Featured Programs: Argentina, Ghana, Mexico, Thailand

Immigration & Identity: Asia in S. America

Buenos Aires, Argentina

Fall 2020

Open the door to unexplored cultural riches in Buenos Aires. Through the lens of history, see how Asian immigrant communities enriched the landscape of the region. In examining its Asian heritage, learn how ethnicities, economies, and politics have shaped Argentina’s sense of identity. Works of local artists and authors illustrate issues of immigration and globalization.

A weeklong trip to Lima, Peru, contrasts the conditions of Asian populations in South America. Discover the Argentine panoramic Iguazú Falls, a stair step curtain of water along the Brazil border.
Head to Ghana’s rural villages for an unforgettable experience in community development. Combining academics and fieldwork, you’ll build marketable skills in your field.

University of Ghana faculty and medical experts teach seminars that prepare you for community service outside the capital of Accra. In a team-learning setting, you’ll help improve access to affordable energy, provide health services, or learn about managing agricultural resources. Gain insight into Ghana’s history and people with trips to the Ashanti Nation’s Manhyia Palace or to a slave-trading fortress.
Build your leadership skills and explore social justice in the powerhouse political centers of Mexico City and Sacramento. Combining coursework and on-the-ground experience, learn how the politics and culture of Mexico inform California public policy-making.

Starting in Mexico City, take university classes as you explore Mexico’s political history. An optional internship could bring you anywhere from an NGO to Mexican Parliament. Political science majors, media mavens, and the business-minded will especially appreciate this program.
Step into the graceful society of Bangkok, with traditional values and welcoming smiles. Discover how Buddhist beliefs and Thai history affect modern-day Thailand. Courses are interdisciplinary for learners with a variety of interests like Thai politics, economics, religion, education, law, and art. An introductory Thai language and etiquette class will help you navigate your new home with confidence.

Course-related field trips and excursions will help you explore the provinces outside Bangkok.
Career Center: Achieving Your Value, 2/4/20

NEGOTIATIONS: IDENTIFYING AND ACHIEVING YOUR VALUE

Tuesday, February 4
5:00 PM - 6:30 PM
Blue Room - Career Center

Gain insights and advice from a panel of professionals on how to know your value and navigate negotiating for things that may be important to you in the workplace, such as a higher salary, promotion, or flexible work schedule. At the end of the event, you will have an opportunity to practice with participating panelists.

L&S Mentoring, 2/4 -18/20

Trying to decide on a major? Need study tips? Deciding what to do after graduation?

L&S Mentors provide one-on-one support to help you improve academic skills, identify major and career goals, or even find your place in the UC Berkeley community. These graduate students can give insight into how to communicate with GSIs and faculty and actively support all students, including first generation, underrepresented, and international students.
Not sure where to start? Try one of the L&S Mentoring Hubs:

Week to Week: Successful Time Management Skills (Feb 4)
Mobilizing Your Major: Interviews, Jobs, and Internships (Feb 11)
Considering What's Next: Is Grad School Right for Me? (Feb 18)

➢ L&S Mentoring Resources, 2/4/2020

Do you know what a smart and effective studying strategy looks like in college? Or the best way to plan a weekly schedule? Join an upcoming L&S Mentoring Hub! RSVP links are below.

L&S Mentors are current PhD students who provide a range of support services to current undergraduate students in the College of Letters and Science. Our goal is your success! Drop in and talk to an L&S Mentor about anything--choosing a major, finding that perfect internship, dealing with a heavy course load, or applying to graduate school.

Is your student group interested in hosting a special L&S Mentoring Hub created just for your group? Email us at gradmentor@berkeley.edu to set one up!

Week to Week:
Successful Time Management Skills

Tuesday, February 4, 2020
4:30 - 5:30 p.m.
Location: 370 Dwinelle

Do you wait until the last minute to do assignments? Do you get overwhelmed by school deadlines? Do you feel like you never have enough time? Learn how to plan a weekly schedule, keep track of big semester deadlines, and manage your time so you can make strides towards better work habits.

