Biology-Centered Research Student Survey

One of our MCB Peer Advisors is working on a class project to find out more about the student experience in research. Improve the resources available to you as a UC Berkeley undergraduate involved in or interested in biology-centered research (and get entered in a drawing for a $50 Amazon gift card)

Take this brief, anonymous survey here: https://tinyurl.com/berkeleyundergraduatebiology

Data will be used by the MCB Undergraduate Advising Office, ADUC Senator Nikhil Harish, and other UC Berkeley student organizations to better improve access to and the quality of biology-centered undergraduate research at UC Berkeley.

Learn More about a Career as a Military Psychologist
10-14 June 2019 • Bethesda, Maryland
The Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP) will offer its 5-day course for 2nd, 3rd and 4th year doctoral students in clinical or counseling psychology who anticipate or are seriously considering applying for a military internship. The course offers a unique opportunity to explore in depth this career choice prior to applying for an internship. This intensive program will strengthen trainees’ backgrounds in military behavioral health as they gain firsthand knowledge of military culture, the work of uniformed psychologists, and evidence-based strategies to treat military members.

If you are considering a military internship and wish to serve our nation, visit: deploymentpsych.org/the-summer-career
Application closes on 29 January 2019

➤ Percy Grant ($500), 1/30/19

Charles H. Percy Undergraduate Grant for Public Affairs Research
The Institute of Governmental Studies will award up to four research grants in the amount of $500 each to U.C. Berkeley undergraduate students who are conducting research on an aspect of American politics, including public opinion, electoral behavior, civic participation, government institutions, social movements, and public policy. We encourage students from all majors to apply. The grant is made possible by a generous donation by Bill and Patrice Brandt. For more information click here!

➤ 2018 Science & Society Leadership Scholarship, 1/31/19

Duke Science & Society is proud to announce the 2019 Duke Science & Society Leadership Award offering substantial scholarships to the Duke Master of Arts in Bioethics & Science Policy program. The award will be made to outstanding nominees who demonstrate great potential to become leaders in making scientific advancements more accessible, just, and better integrated into society.

The Duke Masters in Bioethics & Science Policy teaches students how to identify, analyze, and propose solutions to myriad complex issues at the intersection of science, technology, ethics, and policy. Our curriculum is distinct in its focus on bioethics and science policy, rather than bioethics or medical ethics alone. Today’s world of rapid progress in the sciences has seen an increased demand for professionals with expertise in the ethical and policy implications of an increasingly broad range of scientific areas. Our broader focus provides a unique education, opens more opportunities to graduating students, and prepares students to meet an ever-growing need in society.

Summer Journalism Minor, 2/4/19

About the Program
The summer minor in Journalism at UC Berkeley helps students develop skills across a wide range of media, including news writing, video, audio, photojournalism, social media, as well as web design and creating multimedia packages.

No matter your major or intended profession, success today requires the ability to communicate in an informative and engaging style. In the journalism minor you will receive hands-on instruction in using the latest digital tools to craft stories that will help you build large audiences for your work.

Students can also study specialized topics, such as Investigative Reporting, International Reporting, Earth Journalism and more. The minor in journalism is open to all UC Berkeley students. Enrollment opens Feb 4, 2019 and classes run from May 28 to August 14.

For further information go to: https://journalism.berkeley.edu/admissions/summer-minor-program/

BLC Fellowship for Language Lecturers: Call for Submission, 2/4/19

Berkeley Language Center 2019-20 Language Lecturer Fellowships

Call for Submission
The Berkeley Language Center is pleased to announce the availability of up to six one-semester research fellowships for Unit 18 lecturers or language program coordinators for the upcoming academic year (pending authorization of funding). These fellowships will provide lecturers with the equivalent of one-course release time to work on individual projects designed to further their own professional development. Research projects might include: designing and developing instructional materials of various kinds; developing innovative uses of technology; developing new course syllabi or curricular innovations or assessment plans; engaging in independent study of an area of relevant literature, including enrolling in a course of relevant interest offered at UC Berkeley; doing an empirical study of some aspect of language learning; preparing a research paper for public presentation or publication in a professional journal. The fellowship culminates in a presentation to the UC Berkeley language community. Past fellows have also presented their research at conferences, or published their work in established journals.

