Labor Regimes of Indenture: A Global Overview of Migrant Domestic Work
Wednesday, Feb 6, 2019, 12-1:30pm
Location: 554 Barrows Hall, UC Berkeley

A Talk by Prof. Rhacel Parreñas, Sociology and Gender & Sexuality Studies, USC

In Conversation with Prof. Christian Paiz, Ethnic Studies, UC Berkeley

Across the globe, migrant domestic workers are unfree workers whose legal residency is contingent on their continued employment as a live-in worker with a designated sponsor. This talk examines the politics of their indenture. Providing a macro and micro perspective, it begins with a global overview of the incorporation of migrant domestic workers as indentured workers in key host countries in the Americas, Asia, Europe and the Middle East, explains the cultural logic that undergirds their indenture, and then describes the conditions of domestic work in the ‘worst destination’ of the United Arab Emirates, where absconding is illegal and quitting one’s job requires a sponsor’s permission. This talk foregrounds the indenture of domestic workers so as to interrogate dominant paradigms for thinking about contemporary unfreedoms; from human trafficking to slavery, identifies them to primarily follow Kantian and Marxian notions of unfreedom; and then addresses the limits of these liberal theories of unfreedom in explaining the indenture of domestic workers in the UAE.

UC Berkeley Labor Center Information Session: Labor and Climate Policy

Friday, February 15, 2019, 12-2pm

Location: Goldman School of Public Policy, Room 250 GSPP West (1893 LeRoy Ave)

Co-Sponsored by: UC Berkeley Labor Center, Goldman School of Public Policy, Labor Policy Group, and Environmental Policy Group

Come learn about the climate policy work that the UC Berkeley Labor Center and their labor and community partners are working on. This session will host a panel of leaders from institutions like SEIU, Blue Green Alliance, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) to talk about the connection between climate change and its impact on workers and the industries they work in. Participants will learn about how unions and environmental justice groups can work together to ensure that public policy advances equity in California climate policy. Lunch will be provided.

This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP through Eventbrite or Facebook.

Film Screening: City Rising

Wednesday, Feb 20, 2019, 12-1:30pm

Location: UC Berkeley Labor Center, 2521 Channing Way, Berkeley

Join us for part 1 of a 2-part documentary, City Rising, which examines gentrification--its historical roots, economic role and social consequences. This documentary highlights individuals facing discrimination but fighting to change policy and improve upward mobility for their communities. Refreshments will be provided. Space is ADA accessible.

This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP through Eventbrite or Facebook.

Film Screening: City Rising: The Informal Economy

Wednesday, Feb 27, 2019, 12-1:30pm

Location: UC Berkeley Labor Center, 2521 Channing Way, Berkeley

Co-sponsored by: UC Berkeley Labor Center and Center on Wage and Employment Dynamics (CWED)

Join us for part 2 of a 2-part documentary, City Rising: The Informal Economy, which follows four California workers organizing to find pathways for legalization and protection. The documentary follows the lives of a street vendor in Boyle Heights, a truck driver in Long Beach,

Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 18, 2019

a farm-working family in Coachella and an organizer in Oakland fighting for jobs for formerly incarcerated people. Featured in the film, Sylvia Allegretto from CWED will join us in discussion after the screening. Refreshments will be provided. Space is ADA accessible. This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP through Eventbrite or Facebook.

Art for Social Change x UCB Labor Center – Screen Printing Workshops

Wednesday, Feb 27 2019, 6:30-7:30pm; Additional studio hours: March 13; March27; April 3; April 10; April 17; April 24

Location: Multicultural Community Center, Martin Luther King Jr. Student Union
2495 Bancroft Way, Suite #220

Co-sponsored by: Art for Social Change and UC Berkeley Labor Center

Are you interested in making art, social justice and civic engagement? Join us on February 27th, 2019, to learn about activism through screen printing and how to screen print! If you'd like to participate, you must attend the first meeting; the subsequent meetings are optional open studio days. There will also be an opportunity to present your artwork in an exhibition at the UC Berkeley Labor Center. No experience necessary.

