➤ Regional Discussion on Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment, 01/08/2020

The Department of the Navy and The University of New Mexico are pleased to announce A Regional Discussion on Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment at America's Colleges, Universities and Service Academies: Achieving Cultural Change Through Data and An Evaluation Mindset, set for February 6, 2020. The joint conference will be held in the Student Union Building (SUB), The University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Academic studies related to the prevention of sexual assault and sexual harassment are sought to participate in a poster session during this event.

The purpose of the event is to sustain the conversation following the successful National Discussion and The State University of New York Regional Discussion on Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment at America's Colleges, Universities, and Service Academies, hosted at the United States Naval Academy in April and September 2019. Leading into 2020, this regional discussion demonstrates our shared commitment to eliminating sexual assault and sexual harassment from our institutions.

The intended audience for these sessions include College and University Presidents, Chancellors, and Provosts, Vice Presidents for Student Affairs, Directors of college/university/service academy sexual violence programs, Title IX coordinators, Service sexual assault and sexual harassment program managers, Senior Military Leaders and Service Academy Superintendents. Planning is ongoing for additional discussions in other regions of the country.

For poster preparation guidelines and submission visit, <https://www.secnav.navy.mil/sapro/REGIONAL-DISCUSSION-ON-SEXUAL-ASSAULT-AND-SEXUAL-HARASSMENT/Pages/Call-for-Studies-2020.aspx>, for more information.

➤ CSEC trainings for students, Jan 2020

Jan 9th -10th 9:30-4:30 CSEC 102 Lincoln, 1266 14th St., Oakland CSEC 102 builds off knowledge learned in CSEC 101. This training provides a brief CSEC 101 review as well as an overview of trauma. We will also apply the Stages of Change with CSE youth and discuss trauma bonding, peer recruitment, and CSE youth who run away.

Jan 13th 9:30-4:30 Growing Up in a Digital World: The Intersection of CSEC + Technology Lincoln, 1266 14th St., Oakland This 1-day training focuses on the intersection of CSEC and technology. The Internet has opened the door to CSEC recruitment, so its crucial providers are continually engaging in dialogue with youth about technology. The training will focus on the dangers of cell phones, social media, cyber bullying, sexting, and online gaming. The trainers will also discuss safety strategies for each of these categories and conversation starters with youth. <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/alameda-the-intersection-of-csec-technology-tickets-69014675753>

Jan 21st - 22nd 8:30-4:30 “The Empowerment Project” (CSE Intervention) Facilitator Training Oakland City Church, 2735 MacArthur Blvd, Oakland “The Empowerment Project” is a CSE intervention curriculum. It consists of 4 workbooks with 5 chapters in each workbook. The curriculum is based on the Stages of Change model. The earlier workbooks are focused on helping youth exit exploitation while the later workbooks are focused on adjusting to life outside of the commercial sex industry. Throughout the workbooks, youth will hear from CSE survivors about what they learned on their journeys. The two-day facilitator training will teach participants how to facilitate the curriculum with youth and young adults. This is a two-day training. CSEC 101 and 102 are prerequisites. <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/alameda-the-empowerment-project-csec-intervention-facilitator-training-tickets-73014926611>

Jan 23rd 9:30-4:30 Taking a Deeper Look at Human Trafficking: The Intersection of CSEC + Race/Ethnicity Allan Temple, 8501 International Blvd, Oakland This is a 1-day training that provides the historical context of human trafficking. Participants will learn about the historical oppression and trauma of ethnic groups and how this provides the back drop of human trafficking. Participants will also learn how to approach youth, families, and communities in culturally competent ways. <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/alameda-taking-a-deeper-look-at-human-trafficking-the-intersectionof-csec-raceethnicity-tickets-72592452981>

Jan 24th 8:30-4:30 An Overview of Child Labor Trafficking Lincoln, 1266 14th St., Oakland While the larger human trafficking narrative has focused on child sex trafficking, it’s also important to discuss child labor trafficking. This training will provide an overview of child labor trafficking in the United States, including what it is, risk factors, and pathways of entry. Participants will also learn about warning signs someone is being labor trafficked and recommendations to support labor trafficking survivors. <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/an-overview-of-child-labor-trafficking-tickets-75395438787>

➤ Fall 2020 Berkeley MDes – Masters of Design Program, 01/10/2020

Our newly launched Masters of Design program is accepting applications for the fall 2020 cohort. Visit the MDes site to learn more about application deadlines, upcoming info-sessions, and up-to-date news on the developing program: <https://design.berkeley.edu/>

Overview

The MDes program at UC Berkeley is a studio-based, on campus program. Over three semesters (fall, spring, and a second fall), you will complete a total of nine required core courses, two technical electives, and one additional elective to meet a minimum of 38 units before graduating in December. In the summer between the first and second years of the program, you are encouraged to pursue a professional internship.

People

Courses in the MDes are led by UC Berkeley faculty and lecturers, as well as industry experts covering a range of design practices. Together, the faculty bring expertise in topics ranging from human-computer interaction to sustainable 3D printing technologies, and represent professional experience in companies including IDEO, Tellart, Google, and more.

Career Paths

The MDes prepares you to work in creative and technical roles for designing products, services and environments. As the world sees rapid change enabled by emerging technologies, our graduates are expected to work in an expanding set of roles at the intersection of design, policy, and activism. Fostering domain expertise, a toolkit of design and technical skills, and a grounding in the Bay Area's rich design ecosystem, the MDes provides powerful preparation for high-impact design innovators.

Shame is perhaps the most painful of all emotions. It is at the root of both the inner critic and perfectionism. It binds with other emotions, such as anger and fear, so that is often hard to detect. Also, revealing shame can be in itself shameful. For many clients who don't get better in therapy, shame — unacknowledged and not worked through — is the primary factor.