The projects will be undertaken in collaboration with the BLC Director, Rick Kern, and the BLC Associate Director, Mark Kaiser. Regular attendance at the weekly research fellows’ meetings is required. Lecturers teaching any language at UC Berkeley are eligible to apply. Those teaching less commonly taught languages are particularly encouraged to apply. If you are interested, we strongly encourage you to discuss your research project proposal with either Rick Kern or Mark Kaiser.
Please complete the fellowship application form, and include a two-page description of your project (see specifications on application form), a current CV, and a letter of recommendation by the chair of your department, explaining how your project benefits the teaching and research mission of your department and/or your professional development. Fellowship application available at: http://bhc.berkeley.edu/bhc_fellowships/

Submit application and documentation via email or mail to the BLC department.

➤ Fung Fellowship Application Now Open, 2/8/19

Fung Fellowship for Wellness and Technology Innovation:
The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create innovative health and wellness solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, public health principles, and emerging technology, such as VR, AI, machine learning, and blockchain.

As a Fung Fellow you will:

• Explore the Health + Tech space
• Experience the design process from prototype to product
• Embed in communities to co-create with them
• Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field
Selected Fung Fellows attend a 3-unit course each semester, are supported in a summer internship, and have the opportunity to apply to a second year honors program.

Required Qualifications:

- Registered student at UC Berkeley
- Rising Junior (current Sophomore standing) with a passion for health, wellness, social impact, design, and/or technology

We are happy to announce that we are now able to offer a CME/CEU credit option for the 3-day TEACCH Autism Program training at the UCSF STAR Center, February 11-13, 2019. This credit option is included in the price of registration.

Attend a 3-day TEACCH® Autism Program training workshop in February 2019 at the UCSF STAR Center!

The TEACCH Autism Program is based at the University of North Carolina and offers a variety of training and consultation to professionals who work with individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). It is an evidence-based model aimed at meeting the clinical, training, and research needs of individuals of all ages and skill level with ASD, as well as their family members across the world. This TEACCH training workshop will be offered through the UCSF STAR Center for ASD and NDDs. We are excited to have this opportunity to welcome two TEACCH trainers, from the University of North Carolina TEACCH Autism Program, to lead the workshop on February 11-13, 2019 at UCSF.

More information regarding the application and the registration fee for this workshop, can be found at the following STAR Center training website; https://star.ucsf.edu/teacch%C2%AE-training.

Additional information about the TEACCH Autism Program can be found at the UNC School of Medicine website; https://teacch.com/trainings/. Please feel free to share this announcement with other community members that may be interested!

Please do not hesitate to reach out directly if you have any questions about this TEACCH opportunity at the UCSF STAR Center in February 2019.
Gardner Public Service Fellowship ($32,500), 2/13/19

John Gardner Fellowship
The John Gardner Fellowship selects six Fellows during the spring semester from among the graduating classes at UC Berkeley and Stanford University and provides each a $32,500 stipend to work in the governmental or nonprofit organization that most closely fits their public sector interests. Past fellows have been placed at the Department of State, the Council of Economic Advisers, and the Louisiana Capital Assistance Center. Fellows are matched with a senior-level mentor during their 10-month fellowship. The goal of the John Gardner Fellowship is to inspire UC Berkeley’s and Stanford’s best students to pursue a career in public service. We encourage students from all majors to apply. Wildlands Studies Information Session, 2/14/19

Thursday, Feb. 14th at 4 p.m.
575 McConé Hall
UC Berkeley

Wildlands Studies field projects provide students with the opportunity to join backcountry study teams as working field associates, studying environmental impact assessment, environmental policy, geologic, climatic and topographic factors that support various habitats, and the relationships between environments and culture. Most participants are undergraduates who join us on site from all over North America and Canada. Each program grants 5-15 units of upper division semester credit from Western Washington University-Huxley College of the Environment that easily transfers to UC Berkeley.