Book Talk: From Coors to California: David Sickler and the New Working Class

Tursday, Feb 28, 2019, 5:00-7pm

Location: UC Berkeley Labor Center, 2521 Channing Way, Berkeley

Sponsored by: UC Berkeley Labor Center

Join us for a conversation with David Sickler, one of the most creative and successful union organizers in the country. Starting out working on an assembly line in Colorado's Coors Brewery, Sickler went on to lead breakthrough campaigns that transformed the US labor movement and to become an influential labor advocate within Los Angeles City Hall.

This book captures some of Sickler's historic campaign victories, from his leadership of the national Coors Boycott to unprecedented organizing drives with immigrant workers, often in direct challenge to the leadership of US labor. The revitalization of the California labor movement is integrally linked to this new wave of immigrant workers, and it was Sickler who built the foundation for organizing the new working class.

This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP through Eventbrite or Facebook.

Book Talk: Dockworker Power: Race and Activism in Durban and the San Francisco Bay Area

Tuesday, March 12, 2019, 4 - 5:30 pm

Location: Dwinelle Hall, Rm. 370

Co-Sponsored by: American Cultures Center, History Department, Ethnic Studies Library, Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholarships, Institute for Research on Labor & Employment, Center for Labor Research & Education, and Geography Department

Dr. Peter Cole discusses his highly anticipated book - Dockworker Power. Often missed in commentary on today's globalizing economy, workers in the world's ports can harness their role, at a strategic choke point, to promote their labor rights and social justice causes. Peter Cole brings such overlooked experiences to light in an eye-opening comparative study of Durban, South Africa, and the San Francisco Bay Area, California. Pathbreaking research reveals how unions effected lasting change in some of the most far-reaching struggles of modern times. First, dockworkers in each city drew on longstanding radical traditions to promote racial equality. Second, they persevered when a new technology--container ships--sent a shockwave of layoffs through the industry. Finally, their commitment to black internationalism and leftist politics sparked transnational work stoppages to protest apartheid and authoritarianism. Dockworker Power brings to light surprising parallels in the experiences of dockers half a world away from each other. It also offers a new perspective on how workers can change their conditions and world. Peter Cole is a professor of history at Western Illinois University and a Research Associate in the Society, Work and Development Institute (SWOP), University of the Witwatersrand. He is the author of Wobblies on the Waterfront: Interracial Unionism in Progressive-Era Philadelphia.

Latinx Labor in California

Monday, April 1, 2019, 12-1pm

Location: Latinx Research Center, 2547 Channing Way, Berkeley

Co-sponsored by: Latinx Research Center and UC Berkeley Labor Center

Professor Lilia Soto, a visiting post-doctoral fellow from University of Wyoming is going to be presenting new research on gender and Napa Valley labor and Ivon Padilla-Rodriguez, a visiting dissertation research fellow at the Latinx Research Center, and a history doctoral student at Columbia University researching invisible child labor in the 1930s-60s. Professor Soto's first book, released earlier this fall, focused on the effects of migration from Mexico to California on young girls.

Book Talk: Blue and Green: The Drive for Justice at America's Port with Scott Cummings

Thursday, April 25, 2019, 5:30-7pm

Location: UC Berkeley Labor Center, 2521 Channing Way, Berkeley

Sponsored by: UC Berkeley Labor Center

In his book Blue and Green, Scott Cummings examines a campaign by the labor and environmental movements to transform trucking at America's largest port in Los Angeles. Tracing the history of struggle in an industry at the epicenter of the global supply chain, Cummings shows how an unprecedented "blue-green" alliance mobilized to improve working conditions for low-income drivers and air quality in nearby communities. The campaign for "clean trucks," Cummings argues, teaches much about how social movements can use law to challenge inequality in a global era.

This event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP through Eventbrite or Facebook.

