Center for Healing Shame: Melting the Shame Freeze Workshop, 1/23 - 1/30

Melting the Shame Freeze –
Building Resilience, Resources, and a Return to Safety and Connection

A workshop for therapists and other helping professionals
With Sheila Rubin LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon PhD, SEP

Saturday, January 23, 10am-6pm & Saturday, January 30, 10am-5:45pm PST
Online via Zoom – Live and Recorded
$395 full price / $375 with full payment by December 18 / Special price for interns

Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of January 18, 2020

13 CE credits available – $40 fee (See website for details) - CAMFT CE provider #134393

Shame is an extraordinary combination of a primary emotion and a state of freeze. It is an embodied belief that "something is wrong with me." Shame, like trauma, puts the body in a freeze state and lowers the ability to think and act clearly. Because shame exists in the body as well as in the mind, it is important that therapists work with shame somatically.

In this workshop, you will explore how to utilize somatic techniques to connect more quickly with the client and forge a strong therapeutic alliance. You will learn how to prevent somatic counter-transference and avoid taking on the client's physical shame patterns.

You will:

- Focus on using breathing and grounding to resource the client, becoming more aware of your own breathing and expanding it in the process.
- Learn how you can resource yourself so that you don't fall into somatic counter-transference and take on the client's physical shame patterns.
- Explore how to keep your clients more present in the room with you and counter over-verbalization, dissociation, and freezing.
- Learn techniques and theory from Wilhelm Reich (the father of Somatics), Peter Levine (Somatic Experiencing®), Stephen Porges (Polyvagal Theory), Ron Kurtz (Hakomi), and Eugene Gendlin (Focusing).

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

“The Undocumented Graduate” Conference, 1/29

The Undocumented Graduate

January 29, 2021

1:00 PM - 3:00PM PST

Register Here: <http://bit.ly/URCSYMPHIUM>

A symposium hosted by the Undocumented Research Cohort. Research by undocumented students on undocumented students.

The Undocumented Research Cohort (URC) set out to better understand the undocumented experience at Cal. Drawing on in-depth interviews with undocumented students, we present their diverse experiences at the University, focusing specifically on the differences between those who are DACAmented and unDACAmented, as well as STEM and non-STEM. While we await immigration reform, URC provides recommendations to improve the undocumented student experience at UC Berkeley.

With a Keynote by Dr. Roberto Gonzales

Robert Gonzales is a professor of education at HGSE and director of the newly formed immigration initiative at Harvard (IIH), a university-wide effort aimed at advancing and prompting interdisciplinary scholarship and intellectual exchange around issues of immigration policy and immigrant communities. Gonzales' research examines the effects of legal contexts on the coming of age experiences of vulnerable and hard to reach immigrant youth populations.

Apply for UC Berkeley’s Master of Development Engineering Program, 2/1

Want to foster innovation solutions to global problems?

Apply now to join UC Berkeley’s new Master of Development Engineering degree in Fall 2021!

The 3-semester Master of Development Engineering program at UC Berkeley integrates training in engineering with entrepreneurship, design, business, and policy—among others—to support students in creating technological interventions in accordance with the needs and wants of individuals living in complex, low-resource settings.

The application deadline is Feb. 1 2021 for the Fall 2021 class.

WHO WE ARE:

The Suitcase Clinic is a humanitarian student organization and volunteer community offering free health and social services to underserved populations since 1989. Structured around the principles of public health, social welfare, community activism and empathy, the Suitcase Clinic typically operates three weekly multi-service drop-in centers in the city of Berkeley: the General Clinic, the Womxn's Clinic and the Youth LGBTQ+ Clinic. In addition to providing services, the Suitcase Clinic strives to educate students, promote healthcare access, engage in community organization, and support public policy efforts that address homelessness and the needs of the underserved in the local community.

The Suitcase Clinic offers a semester-long, 2 unit, student-run course for UC Berkeley undergraduate students and Berkeley community members. The purpose of this course is to learn about the activities of the Suitcase Clinic and to introduce and discuss issues related to homelessness, intersectionality, and injustice. Everyone interested in volunteering with the Suitcase Clinic needs to complete the class over the Fall or Spring semester, while committing to do some virtual work that serves our community. Due to COVID-19, class as well as most activities will be occurring virtually with a limited opportunity for certain in-person activities. Once public health conditions allow, students will be able to volunteer in our three clinics and get to know the community.

If you are interested, please fill out our Suitcase Clinic Interest Form to receive updates for the upcoming semester regarding info sessions, applications and interviews. You can also find information on our website or Facebook page, and if you have any questions please feel free to email us at suitcaseclass@gmail.com.

Please find the application here. The app will be due Wednesday, February 3 at 4 PM.

(Note: the following dates are subject to change, please keep up to date with our FB page, or sign up for the interest form so that we can communicate any changes)

Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of January 18, 2020

Info Sessions (Optional):

1/27: 7-8 pm

1/28: 6-7 pm

1/28: 7-8 pm

The Suitcase Class Directors will hold additional zoom “Office Hours” for any remaining questions regarding the club or apps, and are TBA but will occur sometime after the info sessions and before apps are due.