This workshop provides essential, basic knowledge of how to work with shame. You will learn what shame is and how it is created, and how to help your clients recognize shame, work through it and move on. We will discuss how to become more sensitive to the shaming often implicit in the therapy situation and how to counter shame in therapy. You will learn to help clients separate feelings of shame from other emotions. And you'll learn how to help clients out of the shame morass so they can move their energy powerfully outward rather than turn it against themselves.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.CenterforHealingShame.com.

How do we learn from and modify our words and behaviors without going into the toxic freeze state of shame? Even when we have been shamed or abused, how do we take responsibility for the part of what happened that is ours, even if it is quite small, and learn from that?

In this advanced workshop, you will learn to help yourselves and your clients shift the shame, transforming it from toxic freeze to helpful change agent. How do we learn from and modify our words and behaviors without going into the toxic freeze state of shame? Even when we have been shamed or abused, how do we take responsibility for the part of what happened that is ours, even if it is quite small, and learn from it? We will cover the shame produced in many situations in which we feel we have let someone down or broken some important rules—including affairs.

PREREQUISITE: This workshop is open to those who have taken at least TWO workshops with us, or by special permission.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.CenterforHealingShame.com.

their final year at UC-Berkeley. Haas Scholars come from all walks of life and every major on campus, but they are united by their desire to strive for excellence--both in their individual academic pursuits, and as an interdisciplinary cohort. International students and undocumented students are welcome and encouraged to apply.

Applicants are evaluated primarily on the merit and originality of their proposal for an independent research or creative project that will serve as the basis for a senior or honors thesis. Once selected, Haas Scholars receive close mentoring from members of the UC-Berkeley faculty, seminars and workshops to assist them in the research and writing process, the opportunity to present their work at a professional conference, and up to $13,800 each in financial support.

If you are considering applying to Haas Scholars for summer 2020, we encourage you to attend an hour-long info session offered on the dates below. All info sessions will be held in Durant Hall, Room 9, unless otherwise noted.

➤ Summer Research Program at Harvard Business School, Deadline 2/11/20

The Program for Research in Markets and Organizations (PRIMO) is a highly selective 10-week summer residential community of undergraduates participating in research affiliated with HBS faculty. The Program seeks to create a diverse group of Fellows including but not limited to women and underrepresented minorities who are inspired by and are committed to pursuing excellence in business research. As PRIMO enters its tenth year, we are pleased to open up the program to students from any American undergraduate institution who may be considering doctoral studies.

Rising sophomores, juniors, or seniors at University of California, Berkeley who might be considering doctoral studies after graduation are encouraged to apply. PRIMO will run from 8 June - 15 August, 2020 and offers Fellows lodging, a partial board plan, and a stipend.

The deadline to submit applications is Tuesday, February 11th at 12:00 pm EST.

➤ I-O Psychology Master's Program at Texas A&M University, 2/15/20 Deadline

Have you thought about the Master's program in Industrial-Organizational (I-O) Psychology at Texas A&M University? I-O psychology is the scientific study of human behavior at work and the application of that science to the workplace challenges facing individuals, teams, and organizations.

The Master's program in I-O psychology at Texas A&M University is a 33-credit hours, full-time, non-thesis, cohort-based (team-focused) program designed to be completed in 16 months. The curriculum balances scientific discipline with professional practice and the required industry-based internship experience gives our students a competitive advantage on the job market. Students will also learn from faculty who are engaged in the field and who also teach courses in a nationally ranked I-O psychology Ph.D. program.

We are now accepting applications for fall 2020 and February 15 is the annual deadline for admission. Applicants who wish to be considered for the Diversity Excellence Fellowship nomination must have a complete application on file by January 3rd. See the attached flyer and visit our website (tx.ag/MSIOP) to learn more about the program. Please contact Bisi Atoba at 979-458-8611 or bisi.atoba@tamu.edu for more information.

➤ Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/21/20

What is the Fung Fellowship?

The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create innovative health and wellness solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, public health principles, and emerging technology.

As a Fung Fellow you will:

- Explore the Health + Tech space
- Experience the design process from prototype to product
- Embed in communities to co-create with them
- Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field
- Selected Fung Fellows attend a 3-unit course each semester, are supported in a summer internship, and have the opportunity to apply to a second year honors program.

Required Qualifications:

- Registered student at UC Berkeley
- Rising Junior (current Sophomore standing) with a passion for health, wellness, social impact, design, and/or technology

How to Apply:

➤ UCSF Master's in Clinical Degree Program, 3/16/20

We wanted to bring to your attention our Master's Degree Program in Clinical Research at the University of California, San Francisco \(UCSF\). Founded in 2002, our program provides comprehensive theoretical instruction and practical training in a variety of methods of observational and experimental health-related research with human subjects. Graduates are prepared to work in the field of clinical and epidemiologic research in either academia, industry, or public health. Many graduates have used our program as a stepping stone for PhD training or professional school (medical, dental, or nursing). Application deadline is March 16, 2020, but we will begin reviewing applications on January 1, 2020.

➤ Immigrant Rising Scholarships and Fellowships

Scholarships and fellowships are essential for many undocumented students to pay for higher education, especially students who do not qualify for in-state tuition and state-based financial aid. Undocumented students pursuing higher education need to know that scholarships and fellowships are available to them—regardless of their immigration status.

This year, we've expanded our Scholarship and Fellowship Lists with 222 BRAND-NEW scholarships and 80 fellowships. The complete list now contains 344 undergraduate and 302 graduate/post-graduate scholarships and fellowships that do not require proof of citizenship or legal permanent residency (425 are open to undocumented individuals who don't have DACA)