Event: Art for Social Change x UCB Labor Center - May Day Art Exhibition & Reception

May 2019: Date and time TBD

Location: UC Berkeley Labor Center, 2521 Channing Way, Berkeley

Still looking for research opportunities this semester? Some URAP projects are still open. Act soon - the extended deadline is this Wednesday, Feb. 6, at noon!

If you have any questions about the program or the application process, please contact Stefanie Ebeling at urap@berkeley.edu.

Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship

The UC Berkeley Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship (MMUF) program is accepting applications to fill its 2019 cohort of Fellows. The MMUF program at UC Berkeley is comprised of a set of pre-doctoral experiences that targets students with exceptional academic promise and potential to become university faculty whose work and perspective will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in the academy. MMUF Fellows gain an understanding of what a productive life in academia entails and are exposed to various aspects of academic life that most other undergraduates just do not get to experience.

The UC Berkeley program is currently accepting applications from students in the humanities and the humanistic social sciences to help fill our five open slots for our Fall 2019 cohort. As an undergraduate Mellon Fellow, benefits include academic year stipends of $3,600, two summer stipends of $3,900, travel and research grants, GRE preparation assistance, and up to $10,000 of undergraduate loan repayment

If interested in applying, please note that the application deadline for all materials is February 22, 2019. Please find the attached brochure and visit our MMUF website, <http://mellonmays.berkeley.edu/> to get more details about our program. You can also apply to our program by going to the application directly at: <https://goo.gl/forms/MaDnai9RJ21UA6o2>.

If you would like to know more about the program before applying, please join us at our MMUF Infosession taking place at 4 PM on Thursday, February 14, 2019 in Room 9 of Durant Hall. Here is the RSVP link for the infosession: RSVP.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to email us or to come by the Mellon Mays Office at UC Berkeley located at 2413 Dwinelle Hall.

Judith Lee Stronach Baccalaureate Prize

Are you are graduating senior with an idea for a social engagement project for next year? The Judith Lee Stronach Baccalaureate Prize provides up to $25,000 in funding to support service, creative, or community based research projects that seek to make a contribution to the public good. Applications are due March 1.

Upcoming Info Sessions: Thursday, February 7, 2019, 5-6pm, & Wednesday, February 13, 2019, 10-11am.

Please see <http://stronach.berkeley.edu/> for more information or to sign up for an advising appointment.

Banner Research Programs – ASU

The Biodesign Institute at Arizona State University (ASU) in partnership with Banner Research are delighted to announce that the Banner-ASU Neuroscience Scholars program application is open. The Banner-ASU Neuroscience Scholars is a paid, eight-week summer training program open to top-achieving college undergraduate and graduate science students. Scholars work full-time on a research project under the mentorship of a Banner Research or ASU-Biodesign scientist to unlock medical and scientific mysteries in the areas of Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease and other neurodegenerative diseases, in a lab setting in the Greater Phoenix metropolitan area.

Applications and recommendation letters are due by March 1, 2019. Please click here to learn more about the program.

➤ Student Tech Fund Fast Track Project Proposals, 2/18/19

The Student Technology Fund (STF) proposal submission process is now open for the Spring 2019 Fast Track Project cycle. The deadline to submit project proposals is Monday, February 18, 2019.

ELIGIBILITY

Any student, staff or faculty member of the University of California, Berkeley is eligible to submit a proposal for consideration by the Student Technology Fund committee. Individual students must obtain a fiscal sponsor to administer awarded funds, such as a registered student group, ASUC, Graduate Assembly, academic department, or other functional unit.

ALLOWABLE COSTS

This fee, assessed at $51 per semester for seven years, provides funding to secure volume software licensing for students (e.g. Microsoft Office, Adobe Creative Cloud, Matlab, Lynda.com). It also provides funding to support additional student technology services and initiatives. Fee funds are prohibited from subsidizing core information technology infrastructure, and intellectual property developed as a result of STF support is owned by the University. Funding categories include:

- Applications and Software Development
- Commercial Software Licensing
- Hardware and Technology Equipment Acquisition
- Investigative and Planning Projects
- Technology Events
- Training, Support, and Access to Technology Programs

APPLICATION AND REVIEW PROCESS

- Before submitting a proposal abstract, please review the funding guidelines.
- Proposals are due February 18, 2019 via online application, which will then be reviewed by the Student Technology Fund Committee.
- Proposals will be reviewed in March and April, with the intent of announcing decisions in May and allocating funds in June 2019.

