➢ Johns Hopkins University Laboratory for Child Development - 2019 Summer Internship, 2/1/19

Announcing the:
2019 Johns Hopkins University Laboratory for Child Development
Summer Internship Program

Applications are now being accepted for the 2019 Johns Hopkins University Laboratory for Child Development’s annual Summer Internship Program. Summer interns will receive mentorship by faculty, post docs, and graduate students, and will learn all aspects of cognitive development research. Under the direction of Drs. Lisa Feigenson and Justin Halberda, the Lab is currently investigating a range of issues including memory development, numerical abilities, logical reasoning, and language acquisition, in populations including young infants, toddlers, preschoolers, and adults.

Summer interns participate fully in all aspects of research, including recruiting participants, testing infants and children in behavioral tasks, coding and analyzing data, and interpreting and presenting results. Interns also participate in guided readings of developmental literature, and attend laboratory meetings where we discuss ongoing projects or current issues in the field of cognitive development. Students will work primarily in the Psychological & Brain Sciences building of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland, and may also work at our testing site at the Maryland Science Center in Baltimore’s Inner Harbor.

2019 will be the 14th year of our annual summer program, which has been enormously successful in instilling students with a love of basic research, preparing them for graduate study, and forming friendships that last well beyond the duration of the program.

Summer interns have daily contact with children and their parents, and as such must be mature, articulate, and comfortable communicating with others. Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate enthusiasm for the research being conducted, a strong work ethic, and an excellent academic record. Desirable background experience includes coursework in developmental and/or experimental psychology, computer skills, an ability to work in a highly collaborative, team-oriented environment, and previous research experience.

The 2019 Program will run from Monday, June 3 - Wednesday, July 31, and will be full time. Summer stipends up to $1800 will be available to excellent applicants. Applicants are also encouraged to seek and apply for funding from their home institution or other sources.

To apply, please submit a completed application using this link (https://goo.gl/forms/cEpVfU09YzMqTOej1) including a cover letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for the position, updated CV/resume, unofficial academic transcript, and two letters of recommendation by Friday, February 1, 2019.

Applications should be submitted using the Google Forms link, but a PDF of the application for reference can be found here: https://labforchilddevelopment.files.wordpress.com/2018/11/summer-internship-2019-application.pdf

Inquiries and letters of recommendation should be sent to the Laboratory Manager, Alexis Smith, at jhulcdapplications@gmail.com. Letters of recommendation should be sent directly from the recommender as a PDF and should include the applicant’s name in the document title.

More information can also be found on the lab website under the “Join Our Team!” tab: https://labforchilddevelopment.com/summer-internship/ or on our Summer Internship FAQ page: https://labforchilddevelopment.com/summer-internship-faq/

➢ John Gardner Public Service Fellowship: $32,500 Fellowship, 2/13/18

Pursue your dream career in public service! The John Gardner Fellowship selects six Fellows from among the graduating classes at UC Berkeley and Stanford University and provides each a $32,500 stipend to work in a governmental or nonprofit organization for 10 months after graduation.

Application Deadline: Wednesday, February 13th
Application form is available here.
Information Session:

➢ Research opportunities via the Human Rights Center, 2/19/19

1) Indigenous Scholar Fellowship 2019
Thanks to the support of the Full Circle Fund, the Human Rights Center is offering two fellowships to indigenous-identified students working on indigenous issues in our 2019 Human Rights Fellowship Cohort. These fellows will spend 6 to 8 weeks working with an organization of their choosing during summer 2019. Fellows will also produce a written or documentary piece for publication and present at our annual Fellowship Conference.

2) Human Rights Fellowship 2019

The Human Rights Center Fellowship provides $5,000 awards to UC Berkeley undergraduate, graduate or graduating students to conduct human rights-related projects with a partner organization over the summer and to participate in the year-long fellowship. Since 1994, we've enabled more than 325 fellows to work on pressing human rights issues around the world.

Applications for both are due on Tuesday, February 19, 2019 by 5pm.

The Application Deadline is 11:59pm EST on March 1, 2019. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. The application process is highly competitive, only qualified candidates will be contacted for an interview.

Exciting Summer Internship Opportunities at Camp Akeela

What is Camp Akeela?
Camp Akeela is a fun, traditional overnight summer camp with locations in Vermont and Wisconsin for boys and girls ages 9-19. Our Vermont location is set on 400 acres in the Green Mountains and our Wisconsin location is on the campus of beautiful Lawrence University in Appleton. Lawrence also hosts Beyond Akeela, our pre-college program for older campers. Many of our campers have been diagnosed with Asperger’s Syndrome or a non-verbal learning disability. Others are undiagnosed but described as “quirky”. All are very bright, charming, well behaved boys and girls who struggle to connect with their peers.

