Center for Healing Shame: Melting the Shame Freeze Workshop, 1/23 - 1/30

Melting the Shame Freeze – Building Resilience, Resources, and a Return to Safety and Connection

A workshop for therapists and other helping professionals
With Sheila Rubin LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon PhD, SEP

Saturday, January 23, 10am-6pm & Saturday, January 30, 10am-5:45pm PST
Online via Zoom – Live and Recorded
$395 full price / $375 with full payment by December 18 / Special price for interns

13 CE credits available – $40 fee (See website for details) - CAMFT CE provider #134393

Shame is an extraordinary combination of a primary emotion and a state of freeze. It is an embodied belief that "something is wrong with me." Shame, like trauma, puts the body in a freeze state and lowers the ability to think and act clearly. Because shame exists in the body as well as in the mind, it is important that therapists work with shame somatically.

In this workshop, you will explore how to utilize somatic techniques to connect more quickly with the client and forge a strong therapeutic alliance. You will learn how to prevent somatic counter-transference and avoid taking on the client's physical shame patterns.

You will:

- Focus on using breathing and grounding to resource the client, becoming more aware of your own breathing and expanding it in the process.
- Learn how you can resource yourself so that you don't fall into somatic counter-transference and take on the client's physical shame patterns.
- Explore how to keep your clients more present in the room with you and counter over-verbalization, dissociation, and freezing.
- Learn techniques and theory from Wilhelm Reich (the father of Somatics), Peter Levine (Somatic Experiencing®), Stephen Porges (Polyvagal Theory), Ron Kurtz (Hakomi), and Eugene Gendlin (Focusing).
There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.HealingShame.com.

Calapalooza, 1/25 - 1/27

Looking for a student group to join at Cal? Berkeley has over 1,000 student groups looking to recruit YOU! That includes registered student organizations (RSO’s), fraternities, sororities, and student government (ASUC & GA). Find your community at Cal by going to CalLink from January 25th-27th, for Calapalooza, the LEAD Center’s virtual student involvement fair. Each student group will have its own virtual room for you to meet members, ask questions and learn how to join.
Spring 2021 SLC Language Exchange Program, 1/26 - 1/29

As the new semester begins, we are thrilled to invite students to join our Spring 2021 LEP community! We offer five program formats, providing learners with a wide range of opportunities to strengthen their language skills and explore the rich cultural diversity of our campus. All of our services are completely virtual—allowing students to connect with Golden Bears around the globe!

Global Poverty & Practice Minor Info Sessions, 1/26 - 3/10

The GPP Minor introduces students to the theoretical frameworks, methods, and practical skills necessary to engage with global poverty and inequality in effective ways.

The minor requires five courses and a "Practice Experience." This experience is a central component of the minor in which students partner with domestic or international non-governmental or community organizations, government agencies, or other poverty or development programs, on various dimensions of poverty action – from food security and sustainable technologies to economic justice and grass-roots political power. The combination of the coursework for the minor and this real world experience allows students to connect theories and practices of poverty action. Funding is available to support students’ practice experiences.

The deadline to declare the minor this semester is Wednesday, March 10th. There are no prerequisites required to declare.

The Declaration Form and additional information about the minor can be found at: http://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/gppminor

Information Sessions about the minor will be held on Zoom at the following times. More details, including Zoom links, can also be found on the GPP website: https://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/academics/gpp/events/

- Tuesday, January 26th, 12 -1 PM
- Wednesday, February 3rd, 11 - 12 PM
- Thursday, February 11th, 5 - 5:30 PM (Abridged Session during Summer Opportunities Fair. Requires Registration)
- Friday, February 19th, 12 - 1 PM
- Monday, February 22nd, 5 - 6 PM

“The Undocumented Graduate” Conference, 1/29

The Undocumented Graduate
January 29, 2021
1:00 PM - 3:00PM PST
Register Here: http://bit.ly/URCSYMPOSIUM

A symposium hosted by the Undocumented Research Cohort. Research by undocumented students on undocumented students.

