2021 Dream Summer Fellowship, February 19

Dream Summer is an annual fellowship of the UCLA Labor Center’s Dream Resource Center (DRC) that empowers immigrant youth and allies to be the next generation of social justice leaders through leadership and professional development, movement building, and on-the-ground experience in social justice organizations. During the summer, fellows are placed within social justice-based host organizations and work closely with their host organization to incorporate and strengthen the role of immigrant rights issues alongside the organization’s social justice work.

Dream Summer 2021 is open to both experienced social justice leaders and those who wish to begin or strengthen their involvement in social justice. Dream Summer fellows receive a $5,000 fellowship award, leadership and professional development training, and become part of a national alumni network of over 750 immigrant rights leaders.

Dream Summer will happen virtually in 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Staff will notify participants immediately of any changes.

The deadline for fellows to apply is February 19, 2021 at 12 PM PST.

Firebaugh Scholars Application, March 19
The Marco Antonio Firebaugh Scholars Program is a collaboration of the Office for Graduate Diversity, Graduate Division, Graduate School of Education, the Chancellors Advisory Committee on Student Services and Fees, and faculty mentors from disciplines across the Berkeley campus. Firebaugh Scholars receive funding and academic support to design and complete an independent faculty-sponsored research projects over the course of one academic year; we also prepare scholars to apply to graduate school and post-baccalaureate opportunities in hopes of continuing the diversity the faculty and researchers of colleges and universities across the United States.

Apply to join the 2021-2022 cohort!
Application Deadline: March 19, 2021

Eligibility: Firebaugh Scholars must…
- Plan to graduate in May 2022 or later
- Be undocumented/AB540/DACAmented, formerly incarcerated, and/or system-impacted scholars
- Demonstrate interest in research and pursuing graduate school
- Provide a complete application, including a brief research proposal and two letters of recommendation (1 letter may come from a community college professor)
- Be enrolled at UC Berkeley and available to take a 1-unit P/NP research seminar in Fall 2021 and Spring 2022.

For more info & application: http://tinyurl.com/FirebaughAppGuide
Undocu-Wellness in Action is an 8 week psycho-educational, skill building group for undocu-students experiencing mild to moderate anxiety, depression, or stress.

- Learn strategies for personal awareness, develop coping tools for status-related issues, and incorporate wellness techniques to shift from surviving to thriving.

- Meet other folks who experience similar challenges and barriers.

- Topics include: self-care, the body's response to trauma, thinking patterns and mood, mindfulness, and social support.

Tuesdays 4:30-6 PM starting February 2021

PJ DiPietro works at the intersection of decolonial feminisms, women of color thinking, Latinx studies, and trans* studies. They are Assistant Professor and graduate studies director in the Department of Women’s and Gender Studies at Syracuse University, New York. With a transdisciplinary approach, they engage anthropology, human geography, and philosophy. They are co-editor of Speaking Face to Face: The Visionary Philosophy of María Lugones (2019) and their single-author manuscript will be published under the title “Sideways Selves, The Decolonizing Politics of Trans* Matter Across the Americas.” They collaborate with various organizations committed to social justice, including the Democratizing Knowledge Collective, the Association for Jotería Arts, Activism, and Scholarship (AJAAS), the decolonial philosophy collaborative REC-Latinamérica, and the travesti collectives Damas de Hierro and Futuro TransGenerico.

Marina Ortega works on Latinx feminisms, phenomenology, critical philosophy of race, and aesthetics. She is the author of In-Between: Latina Feminist Phenomenology, Multiplicity, and the Self (2018). She is co-editor with Andrea Pitts and José Medina of Theories of the Flesh: Latinx and Latin American Feminisms: Transformation and Resistance (2020); and co-editor with Linda Martín-Alcoff of Constructing the Nation: A Race and Nationalism Reader (2008). She is the founder and director of the Latinx Feminisms Roundtable.

Chela Sandoval is Professor at the University of California, Santa Barbara. She teaches courses on indigenous texts, de-colonial feminism, liberation philosophy, and semiotics. Her book Methodology of the Oppressed (2000) is one of the most influential theoretical texts worldwide. Her co-edited anthologies include Performing the US Latina and Latino Borderlands (2012) and The Chicana Studies Reader (2020). Sandoval’s current book project is on “Story-World(s): Art-Performance-as-Activism (SWAPA) and the Shaman-Nahuatl/Witness Ceremony.”