Project teams consist of 8-16 participants working with a course instructor who provides onsite instruction and directs all field study activities. This season, students can choose among fifteen wildlife, wildland and cultural ecology field studies searching for solutions to environmental and cultural challenges. Field studies take place in: Australia, Banff (Canada), Belize, Big Sur (California), California Channel Islands, Chile, Cuba, Ecuador, Iceland, Nepal, New Zealand, Peru, South Africa, Thailand, and Yellowstone. Information on all of our programs is available on our website: www.wildlandsstudies.com. Our email address is wildlands@wildlandsstudies.com.

Please join us at the Student Information Session and learn how to participate.
UCDC: Spend a semester in Washington, D.C, 2/21/19

Whether you’re studying politics and government, art history, public health, economics, legal studies, etc., UCDC is an amazing chance for Berkeley students to gain invaluable experience in the professional world.

Each fall and spring semester, UCDC sends ~30 Berkeley students to live, learn, and intern in Washington D.C. alongside students from across the UC system. Berkeley students take on prestigious internships with a variety of organizations, businesses, museums, government agencies and take 2 classes for UC Berkeley approved academic credit.

Recent participants have said: "UCDC was a transformative experience," and "UCDC was my best semester at Berkeley!"

Applications for the Fall 2019 cohort are due on Thursday, February 21st at 4PM. Applications must be submitted both online and in person at 2422 Dwinelle Hall.

➢ Summer Institute in Political Psychology (SIPP) 2019

THE 2019 SUMMER INSTITUTE IN POLITICAL PSYCHOLOGY
at Stanford University from August 4 – August 24, 2019

Applications are being accepted now for the 23rd Annual Summer Institute in Political Psychology, to be held at Stanford University August 4-24, 2019.

The Summer Institute offers 3 weeks of intensive training in political psychology. Political psychology is an exciting and thriving field that explores the origins of political behavior and the causes of political events, with a special focus on the psychological mechanisms at work.

Research findings in political psychology advance basic theories of politics and are an important basis for political decision-making in practice.

SIPP was founded in 1991 at Ohio State University, and Stanford has hosted SIPP since 2005, with support from Stanford University and from the National Science Foundation[AS1]. Hundreds of participants have attended SIPP during these years.

The 2019 SIPP curriculum is designed to (1) provide broad exposure to theories, empirical findings, and research traditions; (2) illustrate successful cross-disciplinary research and integration; (3) enhance methodological pluralism; and (4) strengthen networks among scholars from around the world.

SIPP activities will include lectures by world class faculty, discussion groups, research/interest group meetings, group projects, and an array of social activities.

Some of the topics covered in past SIPP programs include public attitudes and attitude change, race relations, conflict and dispute resolution, voting and elections, international conflict, decision-making, moral disengagement and violence, social networks, activism and social protest, political socialization, justice, and many more.

In 2019, SIPP will accept up to 60 participants, including graduate students, faculty, professionals, and advanced undergraduates. Please visit our website for more information and to find the application to attend: https://web.stanford.edu/group/sipp/cgi-bin/sipp/. Applicants are accepted on a rolling basis until all slots are filled, so applying soon maximizes chances of acceptance. Any questions should be directed to: 2019SIPP@gmail.com.

➤ 5Th Year Masters of Information and Data Science

UC Berkeley’s 5th Year Master of Information and Data Science — Delivered Online

Tailored for UC Berkeley undergraduates interested in data science careers, the 5th Year Master of Information and Data Science (MIDS) program takes an interdisciplinary approach to data science instruction and equips students for careers in organizations that are relying increasingly on data to make decisions. The 5th Year MIDS program provides Cal students with a path to earning a professional master’s degree through focused advising and guided preparation in one calendar year. Students learn to derive insights from real-world data sets, using the latest tools and analytical methods to interpret and communicate their findings in ways that influence decision-making, changing both minds and behaviors in a variety of settings.

