Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology: Ball State University – Priority Deadline 2/1/20

The Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology program at Ball State University (Muncie, IN) is a two-year on-campus program designed to prepare students to be competitive candidates for psychology doctoral programs and to enhance students’ research skills by offering them a wide range of research experience from assisting faculty researchers to completing their own independent research projects. The program consists of a rigorous combination of classroom and research experiences.

Our priority application deadline is February 1st, however we will continue to accept applications after this date and consider applicants as space remains. We accept approximately 12 students per year to begin the program in the Fall. All accepted students are considered for a graduate assistantship which covers most tuition/fees and provides a stipend.

More information is available at: https://www.bsu.edu/academics/collegesanddepartments/psychological-science/academic-programs/masters-clinical-psychology

InterGeneration400: Breathe. Remember. Live, 2/1/20

We are so thrilled to invite you to interGeneration400: Breathe. Remember. Live., a commemorative celebration of #BlackLives and Black history, scheduled for Saturday, February 1st, from 8 am to 6 pm in the César E. Chávez Student Center. Joining the national conversation inspired by the 400 Years of African-American History Commission Act, our event brings together kinfolk from across generations and backgrounds to discuss the legacy of American slavery, honor Black ingenuity and resilience, and celebrate our shared humanity.

A free and open-for-all affair—complete with nourishment for the body, mind, and spirit—interGeneration400 invites us all to boldly breathe, remember, and live. We hope to count on your presence to make this day a celebratory and life-affirming experience for all.

RSVP here to help us plan.

Publish Your Research in the Columbia Undergraduate Research Journal, 2/2/19

I-O Psychology Master’s Program at Texas A&M University, 2/15/20

Have you thought about the Master’s program in Industrial-Organizational (I-O) Psychology at Texas A&M University? I-O psychology is the scientific study of human behavior at work and the application of that science to the workplace challenges facing individuals, teams, and organizations.

The Master’s program in I-O psychology at Texas A&M University is a 33-credit hours, full-time, non-thesis, cohort-based (team-focused) program designed to be completed in 16 months. The curriculum balances scientific discipline with professional practice and the required industry-based internship experience gives our students a competitive advantage on the job market. Students will also learn from faculty who are engaged in the field and who also teach courses in a nationally ranked I-O psychology Ph.D. program.

We are now accepting applications for fall 2020 and February 15 is the annual deadline for admission. Applicants who wish to be considered for the Diversity Excellence Fellowship nomination must have a complete application on file by January 3rd. See the attached flyer and visit our website (tx.ag/MSIOP) to learn more about the program. Please contact Bisi Atoba at 979-458-8611 or bisi.atoba@tamu.edu for more information.

Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/21/20

What is the Fung Fellowship?
The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create innovative health and wellness solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. ➢ Healing Shame in the Inner Teenager & Actual Teenagers, 3/7-8/20

Healing Shame in the Inner Teenager—and Actual Teenagers
A Workshop for Therapists and Other Helping Professionals with Sheila Rubin, LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon, PhD, SEP
Saturday, March 7, 10am–6pm and Sunday, March 8, 10am–5:30pm
In Berkeley, off I-80
$375 full price / $350 with full payment by February 1
Special price for interns
13 CE credits available (See website for details) - CAMFT CE provider #134393

Our inner teenager lives on! Though we may develop adult bodies and think our teen years are long behind us, somewhere inside that frustrated/scared/ornery/embarrassed/desperate-to-fit-in teen is still alive, deeply influencing our thoughts, words and actions.
In this workshop, we will teach you how to help your clients reestablish a healthy relationship with their inner teen—how to both listen and talk to that sensitive, creative and essential part of us. We will teach about developing identity, boundary setting, relationship dynamics, body image, nourishment, healthy eating and healthy self-care, and understanding the shame and fear that get in the way.
In this workshop you will:
• Join and explore the world of the teen. Find out where there was squelching of identity.
• Provide an inner champion or protector to provide healthy boundaries and a kind adult influencer/role model.
• Re-enact scenes when a teenager was shamed and/or subjected to peer pressure and/or made bad decisions, and repair or replace what they wish they could have said and done.
• Explore the psychosocial development of the teen years using Erickson’s stages “Identity vs. Role Confusion” and “Intimacy vs. Isolation.”
• Use drama therapy and expressive therapy processes, including role play, enactment and working with symbols and objects, to create a new coherent narrative that transforms the shame and trauma of teen years into new awareness, resilience and creativity.
There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence. TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.CenterforHealingShame.com. For more information, call Sheila at 415-820-3974 or email Sheila@HealingShame.com. Immigrant Rising Scholarships and Fellowships Scholarships and fellowships are essential for many undocumented students to pay for higher education, especially students who do not qualify for in-state tuition and state-based financial aid. Undocumented students pursuing higher education need to know that scholarships and fellowships are available to them—regardless of their immigration status.

This year, we’ve expanded our Scholarship and Fellowship Lists with 222 BRAND-NEW scholarships and 80 fellowships. The complete list now contains 344 undergraduate and 302 graduate/post-graduate scholarships and fellowships that do not require proof of citizenship or legal permanent residency (425 are open to undocumented individuals who don't have DACA).

Don’t know where to start? Our Applying for Scholarships resource will help you get started!

Regarding APA style

The once familiar APA 6th style has been replaced, as of 2020, with a 7th edition. The new style manual includes some significant changes to formatting papers and has attempted to make language more inclusive and bias free. Among some of the new changes:

- DOIs are now formatted as URLs
- Authors no longer need to include the phrase "Retrieved from" before a URL
- The singular "they" is now endorsed by APA as a gender-neutral pronoun
- The running head on the title page no longer includes the phrase "RUNNING HEAD" and is no longer needed in student papers at all
- Use only one space after a period at the end of a sentence
- For more, see APA Guide: Summary of Changes from the University of Texas Arlington libraries

Handy cheat sheets from Purdue and Harvard have yet to catch up and are still referring to APA 6. Until they update their pages take a look at:

- Style Guidelines by Topic

The SLC Writing Program is excited to join you on your writing journey this semester. Through conversations with our peer tutors, you can embrace the season of growth by cultivating the skills to let your writing flourish. You can visit us for Appointments and Weekly Orientations as early as next week, and Drop-in services will resume Week 3, Monday, February 3rd!

In addition, we’re excited to invite you to the SLC’s first event of the year—interGeneration400: Breathe. Remember. Live.—scheduled for Saturday, February 1st, 8AM-6PM in Chávez Student Center. Inspired by the 400 Years of African-American History Commission Act, this commemoration brings together diverse communities to celebrate the legacy of Black history, ingenuity, and resilience. Rooted in honoring our collective humanity, join us for an all-day celebration to share our lived experiences, enjoy live music and good eats, and build bridges across difference.

Please spread the word with your communities and RSVP to help us plan. We hope to see you there!
