➢ Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology: Ball State University – Priority Deadline 2/1/20

The Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology program at Ball State University (Muncie, IN) is a two-year on-campus program designed to prepare students to be competitive candidates for psychology doctoral programs and to enhance students’ research skills by offering them a wide range of research experience from assisting faculty researchers to completing their own independent research projects. The program consists of a rigorous combination of classroom and research experiences. Our priority application deadline is February 1st, however we will continue to accept applications after this date and consider applicants as space remains. We accept approximately 12 students per year to begin the program in the Fall. All accepted students are considered for a graduate assistantship which covers most tuition/fees and provides a stipend. More information is available at: https://www.bsu.edu/academics/collegesanddepartments/psychological-science/academic-programs/masters-clinical-psychology

InterGeneration400: Breathe. Remember. Live, 2/1/20

We are so thrilled to invite you to interGeneration400: Breathe. Remember. Live., a commemorative celebration of #BlackLives and Black history, scheduled for Saturday, February 1st, from 8 am to 6 pm in the César E. Chávez Student Center. Joining the national conversation inspired by the 400 Years of African-American History Commission Act, our event brings together kinfolk from across generations and backgrounds to discuss the legacy of American slavery, honor Black ingenuity and resilience, and celebrate our shared humanity. A free and open-for-all affair—complete with nourishment for the body, mind, and spirit—interGeneration400 invites us all to boldly breathe, remember, and live. We hope to count on your presence to make this day a celebratory and life-affirming experience for all.

RSVP here to help us plan.

Publish Your Research in the Columbia Undergraduate Research Journal, 2/2/19

The editorial board of the Columbia Undergraduate Science Journal invites undergraduate students to submit a research paper for publication in their journal. CUSJ is a highly selective peer-reviewed publication that aims to provide undergraduate students the opportunity to publish scholarly research papers.

The submission deadline for the 2019-2020 journal is February 2, 2019.

More information about CUSJ and submission guidelines can be found at: https://cusj.columbia.edu/

Career Center First Gen Conference 2020, 2/8/20
Summer Research Program at Harvard Business School, Deadline 2/11/20

The Program for Research in Markets and Organizations (PRIMO) is a highly selective 10-week summer residential community of undergraduates participating in research affiliated with HBS faculty. The Program seeks to create a diverse group of Fellows including but not limited to women and underrepresented minorities who are inspired by and are committed to pursuing excellence in business research. As PRIMO enters its tenth year, we are pleased to open up the program to students from any American undergraduate institution who may be considering doctoral studies. Rising sophomores, juniors, or seniors at University of California, Berkeley who might be considering doctoral studies after graduation are encouraged to apply. PRIMO will run from 8 June - 15 August, 2020 and offers Fellows lodging, a partial board plan, and a stipend. The deadline to submit applications is Tuesday, February 11th at 12:00 pm EST.

➢ BIO International Spring 2020 Financial Aid Application, Deadline 2/14/20

Berkeley International Office offers limited, need-based financial aid to international students who have completed at least one academic year in their current visa status. Our Spring 2020 application is open today through February 14, 2020.

BIO need-based financial aid is intended only for students in the most financial need who have experienced a significant, unexpected change in their financial situation. Awards are not intended to provide long-term support and will not cover full tuition and fees.

The following types of grants are available through BIO:
- Need-Based Grants for Tuition and Family Expenses
- Medical Fund Awards

More information and the link to apply can be found here.

➢ I-O Psychology Master’s Program at Texas A&M University, 2/15/20 Deadline

Have you thought about the Master’s program in Industrial-Organizational (I-O) Psychology at Texas A&M University? I-O psychology is the scientific study of human behavior at work and the application of that science to the workplace challenges facing individuals, teams, and organizations.

The Master’s program in I-O psychology at Texas A&M University is a 33-credit hours, full-time, non-thesis, cohort-based (team-focused) program designed to be completed in 16 months. The curriculum balances scientific discipline with professional practice and the required industry-based internship experience gives our students a competitive advantage on the job market. Students will also learn from faculty who are engaged in the field and who also teach courses in a nationally ranked I-O psychology Ph.D. program.

We are now accepting applications for fall 2020 and February 15 is the annual deadline for admission. Applicants who wish to be considered for the Diversity Excellence Fellowship nomination must have a complete application on file by January 3rd. See the attached flyer and visit our website (tx.ag/MSIOP) to learn more about the program. Please contact Bisi Atoba at 979-458-8611 or bisi.atoba@tamu.edu for more information.

➢ Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/21/20

What is the Fung Fellowship?
The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create innovative health and wellness solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, public health principles, and emerging technology.

As a Fung Fellow you will:
- Explore the Health + Tech space
- Experience the design process from prototype to product
- Embed in communities to co-create with them
- Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field
- Selected Fung Fellows attend a 3-unit course each semester, are supported in a summer internship, and have the opportunity to apply to a second year honors program.

Required Qualifications:
- Registered student at UC Berkeley
- Rising Junior (current Sophomore standing) with a passion for health, wellness, social impact, design, and/or technology

How to Apply:

➢ UCSF Master’s in Clinical Degree Program, 3/16/20

We wanted to bring to your attention our Master’s Degree Program in Clinical Research at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). Founded in 2002, our program provides comprehensive theoretical instruction and practical training in a variety of methods of observational and experimental health-related research with human subjects. Graduates are prepared to work in the field of clinical and epidemiologic research in either academia, industry, or public health. Many graduates have used our program as a stepping stone for PhD training or professional school (medical, dental, or nursing). Application deadline is March 16, 2020, but we will begin reviewing applications on January 1, 2020.

Immigrant Rising Scholarships and Fellowships

Scholarships and fellowships are essential for many undocumented students to pay for higher education, especially students who do not qualify for in-state tuition and state-based financial aid. Undocumented students pursuing higher education need to know that scholarships and fellowships are available to them—regardless of their immigration status.

This year, we’ve expanded our Scholarship and Fellowship Lists with 222 BRAND-NEW scholarships and 80 fellowships. The complete list now contains 344 undergraduate and 302 graduate/post-graduate scholarships and fellowships that do not require proof of citizenship or legal permanent residency (425 are open to undocumented individuals who don't have DACA).

Don’t know where to start? Our Applying for Scholarships resource will help you get started! Undergraduate and graduate scholarships and fellowships.

UNM PostBac Program

The PREP post-baccalaureate program, at the University of New Mexico, application posting has just gone live and we are now accepting applications for the 2020-2021 PREP year. This program is for recent graduates (within the past 36 months) who intend to continue their education in the biomedical sciences by entering a PhD program. PREP’s main benefit to the scholars is engagement in cutting edge research for one full year with a faculty mentor of their choice while receiving assistance in preparing their PhD applications. We offer many additional benefits including an annual salary of $27,200, health/dental benefits, GRE preparation classes, tuition for academic courses, travel support to attend conferences, and many additional activities geared to aid in the overall professional development of our scholars.
