker program: Critical thinking, Communication and Collaboration. The program seeks to support these students with these one-time, individual awards to financially assist in the implementation of their project, and to recognize their commitment to effecting positive change in their communities, locally, nationally, or internationally.

SUBMISSION PERIOD: March 1, 2023 - April 15, 2023

AWARDS WILL BE ANNOUNCED BY JUNE 10, 2023