For questions and additional information, visit the Student Tech Fund website or email techfund@berkeley.edu.

➤ UCDC: Spend a semester in Washington, D.C., 2/21/19

Whether you're studying politics and government, art history, public health, economics, legal studies, etc., UCDC is an amazing chance for Berkeley students to gain invaluable experience in the professional world.

Each fall and spring semester, UCDC sends ~30 Berkeley students to live, learn, and intern in Washington D.C. alongside students from across the UC system. Berkeley students take on prestigious internships with a variety of organizations, businesses, museums, government agencies and take 2 classes for UC Berkeley approved academic credit.

Recent participants have said: "UCDC was a transformative experience," and "UCDC was my best semester at Berkeley!"

Applications for the Fall 2019 cohort are due on Thursday, February 21st at 4PM. Applications must be submitted both online and in person at 2422 Dwinelle Hall.

Upcoming INFORMATION SESSIONS (9 Durant Hall)

➤ Global Poverty & Practice Minor Info Sessions, 2/28/19

The GPP Minor introduces students to the theoretical frameworks, methods, and practical skills necessary to engage with global poverty and inequality in effective ways.

The minor requires five courses and a "Practice Experience." This experience is a central component of the minor in which students partner with domestic or international non-governmental or community organizations, government agencies, or other poverty or development programs, on various dimensions of poverty action – from food security and sustainable technologies to economic justice and grass-roots political power. The combination of the coursework for the minor and this real world experience allows students to connect theories and practices of poverty action. Funding is available to support students' practice experiences.

The deadline to declare the minor this semester is Wednesday, March 6th. There are no prerequisites required to declare.

The Declaration Form and additional information about the minor can be found at: <http://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/gppminor>.

Information Sessions about the minor will be held in Blum Hall 100A/B \(Ground Floor\) at the following times:

Friday, January 25th, 12 - 1 PM
Tuesday, January 29th, 5 - 6 PM
Monday, February 4th, 11 - 12 PM
Wednesday, February 13th 1 - 2 PM
Friday, February 22nd, 1 - 2 PM
Thursday, February 28th, 5 - 6 PM

Contact gppminor@berkeley.edu with any questions.

➤ 2019 American Cultures Student Prize, 3/15/19

The American Cultures (AC) Center is now accepting submissions and inviting nominations for the 2019 American Cultures Student Prize. This prize is open to current UC Berkeley undergraduates who have completed or are completing a final project as part of their lower- or upper-division American Cultures course.

Recipients will receive a $1,000 prize, publication on the AC Center's E-Scholarship website, and be honored at a public ceremony on Wednesday, May 8. Application information is available on the AC Center website.

We encourage faculty members to recommend students for the Student Prize if you have recently taught a student in your AC course, whose paper, poetry, short story, or any creative work reflects an exemplary understanding of race, culture, ethnicity, and the diversity of the American experience.

Inquiries about the AC Student Prize can be sent to americancultures@berkeley.edu.

Submissions will be accepted until Friday, March 15, 2019.

➤ Florida State Law's Summer for Undergraduates Program, 4/1/19

We are currently accepting applications for this year's ABA award-winning four-week summer law program that provides students with an in-depth look at law school and the legal profession. Sixty students from across the country will be invited to participate in our 2019 program which will take place at the FSU College of Law in Tallahassee from June 12-July 10th.

The application deadline is April 1st; however, we encourage students to apply early as we are admitting on a rolling basis beginning next month.

Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 18, 2019

➤ The Green Initiative Fund (TGIF) Now Accepting Proposals, 4/5/19

THE GREEN INITIATIVE FUND (TGIF)

- Students, faculty members, and/or staff members of the University of California, Berkeley are encouraged to submit a proposal for consideration by The Green Initiative Fund (TGIF) Committee. TGIF funds projects that focus on environmental sustainability and environmental justice. Along with a grant application, individuals or groups of applicants must submit necessary project approvals and estimated metrics for their proposed project's sustainability impact on campus. TGIF hosts a fall mini-grant cycle for projects up to $5,000 and a larger spring grant cycle for projects $5,000 or above. The spring grant cycle has an optional early abstract deadline to receive feedback on your project idea, then a required final abstract deadline, upon which TGIF's Committee will invite applicants to submit a final application for review. Check out our Facebook page for more updates on TGIF grant-writing workshops and informational sessions that will help you develop your ideas into strong grant proposals!
- Spring Grant Deadlines:
 - Early Abstracts: Friday, February 1st, 2019 by 5PM
 - Final Abstracts: Friday, March 1st, 2019 by 5PM
 - Final Applications: Friday, April 5th, 2019 by 5PM (Note: by invitation only)

➤ GGSC Research Fellowship, 4/5/19

Got students looking for research funding? The 2019-2020 Greater Good Science Center Research Fellowship application window OPENS Monday Feb 11! This program offers support for studies that examine how well-being relates to social relationships and pro-social states and behaviors at individual, social, or organizational/societal levels. Supporting UCB student research is core to the GGSC's mission, so please encourage your students to apply, and share this announcement widely!

GREATER GOOD SCIENCE CENTER CALL FOR RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP APPLICATIONS

We welcome researchers from a broad spectrum of academic disciplines at UC Berkeley, with an emphasis on the social-behavioral sciences

The Greater Good Science Center (GGSC) at UC Berkeley announces new 1 year fellowship opportunities for UC Berkeley undergraduate and graduate students whose work relates to our mission: championing research into how social connection, kindness, belonging, and community support the happy, meaningful lives of individuals and society.

Based at UC Berkeley and led by social psychology professor Dacher Keltner, the GGSC is unique in its commitment to both science and practice: not only do we sponsor groundbreaking scientific research into social and emotional well-being, we help people apply insights from research to their personal and professional lives.

Previous GGSC fellows have secured top positions at universities nationwide, providing a significant boost to the science of a meaningful life, including topics like: awe, compassion, resilience, reconciliation, altruism, and happiness. Check out this recent article from GGSC fellow Jia Wei Zheng, which describes his studies showing that self-compassion promotes personal improvement.

Timeline:

- Application Window: Feb. 11 – April 5, 2019
- Winners Announced: May 10, 2019
- Funding Window: September 1, 2019 - August 31, 2020

Funding:

- Two fellowships will be awarded to undergraduates: One GGSC Fellowship (up to $2,500), One Goldberg Fellowship (up to $5,000)
- Four fellowships will be awarded to graduate students: Three GGSC Fellowships (up to $10,000), One Hornaday Fellowship (up to $15,000)

GGSC research fellows have come from departments of psychology, integrative biology, sociology, neuroscience, urban studies, and other departments; the school of public health, education, social welfare, and Haas business; and the UC Berkeley-UCSF Joint Medical Program. Students can apply using our online application starting Feb 11, 2019. The application deadline is Friday, April 5, 2019.

Applicants may contact GGSC science director Emiliana Simon-Thomas for more information at ggscfellowships@berkeley.edu. More information about the GGSC can be found at <http://greatergood.berkeley.edu/about>

➤ Techniques of Memory: Landscape, Iconoclasm, Medium, and Power, 4/17-18/19

The Global Urban Humanities Initiative at UC Berkeley is pleased to announce its upcoming symposium Techniques of Memory: Landscape, Iconoclasm, Medium and Power from April 17-18, 2019 at the David Brower Center located in downtown Berkeley. Our symposium will bring scholars, practitioners, artists and activists from around the world to consider old and new techniques of building urban memory. Monuments are one way that cities embody memory, the symposium invites research, as well as current and past projects that redefine and recontextualize the monument and other media of urban memory in varying disciplines and periods.