The Undocumented Research Cohort (URC) set out to better understand the undocumented experience at Cal. Drawing on in-depth interviews with undocumented students, we present their diverse experiences at the University, focusing specifically on the differences between those who are DACAmanted and unDACAmanted, as well as STEM and non-STEM. While we await immigration reform, URC provides recommendations to improve the undocumented student experience at UC Berkeley.

With a Keynote by Dr. Roberto Gonzales
Robert Gonzales is a professor of education at HGSE and director of the newly formed immigration initiative at Harvard (IIH), a university-wide effort aimed at advancing and prompting interdisciplinary scholarship and intellectual exchange around issues of immigration policy and immigrant communities. Gonzales’ research examines the effects of legal contexts on the coming of age experiences of vulnerable and hard to reach immigrant youth populations.

Renaming an Alameda Elementary School in an Era of Racial Reckoning, 1/29

From Haight to Love: Renaming an Alameda Elementary School in an Era of Racial Reckoning

On Dec. 5, 1867, California Governor Henry Huntly Haight used his inaugural speech to rail against the citizenship and voting rights of formerly enslaved Africans, Native Americans, and to oppose immigration from Asia. On December 5, 2017, 150 years later, Rasheed Shabazz contacted the Haight Elementary School PTA and encouraged them to initiate the process to rename Haight School. A year and a half later, the Alameda school board voted unanimously to adopt the name: Love Elementary School. As part of our Hidden Histories series, Shabazz will discuss the campaign to rename Haight and how public history is an opportunity to build relationships and highlight bigger structural issues in communities.
Speaker Bio:
Rasheed Shabazz is a multimedia storyteller, urban planning historian, and youth development professional based in the Bay Area. He was born in Oakland and raised in the West End of Alameda, California. Rasheed studied African American Studies and Political Science at the University of California, Berkeley. He is currently completing his Masters in City and Regional Planning at Berkeley. He is currently working on a book about the history of African Americans and housing in Alameda.

Suitcase Clinic, 2/3

WHO WE ARE:
The Suitcase Clinic is a humanitarian student organization and volunteer community offering free health and social services to underserved populations since 1989. Structured around the principles of public health, social welfare, community activism and empathy, the Suitcase Clinic typically operates three weekly multi-service drop-in centers in the city of Berkeley: the General Clinic, the Womxn’s Clinic and the Youth LGBTQ+ Clinic. In addition to providing services, the Suitcase Clinic strives to educate students, promote healthcare access, engage in community organization, and support public policy efforts that address homelessness and the needs of the underserved in the local community.

The Suitcase Clinic offers a semester-long, 2 unit, student-run course for UC Berkeley undergraduate students and Berkeley community members. The purpose of this course is to learn about the activities of the Suitcase Clinic and to introduce and discuss issues related to homelessness, intersectionality, and injustice. Everyone interested in volunteering with the Suitcase Clinic needs to complete the class over the Fall or Spring semester, while committing to do some virtual work that serves our community. Due to COVID-19, class as well as most activities will be occurring virtually with a limited opportunity for certain in-person activities. Once public health conditions allow, students will be able to volunteer in our three clinics and get to know the community.

If you are interested, please fill out our Suitcase Clinic Interest Form to receive updates for the upcoming semester regarding info sessions, applications and interviews. You can also find information on our website or Facebook page, and if you have any questions please feel free to email us at suitcaseclass@gmail.com.

Please find the application here. The app will be due Wednesday, February 3 at 4 PM.
(Note: the following dates are subject to change, please keep up to date with our FB page, or sign up for the interest form so that we can communicate any changes)

Info Sessions (Optional):

1/27: 7-8 pm
1/28: 6-7 pm
1/28: 7-8 pm

The Suitcase Class Directors will hold additional zoom “Office Hours” for any remaining questions regarding the club or apps, and are TBA but will occur sometime after the info sessions and before apps are due.

Online via Zoom – Live and Recorded

$395 full price / $375 with full payment by January 8, 2021 / Special price for interns

13 CE credits available – $40 fee (See website for details)

CAMFT CE provider #134393

In many studies of the effectiveness of therapy, a strong connection between therapist and client has been noted as the clearest predictor of success. And yet our own fear and shame of doing the wrong thing can get in the way of that connection. We can be overly susceptible to messages telling us to be "neutral" and “professional.” We can find ourselves holding back our warmth, generosity, and enthusiasm.