Through a hands-on, project-based approach to learning, the 5th Year MIDS program features a rigorous, multidisciplinary curriculum that draws on insights from social sciences, computer science, statistics, management, and law, and prepares students to creatively apply methods of data collection, analysis, and presentation to address and solve problems in areas of human interest, government, and business.

Join the certificate program and get priority access to unique fieldwork-based studio courses. Learn more at our info sessions.

GUH Course Spotlight: The City, Arts, and Public Space
Instructors: Teresa Caldeira and Shannon Jackson
CYPLAN 291/RHETORIC 240G
Spring 2019, 4 units, T 1-4p
Local urban practices and artistic interventions are recreating public spaces in metropolises around the world. This GUH graduate seminar draws from different methods across the humanities and environmental design to explore some of these interventions and to theorize about the public character of the transformations that they provoke. Students will be examining a foundational set of readings in urban humanities. Required for the Graduate Certificate in Global Urban Humanities. More

Techniques of Memory: Landscape, Iconoclasm, Medium and Power
April 17-18 Symposium
David Brower Center
Whether in Berlin, New Orleans, or Seoul, monuments are just one way that cities embody memory. Our spring symposium will bring together scholars, artists and activists from around the world to consider techniques as new as augmented reality and as old as storytelling as ways of building urban meaning out of memory. Mapping Affect: Urban counter-drag in San Francisco, 1966-75
Brown bag lecture by Natalia Matesanz Ventura, PhD Visiting Student Researcher
Jan 28, 12-1:30p in 106 Wurster
In the late ’60s and early ’70s, San Francisco’s counterculture devised underground, self-organized DIY urban networks of communal survival. The Angels of Light, an acid-drag commune of free-theatre performers, transformed buildings, recycled urban waste for props, and performed in the streets. Combining affect and performance theory within a Situationist framework, Matesanz utilizes what she coins affectent cartography to reveal how the Angels of Light used urban space for counterculture contestations of mainstream gender, political and consumer practices. The Feminist Resistance to the Radical Right in Brazil: A Forum of Four Brazilian Feminist Political Leaders
Jan 28, 4-7pm
Booth Auditorium (room 175), School of Law
Join in this unprecedented opportunity to hear from and dialogue with 4 newly elected Brazilian politicians as they begin historic terms in office: Talíria Petrone (RJ), Sâmia Bomfim (SP), Jô Cavalcanti (PE), and Fernanda Melchionna (RS). They will discuss feminism, formal politics, and innovative modes of resistance to the radical right turn in Brazilian government. RSVP by Jan 15. More

GUH People: Noam Shoked
GUH alumnus Noam Shoked was recently awarded the 2018-2019 Princeton-Mellon Fellowship. At Princeton, he will continue his research on the ways in which the design of West Bank settlements became a site of both collaboration and confrontation between architects, settlers, and government officials. Night of Ideas: "Facing our Time: The City of the Future"
Feb 2, 7p-2a
San Francisco Main Public Library
Can our cities be community focused and globally connected while also smart, resilient, and infused with poetry and empathy? Through dialogue, how can we empower people of all ages, classes, and backgrounds? Is an innovative and inclusive city possible? Discuss these questions, enjoy music and art, and sip French wine as the Main Library opens its doors for a free and festive night to exchange ideas in the form of a 7-hour marathon of debates, discussions and performances. Surprising Evidence: Revealing Vanished Landscapes through Nontraditional Moving Images
EDA Gallery Talk with UC Santa Cruz Professor of Film & Digital Media Rick Prelinger
Feb 12, 6:30-8p in Wurster Auditorium (room 112)
Historians, architects, and planners often look to feature films as records of extinct environments. But few know of the existence of alternative archival records: home movies, process plates, and "useful films." Vividly depicting simultaneous and elusive geographies, these materials enable new frameworks for presentation and visualization, including community- and commons-based events focusing on urban futures and the right to the city. Daniel Libeskind: Edge of Order
Jan 20, 3-4:30p
Contemporary Jewish Museum
Starchitect Daniel Libeskind opens the door to his unique creative process in conversation with the CJM's Executive Director, Lori Starr. Hear the stories behind his most important projects, including the design for The Contemporary Jewish Museum, and learn how the architect's unlikely rise from a child born to Holocaust survivors in a Polish homeless shelter, to a teenager in the Bronx, to an avant-garde academic still shapes his boundary-pushing work at Studio Libeskind. Book sales and signing to follow. More