Why work at Akeela?
Check out this video to hear why our staff chose Akeela: http://campakeela.com/staff/why-work-at-akeela/
Akeela provides staff the opportunity to play an integral role in a community that changes kids’ lives. You will gain valuable experience working first-hand with children, helping them develop social skills while forging lifelong friendships.

Summer Internship at Camp Baker

Camp Baker at Judge Baker Children’s Center currently has eighteen undergraduate-level summer training positions available. Camp Baker is a therapeutic summer program based off of the Summer Treatment Program (STP) and is specifically designed for 6-12 year old children with ADHD. The STP has positive effects on the serious behavioral, social, and academic difficulties exhibited by children diagnosed with ADHD.

Summer trainees at Camp Baker will implement the treatment program in a camp setting for children with ADHD. They will receive extensive training and experience implementing the research-based intervention. Students with STP experience are often highly sought-after in graduate training programs in clinical psychology, social work, medicine, and education. Previous trainees within Camp Baker have gone in to successful careers in all of these fields.

Camp Baker is currently accepting applications for two roles: 1) Undergraduate Counselor and 2) Teaching Assistant. Please visit our website for detailed job descriptions: https://jbcc.harvard.edu/employment-opportunities-sei. We believe students from the University of California-Berkeley would make strong candidates for these positions.

All aspects of the training program are supervised by a licensed clinical psychologist. Trainees typically gain over 200 hours of experience providing treatment directly to children. Opportunities for participating in behavioral parent training are also available.

Trainees complete a week-long training prior to the start of treatment and receive ongoing supervision. Training begins Monday, July 1, 2019 with the July 4th holiday off. Camp Baker runs from Tuesday, July 10th and continues through Friday, August 16th, 2019. Trainees typically work from 7:30am until 4:30pm and stay from 7:30am-6pm one evening per week. The stipend for undergraduate-level positions this summer is $1,000.

The successful applicant demonstrates
- Undergraduate-level study in Psychology, Education, Behavior Analysis, Social Work or a related field.
· Experience working with children or adolescents in settings such as summer camps, afterschool programs, sport programs, daycare programs, and educational programs.
· Experience with activities such as organized sports activities, art, music, dance, theater, graphic design, photography, and videography.
· Previous experience in teaching, refereeing, or coaching children is preferred.

Interested applicants should send
· A cover letter describing your professional development goals and how Camp Baker might fit with those goals
· A current CV
· A de-identified assessment report, treatment report, or other psychology-related writing sample
· The name and contact information for your practicum coordinator (for applicants looking to gain practicum or academic credit)
· Three letters of recommendation (sent to Dr. Tannenbaum from the recommender directly) to: Sarah Tannenbaum, Psy.D.

Crestwood Internship

The Crestwood Healing Center Internship Program is a 10 hour per week, 12 week long unpaid program designed to provide interns with a comprehensive overview of residential mental health through both instructional and hands on approaches. The first third of the program is focused on introduction to community mental health, its challenges, and how our programs and building function. The latter two thirds allow interns to propose and develop their own projects within the building, ideally creating relationships with both our staff and residents as well as working toward solving a problem and/or furthering progress toward a goal.

We are looking for compassionate critical thinkers that are invested in working with people in the mental health field. Our ideal candidates are team players with great attitudes who are constantly looking at ways to grow and improve. Our campus puts an emphasis on creativity and teamwork. We create high expectations for ourselves and push to raise them even higher. We guide our actions based on our company values of character, commitment, compassion, enthusiasm, family and flexibility.

Internship Schedule

Week 1: Introduction to Crestwood
Goal: Overview of the history of Crestwood, both the larger organization and the programs in Pleasant Hill, daily experience of working in residential mental health, tools such as motivational interviewing and reflective listening, and the internship

Week 2: Introduction to County Services
Goal: Overview of what it means to be a consumer of mental health services, the programs available in the county, the process through which someone comes to a Crestwood program and to treatment generally, and of the challenges in both working within and living within the mental health system.

Week 3: Pathway
Goal: Develop familiarity with the Pathway program.
Week 4: Bridge
  Goal: Develop familiarity with the Bridge program
Weeks 5-11: Project Development and Implementation
  Goal: Project of intern’s choice to be proposed, developed, and carried out over a 7 week period.
Week 12: Evaluation and Wrap Up

Interested parties, with at least two completed semesters of study, should email a cover letter and resume to Darby Witherspoon, dwitherspoon@cbhi.net, and Kathryn Hunter, khunter@cbhi.net.

➢ NIDA Summer Research Internship Program

  Substance abuse and addiction research internship opportunity

The NIDA Summer Research Internship Program introduces undergraduate students, with a goal of increasing underrepresented groups in biomedical and behavioral sciences, to substance abuse and addiction research. Through this program, undergraduate students age 18 years and older, conduct substance abuse and addiction research by participating in internships with NIDA funded scientists at universities across the United States. Paid, 8-week, hands-on research experiences may include a variety of different activities and research projects. To apply and view program information, see the NIDA Summer Research Internship Program online application.