The GPP Minor introduces students to the theoretical frameworks, methods, and practical skills necessary to engage with global poverty and inequality in effective ways.

The minor requires five courses and a "Practice Experience." This experience is a central component of the minor in which students partner with domestic or international non-governmental or community organizations, government agencies, or other poverty or development programs, on various dimensions of poverty action – from food security and sustainable technologies to economic justice and grass-roots political power. The combination of the coursework for the minor and this real world experience allows students to connect theories and practices of poverty action. Funding is available to support students’ practice experiences.

The deadline to declare the minor this semester is Wednesday, March 11th. There are no prerequisites required to declare.

The Declaration Form and additional information about the minor can be found at: http://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/gppminor.

Information Sessions about the minor will be held in Blum Hall 100A/B (Ground Floor) at the following times:

- Tuesday, February 4th 12 - 1 PM
- Friday, February 7th 12 - 1 PM
- Wednesday, February 12th 5 - 6 PM
- Thursday, February 27th 1 - 2 PM
- Wednesday, March 4th 3 - 4 PM

Contact gppminor@berkeley.edu with any questions.

URAP at DJS Lab, 2/5/20 Deadline

If you are interested in gaining research experience in a lab at the intersection of organizational behavior and social psychology, please apply to the DJS Lab! Professor Drew Jacoby-Senghor’s (DJS) lab focuses on research related to intergroup interactions, social networks prejudice, behavioral ethics, and subtle forms of workplace bias. This semester, we are looking to work with students who have coding experience, ideally with proficiency (or interest) in constructing online platforms (e.g., multiple player games and websites).

Some current topics under investigation include:

- How does working in groups impact group decision-making and firm performance?
- How does prejudice shape social networks and how people form relationships with others?
- What factors (e.g., individual, group, and organizational) contribute to the development and success of diversity initiatives?
- How do people express egalitarian views? Are they effective?
- How does the relationship between gender and desires for jobs correspond with power and/or status?
- How do men and women respond differently to physical attractiveness?

If you are interested in joining the DJS Lab as an Undergraduate Research Assistant, please reach out to Derek Brown, d_brown@berkeley.edu.

The URAP’s role could include conducting literature reviews in the topic areas, help with research design, running experiments in XLab and the Haas Behavioral Lab, collecting survey data, coding and analyzing survey and experimental data, preparing archival data for analyses, and even helping to develop publishable research papers.

Required Qualifications:

We are especially interested in recruiting research assistants with coding experience (C++, Python, R).

Students must be excellent communicators, able to collaborate well with others, hard-working, organized, detail-oriented, and responsible. We are interested in recruiting diverse students of all academic backgrounds who demonstrate an interest in the subject matter.

Applications are due Wednesday February 5, project descriptions can be found here, the application can be found here, and the DJS Lab website can be found here. Below is the posting description.

Hours: 9 hours per week

Summer Opportunities Fair, 2/5/20

UC Berkeley Summer Sessions will be holding our annual Summer Opportunities Fair next Wednesday, February 5th, from 2-4pm, in Pauley Ballroom, MLK Jr. Student Union. There will be information about summer courses, Summer Minors and Certificates, study abroad, internships, jobs, volunteer and service, research opportunities, and more! Jane McAlevey Book Talk!, 2/5/20

[BOOK TALK]

WED, FEBRUARY 5, 2020
5:00-6:30 PM
BERKELEY LAW SCHOOL, ROOM 105 | 225 BANCROFT WAY

A COLLECTIVE BARGAIN: UNIONS, ORGANIZING, AND THE FIGHT FOR DEMOCRACY
JOIN US FOR A BOOK TALK WITH AUTHOR JANE MCALEVY IN CONVERSATION WITH CHINESE PROGRESSIVE ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR SHAW SAN LIU!