Gabriela Veronelli is affiliated with the Instituto de Altos Estudios Sociales at Universidad Nacional de San Martín (Argentina). She is Visiting Researcher at the Center for Global Studies and the Humanities at Duke University. Her research explores the relationship between language and power in colonial situations from a decolonial lens that advocates the radically different perspective of colonized traditions regarding language, understanding, expressivity, and meaning-making at the point of colonial encounter. Her work has been published in Hypatia: A Journal of Feminist Philosophy, Polifonia, Wagadu: Journal of Translation, Women and Gender Studies, among others.

Film Screening: Reimagining the City as Our Own, 2/18

[2/18, 6 pm PT] Film Screening: Reimagining the City as Our Own: Towards an Architecture of Inclusion

A Skywatchers video in collaboration with Irene Gustafson

You are invited to attend a screening of the Skywatcher's original documentary film, reimagining the city as our own (trailer: https://vimeo.com/448166814).

Skywatchers is a multidisciplinary community-based arts project that centers the urgent concerns of formerly unhoused residents of San Francisco’s Tenderloin district. We have the honor of being joined by Skywatchers ensemble members for a post-film conversation with professors Dr. Carolina Reid, Associate Professor in the Department of City and Regional Planning and the Faculty Research Advisor for the Terner Center for Housing Innovation, and Dr. Coco Auerswald, Associate Professor in the School of Public Health and co-founder/co-director of i4Y (Innovations for Youth) and the faculty lead for the Ending Youth Homelessness Catalyst Group. Look forward to a lively discussion highlighting the intersections of art, public health, and the design of public space.

Fung Fellowship Applications Open, 2/19

The Fung Fellowship is a unique opportunity for rising juniors to create impact-driven solutions to address real-world challenges alongside our community and industry partners. Through 3-unit semesterly courses, Fung Fellows utilize the iterative human-centered design process, interdisciplinary tactics, and emerging technology in both of our offered tracks: Conservation + Tech and Health + Tech.

https://fungfellows.berkeley.edu/

Please note that the Fung Fellowship accepts all majors into this program and that there is no GPA bracket, as applications will be reviewed holistically.

As a Fung Fellow you will:

- Explore innovation and technology in your chosen track sector
- Experience the design process from prototype to product
- Embed in communities to co-create with them
- Establish yourself as a young leader in an emerging field

What your first year might look like:
Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 15, 2021

- Engage in foundational experiences such as weekly lectures and hands-on lab sections, fall bootcamp, spring retreat, and interdisciplinary team projects
- Access to exploratory opportunities such as conferences, company site visits, networking events, workshops, hackathons, and career services

Interested? Have questions?
- Meet us online at either of our virtual infosessions to learn more about the program and application process. To receive reminders about the infosession, sign up for updates.
- Mark your calendar for:
  - Thursday, February 4 from 4-5pm PST
  - Friday, February 5 from 12-1pm PST

Information to Apply:
- Learn more about the program at: http://fungfellows.berkeley.edu
- Attend our virtual infosessions on February 4-5! RSVP form coming soon!

Serve on Committee on Student Conduct, 2/19

The University of California Berkeley’s Committee on Student Conduct is composed of UC Berkeley students, faculty, and staff who serve on hearing panels to review cases of alleged student academic, behavioral, and organizational misconduct. Student members of the Committee, along with their staff and faculty counterparts, are trained to interpret the Code of Student Conduct, and play a vital role in fostering development and growth among their peers. At a hearing, members of the Committee on Student Conduct will determine whether a policy violation occurred and recommend appropriate sanctions. Committee members are responsible for ensuring that responding students receive a fair and impartial hearing while also ensuring that UC Berkeley remains a safe campus community.

At each hearing, committee members are asked to evaluate each unique set of circumstances, review evidence, and ask thoughtful questions of a responding student, University representative, and witnesses.

For more info, contact Erin Slater-Wu, Independent Hearing Officer, at sa_iho@berkeley.edu.

Berkeley Scientific Journal Call For Submissions, 2/21

Submit your Research Paper to the Berkeley Scientific Journal!

Interested in publishing your independent undergraduate research? The Berkeley Scientific Journal offers you the opportunity to have your paper peer-reviewed and published in a journal as an undergraduate, which can make a big difference in your scientific career. The final deadline to submit your paper is February 21st at 11:59 pm. Please find the submissions guidelines at: https://bsj.berkeley.edu/submissions/undergraduate-research-submissions/

A bit more about us: the Berkeley Scientific Journal is the premier undergraduate research journal on campus. Every semester, our journal publishes faculty-reviewed independent undergraduate research, feature articles on current issues in science, and interviews with UC Berkeley professors. Our goal is to provide a platform for undergraduates to publish their original writing and research, as well as to make the UC Berkeley scientific community more accessible to the general public. Please take a look at our Fall 2020 issue, "Bonds," to get a better idea of what we do, at: https://escholarship.org/uc/our_bsj/25/1.