We invite you to this exciting two-day conference and hope you will be able to attend. We have invited six exciting keynote speakers presenting and sitting as commentators for our panelists. These speakers are Austin Allen (DesignJonesLLC, Louisiana State University), Jason Berry (investigative reporter and author based in New Orleans), Irene Cheng (California College of the Arts), Hans van Houwelingen (artist based in Amsterdam), Lauren Kroiz (UC Berkeley), and Marita Sturken (NYU). They will be speaking on a wide range of memory techniques that connect to our four themed panels: Landscape, Iconoclasm, Medium and Power. The four panels will consist of a total of 12 juried papers presented throughout the two days. The event is free and open to the public, and we encourage you to invite your interested colleagues as well.

For more information about the conference, please visit the Techniques of Memory page. You can register on the page and view the full schedule and speaker bios. The symposium is expected to sell out and advance registration is required.

➤ Summer Institute in Political Psychology (SIPP) 2019, 8/4-24/19

THE 2019 SUMMER INSTITUTE IN POLITICAL PSYCHOLOGY
at Stanford University from August 4 – August 24, 2019

Applications are being accepted now for the 23rd Annual Summer Institute in Political Psychology, to be held at Stanford University August 4-24, 2019.

The Summer Institute offers 3 weeks of intensive training in political psychology. Political psychology is an exciting and thriving field that explores the origins of political behavior and the causes of political events, with a special focus on the psychological mechanisms at work.

Research findings in political psychology advance basic theories of politics and are an important basis for political decision-making in practice.

SIPP was founded in 1991 at Ohio State University, and Stanford has hosted SIPP since 2005, with support from Stanford University and from the National Science Foundation[AS1]. Hundreds of participants have attended SIPP during these years.

The 2019 SIPP curriculum is designed to (1) provide broad exposure to theories, empirical findings, and research traditions; (2) illustrate successful cross-disciplinary research and integration; (3) enhance methodological pluralism; and (4) strengthen networks among scholars from around the world.

SIPP activities will include lectures by world class faculty, discussion groups, research/interest group meetings, group projects, and an array of social activities.

Some of the topics covered in past SIPP programs include public attitudes and attitude change, race relations, conflict and dispute resolution, voting and elections, international conflict, decision-making, moral disengagement and violence, social networks, activism and social protest, political socialization, justice, and many more.

In 2019, SIPP will accept up to 60 participants, including graduate students, faculty, professionals, and advanced undergraduates. Please visit our website for more information and to find the application to attend: <https://web.stanford.edu/group/sipp/cgi-bin/sipp/>. Applicants are accepted on a rolling basis until all slots are filled, so applying soon maximizes chances of acceptance. Any questions should be directed to: 2019SIPP@gmail.com.

➤ Prison University Project—Donations of Psych 1 textbooks

The Prison University Project at San Quentin is currently seeking donations of Psych 1 textbooks!

"The mission of the Prison University Project is to provide excellent higher education to people at San Quentin State Prison; to support increased access to higher education for incarcerated people; and to stimulate public awareness about higher education access and criminal justice."

If you have a current copy of the Psych 1 textbook, Introduction to Psychology \(11th edition\), by James W. Kalat, and you would like to donate it for use in this semester's PSYCH 221 Introduction to Psychology at San Quentin Prison, please email Mariel Goddu at goddu@berkeley.edu and use the subject line "Textbook Donation."

The current textbooks in the prison library are the 6th edition (!), from 2003. The instructors have informed the prison that this is unacceptable, as no college course in Psychology would use a textbook so terribly outdated. However, The Prison University Project does not have enough funding to purchase new textbooks at this time. Donating your textbook would help ensure that each one of our 25 students will have an up-to-date reference throughout the course.

Thank you for helping us in our mission to provide high-quality undergraduate level education in Psychology to incarcerated persons at San Quentin!