For decades, racism, corporate greed, and a skewed political system have been eating away at the social and political fabric of the United States. Yet as McAlevey reminds us, there is one weapon whose effectiveness has been proven repeatedly throughout U.S. history: unions.

Reviews about A Collective Bargain

"Insightful, brilliant, combined with trenchant strategic analysis: If we had more organizers like Jane McAlevey, we'd be winning." - Van Jones, CNN host & author, Beyond the Maney Truth

"Jane McAlevey has devoted her life to reigniting the destructive power of concentrated wealth and she is consumed with one over-arching question: How do we win? It's past time to listen up." - Naomi Klein, author of This Changes Everything

"A half century ago, the Koch family targeted workers' collective power with so-called 'right to work' laws. Now they and their allies have expanded their agenda to smothering democracy with largess. ... Jane McAlevey shows us how workplaces provided a laboratory for this eulogistic project of domination—and better still, she explains how finding the strategies and tactics of sexy union organizers could help save America from an ever more ruthless right." - Nancy MacLean, author of Democracy in Chains

"Jane McAlevey is a brilliant strategist, courtier organizer, and razor-sharp critic inside the labor movement. In this critical moment, when labor is reasserting McAlevey's small "if democratic spirit, and her humans, and deeply informed reporting and analysis is needed more than ever."

- Katrina vanden Heuvel, Editorial Director & Publisher, The Nation

"For anyone wanting a surge of hope in the fight for democracy, McAlevey shows us that the best place to find an America of hope, equality, and justice isn't the ballot box, but a union hall." - Raj Patel, author of Stuffed and Starved (best seller)

"Read this book! Jane McAlevey is the type of experienced organizer the current White House fears." - Benjamin Todd Jealous, Former National President and CEO of the NAACP

Engaged Scholarship & Social Justice UG Research Conference - Harvard, 2/10/20

The Engaged Scholarship & Social Justice Undergraduate Research Conference will be held on April 16th & 17th, 2020 at Harvard College, Cambridge, MA. We are accepting research proposals for the conference - please click here to submit your proposals. Proposals are due February 10, 2020. If you wish to attend the conference, and are not submitting a proposal to present, please register for the conference here.

Over the last five years, we have welcomed over 100 undergraduates from across the nation to present research that amplifies historically muted voices to address issues of equity and justice. The conference has become an opportunity for both faculty and undergraduates interested in community engaged scholarship in the academy to come together as a community of established and emerging scholars.

Summer Research Program at Harvard Business School, Deadline 2/11/20

The Program for Research in Markets and Organizations (PRIMO) is a highly selective 10-week summer residential community of undergraduates participating in research affiliated with HBS faculty. The Program seeks to create a diverse group of Fellows including but not limited to women and underrepresented minorities who are inspired by and are committed to pursuing excellence in business research. As PRIMO enters its tenth year, we are pleased to open up the program to students from any American undergraduate institution who may be considering doctoral studies.
Rising sophomores, juniors, or seniors at University of California, Berkeley who might be considering doctoral studies after graduation are encouraged to apply. PRIMO will run from 8 June - 15 August, 2020 and offers Fellows lodging, a partial board plan, and a stipend. The deadline to submit applications is Tuesday, February 11th at 12:00 pm EST.

BIO International Spring 2020 Financial Aid Application, Deadline 2/14/20

Berkeley International Office offers limited, need-based financial aid to international students who have completed at least one academic year in their current visa status. Our Spring 2020 application is open today through February 14, 2020.

BIO need-based financial aid is intended only for students in the most financial need who have experienced a significant, unexpected change in their financial situation. Awards are not intended to provide long-term support and will not cover full tuition and fees.

The following types of grants are available through BIO:

- Need-Based Grants for Tuition and Family Expenses
• Medical Fund Awards
  More information and the link to apply can be found here.