In this workshop, you will discover powerful tools to connect with a client quickly and deeply. We will provide demonstrations to help you decide when to hold back and when to bring yourself forward, both emotionally and physically. Because shame can produce a state of freeze, we may need to be even more active in order to counter it. You will learn ways to convey to the client “I’m right there with you”—in a dance in which you alternate between follower and leader. Being “right there” with the client is especially important in working with shame, which turns people’s gaze inward and makes them feel lacking and inferior. The workshop will examine ways to level the playing field that shame distorts—and combine the seemingly contradictory roles of caring friend and trusted expert.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.HealingShame.com.

For more information, call Sheila at 415-820-3974 or email Sheila@HealingShame.com.

The Big C: Call For Proposals, 2/7
THE BIG C CALL FOR PROPOSALS: Student-Initiated Projects

What is the Big C?
Passed by student referendum in April 2017, The Big-C (Big Community) Fee Referendum expanded staffing (student and permanent), programs, and services, including funding for student initiated projects, offered through the Centers for Educational Justice & Community Engagement (EJCE) that serve the Berkeley community. EJCE serves all students by fostering communities, providing support and educational services to the campus as a whole. EJCE is African American Student Development (AASD) | Asian Pacific American Student Development (APASD) | Chicanx Latinx Student Development (CLSD) | Multicultural Community Center (MCC) | Native American Student Development (NASD) | Gender Equity Resource Center (GenEq).

HAAS Scholars Program Application Open, 2/17

Every year, the Haas Scholars Program funds 20 students from all majors for up to $13,800 to carry out a capstone project in the summer preceding and during their final year on campus. Haas Scholars also receive guidance from faculty mentors (who also receive a stipend) and from a full-time staff member, membership in a close-knit interdisciplinary community of scholars, and connections to an alumni network of almost 500 members.

The deadline is 2/17/21; interested students should attend an upcoming info session and contact the Program Manager at haas_scholars@berkeley.edu for an appointment.

SURF Fellowship Application, 2/18

The Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships, known as “SURF”, provides $5,000 stipends to students to carry out in depth research over the summer.

Learn more: https://surf.berkeley.edu/

Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/19

The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create impact-driven solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Through 3-unit semesterly courses, Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, interdisciplinary tactics, and emerging technology in both of our offered tracks: Conservation + Tech and Health + Tech.

https://fungfellows.berkeley.edu/
Please note that the Fung Fellowship accepts all majors into this program and that there is no GPA bracket, as applications will be reviewed holistically.

As a Fung Fellow you will:
- Explore innovation and technology in your chosen track sector
- Experience the design process from prototype to product
- Embed in communities to co-create with them
- Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field

What your first year might look like:
- Engage in foundational experiences such as weekly lectures and hands-on lab sections, fall bootcamp, spring retreat, and interdisciplinary team projects
- Access to exploratory opportunities such as conferences, company site visits, networking events, workshops, hackathons, and career services

Serve on Committee on Student Conduct, 2/19

The University of California Berkeley’s Committee on Student Conduct is composed of UC Berkeley students, faculty, and staff who serve on hearing panels to review cases of alleged student academic, behavioral, and organizational misconduct. Student members of the Committee, along with their staff and faculty counterparts, are trained to interpret the Code of Student Conduct, and play a vital role in fostering development and growth among their peers. At a hearing, members of the Committee on Student Conduct will determine whether a policy violation occurred and recommend appropriate sanctions. Committee members are responsible for ensuring that responding students receive a fair and impartial hearing while also ensuring that UC Berkeley remains a safe campus community.
At each hearing, committee members are asked to evaluate each unique set of circumstances, review evidence, and ask thoughtful questions of a responding student, University representative, and witnesses.

For more info, contact Erin Slater-Wu, Independent Hearing Officer, at sa_iho@berkeley.edu.

Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging

Admitting for Fall 2021

The Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging (MSBI) program provides theoretical and practical exposure to all aspects of medical imaging technology. The program can be completed in one year of full time study and allows students to learn the foundations of medical imaging, explore how imaging is applied in medical practice, and perform independent research under the supervision of faculty that are leaders in this exciting field.

The Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging at UCSF features an outstanding faculty and is annually ranked amongst the top programs in the country for both research and training. MSBI students interact closely with faculty and have the opportunity to contribute to research activities in a wide array of applications ranging from image processing to the development of new molecular imaging agents. MSBI students commonly go on to MD and PhD programs, or may choose to work in industries that develop imaging related products or apply medical imaging in product development.

ICPSR Summer Program, 3/29

Over 100 scholarships available!
The ICPSR Summer Program offers over 100 scholarships to students from many different fields of social science research. These scholarships enable students to take our courses in statistics, data analysis, and quantitative methods.

These scholarships provide fee waivers to attend our four-week sessions. The first session begins June 21 and ends July 16, and the second begins on July 19 and ends August 13. Courses will be fully online again this summer, allowing participants to learn from anywhere in the world. Lectures are recorded; there is no need to stay up until all hours of the night (unless you really want to).
Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of January 25, 2020

Courses include introductory and advanced regression analysis, time series analysis, Bayesian analysis, machine learning, rational choice theory, SEM, MLE, game theory, longitudinal analysis, multilevel modeling, social choice theory, race/ethnicity and quantitative methodology, data visualization, data science and text analysis, and more.

- Clogg Scholarship: Open to students conducting research in Sociology
- Clubb Scholarship: Open to students conducting research in Quantitative History or related fields
- Diversity Scholarship: Open to graduate students from under-represented groups. Stipends available.
- Heitowit Scholarship: Open to students, faculty, and researchers from all disciplines who have previously attended a four-week session of the ICPSR Summer Program
- Scholarship for Political Science Research: Open to students conducting research in Political Science
- Miller Scholarship: Open to pre-tenure scholars, assistant professors, and students conducting research on electoral/political behavior. Stipends available.
- Scholarship for Public Administration, Public Policy, and Public Affairs: Open to students conducting research in public administration, public policy, or public affairs
- Scholarship for Developmental, Child, and Family Psychology: Open to students conducting research in developmental, child, or family psychology
- Scholarship for Education Research: Open to students conducting research in education and related fields

We also offer scholarship in partnership with various organizations:

- EITM Certification Scholarships cover the registration fee for one or both four-week sessions of the ICPSR Summer Program. For application information and eligibility criteria, check the EITM website.
- Janet Box-Steffensmeier and John A. Garcia Scholarships are awarded by the Society for Political Methodology to encourage women and underrepresented graduate students in political science to attend the ICPSR Summer Program. These awards are a waiver of registration fees to attend one or both four-week sessions.
- ISR-Rackham Summer Training Awards provide funds to support doctoral students from the University of Michigan (across all Rackham Divisions) who would like to take courses with the ICPSR Summer Program or SRC Summer Institute.
- The Hanes Walton, Jr. Award for Quantitative Methods Training is awarded by the National Conference of Black Political Scientists and provides a waiver of registration fees for one or both of the four-week sessions. The Hanes Walton, Jr. Award is intended to encourage attendance in the ICPSR Summer Program by faculty and graduate students from Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), as well as women and minority graduate students and faculty at other institutions.
Application Period: The scholarship application portal will open on Monday, February 15, 2021 and close at 11:59 p.m. EST on Monday, March 29, 2021. For more information and to apply, visit the ICPSR Summer Program Scholarships page.

Come On Out - Japan’s 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program

Attention students and recent graduates!

We are launching Come On Out - Japan’s 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program and extending our invitation to top Universities and Japanese high school students for a cross-cultural learning experience.

We are currently seeking university students and recent graduates with native level English skills who are passionate about Japanese culture, gaining global experience, and mentoring others. They will be offered the opportunity to come to Japan for five weeks from mid-July to late August, 2021. Although this is an unpaid internship, the sponsor is providing certain expenses for each intern who participates in the six-week program. Airfare, lodging, meal and transportation subsidies will be provided. The program also offers optional Japanese language classes, field trips and an overnight trip. These additional opportunities are all designed to add cultural enrichment to your summer abroad experience.