Spring Student Events and Resources at Jacobs Hall

We have a packed but exciting schedule of programs planned for the semester! Read on below about our spring student-focused events and preview our public events (also open to students) here.

You can also check out the Student Resources page on our website for an overview of the general resources available at Jacobs Hall. As always, if you have questions or suggestions, let me know!
Start of the semester events

Drop-in building tours

Every Monday/Wednesday/Friday from 1/23 to 2/8 | 12:10-12:30PM
Take a guided tour of the Jacobs makerspace and teaching studios to learn about the many ways that you can explore design and technology innovation here. Tours meet in the west lobby of Jacobs Hall and will start on Berkeley time.

 makerspace open house

Friday, 2/1 | 5-7PM
Kick off a new year at the Jacobs makerspace open house! Hang out with the design specialists, student supervisors, and other members of our interdisciplinary and creative community. Learn about Maker Pass resources and show your friends where you spend all of your time. We will have information about spring workshops for Maker Pass holders, demos, and giveaways (and snacks too, of course).

Spring workshops and field trips

Pop-up workshops
Check out the workshops offered by different members of the talented Jacobs community, from alumni to student clubs. They cover a wide range of topics, but all are free, open to all Cal students, and provide fun, low-key opportunities for you to develop new skills and meet other members of our community. Here is the current workshop lineup; more will be added throughout the semester.

Jacobs Design Field Trips
This semester, the Jacobs Design Field Trips, which are free and open to all Cal students, will explore service design and designs for belonging. Learn more about the current trips planned; stay tuned for other trips to be added later.

Community announcements
If your department or student group has a design-related opportunity that you would like to share on this mailing list, send me a one paragraph description, including a URL or contact person where interested students can get more information. Community announcements are sent several times a week, following the general thematic schedule of events on Mondays, programs/courses/general on Wednesdays, and jobs on Fridays.

➢ Innsbruck goes international 2019

The idea: Innsbruck goes International is an exchange program for psychology students from all over the world. This year, the International Exchange Week of Psychology at the Leopold-Franzens-University of Innsbruck takes place for the 12th time and is scheduled from May 10th to May 17th, 2019.

We, 14 psychology students from the University of Innsbruck, invite fellow psychology students from various countries to Innsbruck to get to know our academic life, the Tyrolean culture, and the beautiful city of Innsbruck. Our aim is to create an intercultural, social, and professional exchange between psychology students and a network spanning all over the world. The whole exchange program is organized by students of the University of Innsbruck in cooperation with the Department of Psychology. In the past, every year about 30 students from several universities around the world have taken part in this project. This year we would like to invite the same number of students again to come visit us in Innsbruck.

Our international guests will be hosted free of charge by fellow psychology students, who are also invited to take part in the various activities planned for the week. The affordable participation fee for each student is 95 Euros and includes all activities we have planned.

The Program: In general, the program is based on the following 3 concepts:

Professional exchange
• presentations on our department and the University of Innsbruck
• lectures held by our professors of the psychology department
• psychological workshops
• establishing international networks

Cultural exchange
• a guided tour through the city
• a hiking trip on the local mountains
• a visit to a theater/museum
• leisure activities depending on the regional offer (e.g. glacier-trip, high rope course)

Social exchange
• Welcome dinner (opening event at the university, including an open buffet)
• Pub-Quiz
• Running Dinner (a dinner where every course is eaten at a different host’s apartment)
• Exchange-Party and Innsbruck’s nightlife