➢ I-O Psychology Master’s Program at Texas A&M University, 2/15/20

Have you thought about the Master’s program in Industrial-Organizational (I-O) Psychology at Texas A&M University? I-O psychology is the scientific study of human behavior at work and the application of that science to the workplace challenges facing individuals, teams, and organizations.

The Master’s program in I-O psychology at Texas A&M University is a 33-credit hours, full-time, non-thesis, cohort-based (team-focused) program designed to be completed in 16 months. The curriculum balances scientific discipline with professional practice and the required industry-based internship experience gives our students a competitive advantage on the job market. Students will also learn from faculty who are engaged in the field and who also teach courses in a nationally ranked I-O psychology Ph.D. program.

We are now accepting applications for fall 2020 and February 15 is the annual deadline for admission. Applicants who wish to be considered for the Diversity Excellence Fellowship nomination must have a complete application on file by January 3rd. See the attached flyer and visit our website (tx.ag/MSIOP) to learn more about the program. Please contact Bisi Atoba at 979-458-8611 or bisi.atoba@tamu.edu for more information.

➢ Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF), 2/20/20

The SURF Program is made up of five different fellowships:
- SURF L&S
- SURF Rose Hills Experience
- SURF Rose Hills Independent
- SURF Math Team Fellowship
- SURF-SMART

The SURF L&S fellowship allows UC Berkeley undergraduates in the College of Letters and Science to spend the summer doing concentrated research in preparation for a senior thesis. Fellows receive $5000. These fellowships are generously supported by a number of private donors.

The SURF Rose Hills Experience fellowship allows UC Berkeley sophomores and juniors from Southern California in certain math, science, and engineering majors (L&S, CNR, COE, C. Chem) to immerse themselves in full-time summer research supporting a research project that is designed and directed by a faculty member. Fellows receive $5000. This program is generously supported by the Rose Hills Foundation.
The SURF Rose Hills Independent fellowship is for UC Berkeley juniors in the summer before their senior year who are intending to do research projects of their own design as part of a senior thesis for a major. Students must have permanent residence in Southern California and be part of certain STEM majors. Graduating seniors are also eligible. Fellows receive $5000. This program is generously supported by the Rose Hills Foundation.

The SURF Math Team Fellowship is for a team of four UC Berkeley math majors of any year to propose a summer research project under the mentorship of a UC Berkeley math professor. Each team member will receive a $5000 fellowship, and the faculty mentor will receive $2500 in research funds.

The SURF-SMART (Student Mentoring and Research Teams) is a program that enables doctoral students to create mentored research opportunities for undergraduate students at UC Berkeley. The program provides summer funding for both graduate and undergraduate participants and opportunities to share research results on campus and at national conferences. Each SURF-SMART undergraduate fellow will receive a $5000 fellowship, and the graduate student Mentors receive a stipend from the Graduate Division.

➢ Institute of Governmental Studies Grant Opportunities, 2/20/20 Deadline

The Robert T. Matsui Center for Politics & Public Service Local Government Fellowship
The Matsui Local Government Fellowship offers students the opportunity to get firsthand municipal experience in California's political and policy making communities. Each year, students selected for this program intern in a branch of local government of the student's preference. The internship will involve full-time work during the summer. Students will receive a stipend to help with living costs and transportation. Students accepted to the Fellowship are also automatically accepted into the Spring Break program Democracy Camp. This will allow Local Government Fellows to learn more about public service opportunities and to build a cohort with other students. Participation is optional but encouraged. All students currently enrolled at UC Berkeley are encouraged to apply!

➢ Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/21/20

What is the Fung Fellowship?
The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create innovative health and wellness solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, public health principles, and emerging technology.

As a Fung Fellow you will:
• Explore the Health + Tech space
• Experience the design process from prototype to product
• Embed in communities to co-create with them
• Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field
• Selected Fung Fellows attend a 3-unit course each semester, are supported in a summer internship, and have the opportunity to apply to a second year honors program.