This program is vastly different from any other traditional teaching position in Japan. Interns will facilitate English conversations with Japanese high school students on a variety of relevant global topics ranging from discussing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals to their personal life missions. Interns will be able to extend mentorship to new students each week as well as form lifelong connections with their fellow interns inside and outside the classroom.

We do not have any Japanese fluency requirements. Come On Out - Japan accepts undergraduates, graduates and recently graduated students as well.

Applications are now open at http://www.comeonoutjapan.com! If you have additional questions regarding the program, please contact Come on Out - Japan directly at info@comeonoutjapan.com or via the inquiry tab on our website. For more specific information, please check out the following important links.

Mental Health United Recruiting Members

My name is Ryan Cabote and I am a sophomore Psychology student and I recently started a student-run mental health organization called Mental Health United and we are currently looking for people to become apart of our team!

Given that, are you interested in working on projects to provide mental health resources to underserved communities? Do you want to help eliminate mental health disparities? If so, apply to become a part of the Mental Health United family! We currently have three team positions open that all pertain to different interests (e.g. Web Development and Writing). If you want to learn more, visit linktr.ee/mentalhealthunited.

Indeed, there are many other student-run mental health organizations out there, so what makes Mental Health United different from other student-run mental health organizations?

Integration. Our goal at the moment is to implement Mental Health First Aid into California Community Colleges, California State Universities, and the University of California system, in addition to other schools in California, and make the certification mandatory for all staff and students. Through integration, we are able to provide a tangible resource for the mental health community and essentially make Mental Health First Aid as common as Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). After integrating training all throughout California, we aspire to widen our impact throughout the nation and eventually internationally.

Want to become apart of the change? Join today! Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns at rycabote808@gmail.com. Thank you for your time!
Apply to become a part of the team!

Simply Neuroscience Action Potential Advising Program Mentorship

Simply Neuroscience, a student-led non-profit organization works to expand interdisciplinary neuroscience education, outreach, and awareness for students. Over the past year, Simply Neuroscience has expanded to include a broader community of over 20,000 individuals spanning 49 U.S. states and 113 countries.

The recent launch of our Action Potential Advising Program (APAP) works to virtually connect young neuroscience students (“advisees”) with older professionals (“advisors”) to provide educational guidance and mentorship. The APAP’s mission is to bridge gaps in early neuroscience and psychology education through creating an international, centralized mentorship space that supports both STEM and humanities students.

Stanford Research Study - participants needed

Hi! We’re researchers in the Psychology Department at Stanford University, and we’re recruiting participants to take part in two online studies.

Study 1 takes about 25 minutes, and you will receive a $5 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will play seven child-friendly drawing and guessing games and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit the following link on a laptop or desktop using Google Chrome or Firefox: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/RR_adults/expE.html

Study 2 takes about 20 minutes, and you will receive a $4 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will pick things that are related and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit this link: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/coglink/index_E.html

You can participate in both studies (but only once per study).

For your $4, $5, or $9 Amazon gift card: Note your Participant ID (displayed on screen at the beginning and end of the study) and email it to langcogculture@gmail.com. If you participate in both studies, please include both Participant IDs in your email. We will email you your gift card within 3 days.

Please help us spread the word by forwarding this message to any friends and family who might be interested in participating!

New Minor in American Studies

The minor in American Studies is designed to help students write and communicate more clearly, especially those students in large social science and science programs. It will also encourage students to take advantage of the one of largest and most diverse course curricula available anywhere in the world as well as learn to think deeply about issues and commitments arising from their work in their major programs in light of the specific American contexts of culture, politics, policy, forms of media, and so on.

A minor in American Studies will culminate with a "capstone" project to be completed in a seminar course taught by AS affiliated faculty, where students will research and write (and in some cases, web publish or present in public venues) in-depth "features" aimed at communicating ideas and scholarship to a wide audience.

For more information, please visit our website and contact me if you have questions.

IRLE Student Publication Series

As part of IRLEs goal to advance the next generation of labor and employment scholars, our Student Research Brief series highlights student-led academic research conducted by UC Berkeley graduate and undergraduate students. Check out recent student research or make a submission.