Healing Shame February Workshop, 2/5

Using Interpersonal Skills to Heal Shame:

Undoing Aloneness and Building Attachment

by Matching, Joining and Activating Mirror Neurons

A workshop for therapists and other helping professionals

With Sheila Rubin LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon PhD, SEP

4 Fridays: February 5, 12, 19 & 26, 10am-1:30pm PST

Online via Zoom – Live and Recorded

13 CE credits available – $40 fee (See website for details)

CAMFT CE provider #134393

In many studies of the effectiveness of therapy, a strong connection between therapist and client has been noted as the clearest predictor of success. And yet our own fear and shame of doing the wrong thing can get in the way of that connection. We can be overly susceptible to messages telling us to be "neutral" and "professional." We can find ourselves holding back our warmth, generosity, and enthusiasm.

In this workshop, you will discover powerful tools to connect with a client quickly and deeply. We will provide demonstrations to help you decide when to hold back and when to bring yourself forward, both emotionally and physically. Because shame can produce a state of freeze, we may need to be even more active in order to counter it. You will learn ways to convey to the client “I’m right there with you”—in a dance in which you alternate between follower and leader. Being “right there” with the client is especially important in working with shame, which turns people’s gaze inward and makes them feel lacking and inferior. The workshop will examine ways to level the playing field that shame distorts—and combine the seemingly contradictory roles of caring friend and trusted expert.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.HealingShame.com.

Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging

Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging

Admitting for Fall 2021

The Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging (MSBI) program provides theoretical and practical exposure to all aspects of medical imaging technology. The program can be completed in one year of full time study and allows students to learn the foundations of medical imaging, explore how imaging is applied in medical practice, and perform independent research under the supervision of faculty that are leaders in this exciting field.

The Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging at UCSF features an outstanding faculty and is annually ranked amongst the top programs in the country for both research and training. MSBI students interact closely with faculty and have the opportunity to contribute to research activities in a wide array of applications ranging from image processing to the development of new molecular imaging agents. MSBI students commonly go on to MD and PhD programs, or may choose to work in industries that develop imaging related products or apply medical imaging in product development.

"The title of this program does not even begin to describe the diversity of knowledge presented to the students in a short year by professors who both care on a personal level and are at the top of their respective fields."

-Lindsay Conner (MSBI Alumni)

Come On Out - Japan's 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program

Attention students and recent graduates!

We are launching Come On Out - Japan's 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program and extending our invitation to top Universities and Japanese high school students for a cross-cultural learning experience.

We are currently seeking university students and recent graduates with native level English skills who are passionate about Japanese culture, gaining global experience, and mentoring others. They will be offered the opportunity to come to Japan for five weeks from mid-July to late August, 2021. Although this is an unpaid internship, the sponsor is providing certain expenses for each intern who participates in the six-week program. Airfare, lodging, meal and transportation subsidies will be provided. The program also offers optional Japanese language classes, field trips and an overnight trip. These additional opportunities are all designed to add cultural enrichment to your summer abroad experience.

This program is vastly different from any other traditional teaching position in Japan. Interns will facilitate English conversations with Japanese high school students on a variety of relevant global topics ranging from discussing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals to their personal life missions. Interns will be able to extend mentorship to new students each week as well as form lifelong connections with their fellow interns inside and outside the classroom.

We do not have any Japanese fluency requirements. Come On Out - Japan accepts undergraduates, graduates and recently graduated students as well.

Applications are now open at <http://www.comeonoutjapan.com>! If you have additional questions regarding the program, please contact Come on Out - Japan directly at

Mental Health United Recruiting Members

My name is Ryan Cabote and I am a sophomore Psychology student and I recently started a student-run mental health organization called Mental Health United and we are currently looking for people to become apart of our team!

Given that, are you interested in working on projects to provide mental health resources to underserved communities? Do you want to help eliminate mental health disparities? If so, apply to become a part of the Mental Health United family! We currently have three team positions open that all pertain to different interests (e.g. Web Development and Writing). If you want to learn more, visit linktr.ee/mentalhealthunited.

Indeed, there are many other student-run mental health organizations out there, so what makes Mental Health United different from other student-run mental health organizations?

Integration. Our goal at the moment is to implement Mental Health First Aid into California Community Colleges, California State Universities, and the University of California system, in addition to other schools in California, and make the certification mandatory for all staff and students. Through integration, we are able to provide a tangible resource for the mental health community and essentially make Mental Health First Aid as common as Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). After integrating training all throughout California, we aspire to widen our impact throughout the nation and eventually internationally.

Want to become apart of the change? Join today! Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns at ryancabote808@gmail.com. Thank you for your time!

Stanford Research Study - participants needed

Hi! We're researchers in the Psychology Department at Stanford University, and we're recruiting participants to take part in two online studies.

Study 1 takes about 25 minutes, and you will receive a $5 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will play seven child-friendly drawing and guessing games and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit the following link on a laptop or desktop using Google Chrome or Firefox: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/RR_adults/expE.html

Study 2 takes about 20 minutes, and you will receive a $4 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will pick things that are related and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit this link: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/coglink/index_E.html

You can participate in both studies (but only once per study).

For your $4, $5, or $9 Amazon gift card: Note your Participant ID (displayed on screen at the beginning and end of the study) and email it to langcogculture@gmail.com. If you participate in both studies, please include both Participant IDs in your email. We will email you your gift card within 3 days.

Please help us spread the word by forwarding this message to any friends and family who might be interested in participating!