Required Qualifications:
• Registered student at UC Berkeley
• Rising Junior (current Sophomore standing) with a passion for health, wellness, social impact, design, and/or technology

Fung Fellowship Program: Conservation + Tech, 2/21/20 Deadline

The Fung Fellowship program is expanding and launching a brand new track for the 2020-2021 academic year: Conservation + Tech. You can now apply to the track that best aligns with their passion, interests, and desired area for impact!

What is the Fung Fellowship?
The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors from all majors to create innovative solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, area specific principles, and emerging technology.

Health + Tech
Passionate about wellbeing, health systems, and/or technology
Interested in public health challenges such as social isolation, nutrition, housing, home health and more

Conservation + Tech
Passionate about preserving our planet's biodiversity
Interested in conservation challenges that address global extinction from natural resources, to ecosystems, to species

As a Fung Fellow you will:
Explore a new interdisciplinary landscape
Experience the design process from prototype to product
Embed in communities to co-create with them
Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field
Selected Fung Fellows attend a 3-unit course each semester, are supported in a summer internship, and have the opportunity to apply to a second year honors program.

Required Qualifications:
Registered student at UC Berkeley
Rising Junior (current Sophomore standing) with a passion for health, conservation, social impact, design, and/or technology

How to Apply:
Learn more about the program at: fungfellows.berkeley.edu
Attend an upcoming Info Session: Wed. 2/5, Fri. 2/7, Tues. 2/11, and Thurs. 2/13.

Healing Shame in the Inner Teenager & Actual Teenagers, 3/7-8/20

Healing Shame in the Inner Teenager—and Actual Teenagers
A Workshop for Therapists and Other Helping Professionals with Sheila Rubin, LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon, PhD, SEP
Saturday, March 7, 10am–6pm and Sunday, March 8, 10am–5:30pm
In Berkeley, off I-80
$375 full price / $350 with full payment by February 1
Special price for interns
13 CE credits available (See website for details) - CAMFT CE provider #134393
Our inner teenager lives on! Though we may develop adult bodies and think our teen years are long behind us, somewhere inside that frustrated/scared/ornery/embarrassed/desperate-to-fit-in teen is still alive, deeply influencing our thoughts, words and actions.
In this workshop, we will teach you how to help your clients reestablish a healthy relationship with their inner teen—how to both listen and talk to that sensitive, creative and essential part of us. We will teach about developing identity, boundary setting, relationship dynamics, body image, nourishment, healthy eating and healthy self-care, and understanding the shame and fear that get in the way.

In this workshop you will:

- Join and explore the world of the teen. Find out where there was squelching of identity.
- Provide an inner champion or protector to provide healthy boundaries and a kind adult influencer/role model.
- Re-enact scenes when a teenager was shamed and/or subjected to peer pressure and/or made bad decisions, and repair or replace what they wish they could have said and done.
- Explore the psychosocial development of the teen years using Erickson’s stages “Identity vs. Role Confusion” and “Intimacy vs. Isolation.”
- Use drama therapy and expressive therapy processes, including role play, enactment and working with symbols and objects, to create a new coherent narrative that transforms the shame and trauma of teen years into new awareness, resilience and creativity.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at www.CenterforHealingShame.com.

➢ Teach for Splash at Berkeley!, 3/8/20

Instill your passion about any subject to high schoolers around the Bay Area! Splash a student organization that brings over 400 high school students to Berkeley’s campus for a day of unlimited learning through classes taught by Berkeley students (YOU)! This year, Splash will be on Sunday, March 8th.

Splash is a low-commitment, high impact educational outreach opportunity that also gives you agency on your course. You choose the topic, how many students can enroll in your class, and how many sessions you teach throughout the day. If you would like to teach with others, you can also have co-facilitator(s) in a course.

Also, all teachers get a free t-shirt and lunch!

If you or your friend(s) are interested in teaching a course to high school students, sign up to register as a teacher here.

The tentative deadline to sign up to teach a class is February 11th! The day of Splash is March 8th.

Don’t know what exactly to teach? Know what you want to teach but want some feedback? This year, we are also hosting two optional teacher training sessions for those who are interested on Saturday, February 8th and Saturday from 2-3pm, February 22nd from 2-3:30pm. You can RSVP here at bit.ly/SPLASHTACHERWS.
Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 3, 2020

Anne H. Scott Memorial Undergraduate Scholarship in Chinese Studies, 3/29/20

The Anne H. Scott Memorial Undergraduate Scholarship in Chinese Studies is funded through the Anne H. Scott Endowment in Chinese Studies at IEAS, a gift of Hugh A. Scott in memory of his late wife, Anne H. Scott (née Anne Hanrahan), and her dedication to Chinese historical studies. The Scholarship supports an undergraduate student emphasizing Chinese studies at UC Berkeley. It is intended to assist students who have studied the Chinese language and who wish to use their language training to study Chinese history or culture, or to translate historical texts. This year one award of $2,500 is available.

Deadline: Wednesday, April 1, 2020, 5:00 p.m.

Regarding APA style

The once familiar APA 6th style has been replaced, as of 2020, with a 7th edition. The new style manual includes some significant changes to formatting papers and has attempted to make language more inclusive and bias free. Among some of the new changes:

- DOIs are now formatted as URLs
- Authors no longer need to include the phrase "Retrieved from" before a URL
- The singular "they" is now endorsed by APA as a gender-neutral pronoun
- The running head on the title page no longer includes the phrase "RUNNING HEAD" and is no longer needed in student papers at all
- Use only one space after a period at the end of a sentence
- For more, see APA Guide: Summary of Changes from the University of Texas Arlington libraries

Handy cheat sheets from Purdue and Harvard have yet to catch up and are still referring to APA 6. Until they update their pages take a look at:

- Style Guidelines by Topic
Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 3, 2020

- APA Manual 7th Edition: 17 Most Notable Changes [via Scribbr video on YouTube]

➢ UC Irvine Post-Bacc Program in Psychological Science

The Department of Psychological Science at the University of California, Irvine is currently accepting applications for their post-baccalaureate program; the deadline to apply for Fall 2020 is May 22, 2020.

Program Overview: UCI’s Post-Baccalaureate Program in Psychological Science is a certificate program that combines psychology coursework with research and/or internship experience. It is designed for people who have a bachelor’s degree (in any discipline); who are interested in a psychology-related graduate program, career development, or career change; and who could benefit from additional coursework, research and/or real-life work experience in psychology. Those interested in doctoral-level or master’s degree programs in a range of areas of psychology (including clinical/counseling psychology, social/personality psychology, developmental psychology, health psychology, psychology & the law, and school psychology) or health (e.g., public health, medical school) can strengthen their graduate school applications by completing our program, which offers an individualized course of study based on each person’s qualifications and goals.

Program Description: The program consists of a eight courses, which may include lower- and upper-division lectures, small seminars (including advanced statistics and research methods courses), hands-on research lab courses, and/or hands-on internship courses. The program can be completed at the student’s own pace, in as little as 9 months or in as many as 24 months, depending upon one’s schedule and preferences. A faculty advisor will work closely with students to help plan courses and provide guidance on obtaining letters of recommendation, choosing graduate programs, writing personal statements, and applying for jobs. In addition, students will have the opportunity to attend our weekly departmental colloquia and other special events and to interact with our community of faculty, researchers, and graduate students.
Applications: Applications are due on May 22, 2020 for Fall 2020 admission. For more information, please visit: https://ps.soecce.uci.edu/post-bacc-page/post-baccalaureate-program-psychological-science

Information Session: We will be holding an information session on Friday, February 21st at 11am in Social Ecology I (SE-I) Room 112 on the UC Irvine campus (http://uci.edu/visit/maps.php). All are welcome!