Feel free to contact BSJ Research with any questions: research@bsj.berkeley.edu

Funding Opportunities from Center for African Studies, 2/26 & 4/2

The Rosberg Geist Undergraduate Research Fellowship
The Center for African Studies is pleased to announce the 2021 competition for an undergraduate fellowship of up to $3,000 to support travel to Africa for research and study. The award is a memorial to Carl Rosberg (1923-1996), former professor of Political Science, Director of the Institute of International Studies, and founder of the Center for African Studies at the University of California at Berkeley; and to his student, Judith Geist, who followed in his footsteps with her work in East Africa.

Eligibility: Current UC Berkeley Undergraduate Students with an interest in Africa who will be registered in the 2021-2022 academic year (i.e., one must return to campus as a registered student following the research trip). Priority will be given to 1) students with training in African studies and foreign languages, particularly African languages, and 2) students with demonstrated financial need who otherwise would not be able to travel to the African continent. If travel is not possible due to the pandemic, fellowship recipients can work with the Center on an approved appropriate adjustment to the research project, if possible.

Application deadline is Friday, 26 February 2021

UCSF Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging, 2/28

The UCSF Masters of Science in Biomedical Imaging (MSBI) program would like to announce that we are accepting Fall 2021 applications from November 18, 2020-February 28, 2021.
Miscellaneous Opportunities: Week of February 15, 2021

For those that may be interested, please feel free to visit the website or email (msbi@ucsf.edu). Please forward to those that may be interested.

https://radiology.ucsf.edu/education/graduate-programs/msbi-program
The Master of Science in Biomedical Imaging (MSBI) program provides theoretical and practical exposure to all aspects of medical imaging technology. The program can be completed in one year of full time study and allows students to learn the foundations of medical imaging, explore how imaging is applied in medical practice, and perform independent research under the supervision of faculty that are leaders in this exciting field.

The Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging at UCSF features an outstanding faculty and is annually ranked amongst the top programs in the country for both research and training. MSBI students interact closely with faculty and have the opportunity to contribute to research activities in a wide array of applications ranging from image processing to the development of new molecular imaging agents. MSBI students commonly go on to MD and PhD programs, or may choose to work in industries that develop imaging related products or apply medical imaging in product development.

ICPSR Summer Program, 3/29

Over 100 scholarships available!
The ICPSR Summer Program offers over 100 scholarships to students from many different fields of social science research. These scholarships enable students to take our courses in statistics, data analysis, and quantitative methods.

These scholarships provide fee waivers to attend our four-week sessions. The first session begins June 21 and ends July 16, and the second begins on July 19 and ends August 13. Courses will be fully online again this summer, allowing participants to learn from anywhere in the world.
Lectures are recorded; there is no need to stay up until all hours of the night (unless you really want to).

Courses include introductory and advanced regression analysis, time series analysis, Bayesian analysis, machine learning, rational choice theory, SEM, MLE, game theory, longitudinal analysis, multilevel modeling, social choice theory, race/ethnicity and quantitative methodology, data visualization, data science and text analysis, and more.

- Clogg Scholarship: Open to students conducting research in Sociology
- Clubb Scholarship: Open to students conducting research in Quantitative History or related fields
- Diversity Scholarship: Open to graduate students from under-represented groups. Stipends available.
- Heitowit Scholarship: Open to students, faculty, and researchers from all disciplines who have previously attended a four-week session of the ICPSR Summer Program
- Scholarship for Political Science Research: Open to students conducting research in Political Science
- Miller Scholarship: Open to pre-tenure scholars, assistant professors, and students conducting research on electoral/political behavior. Stipends available.
- Scholarship for Public Administration, Public Policy, and Public Affairs: Open to students conducting research in public administration, public policy, or public affairs
- Scholarship for Developmental, Child, and Family Psychology: Open to students conducting research in developmental, child, or family psychology
- Scholarship for Education Research: Open to students conducting research in education and related fields

We also offer scholarship in partnership with various organizations:

- EITM Certification Scholarships cover the registration fee for one or both four-week sessions of the ICPSR Summer Program. For application information and eligibility criteria, check the EITM website.
- Janet Box-Steffensmeier and John A. Garcia Scholarships are awarded by the Society for Political Methodology to encourage women and underrepresented graduate students in political science to attend the ICPSR Summer Program. These awards are a waiver of registration fees to attend one or both four-week sessions.
- ISR-Rackham Summer Training Awards provide funds to support doctoral students from the University of Michigan (across all Rackham Divisions) who would like to take courses with the ICPSR Summer Program or SRC Summer Institute.
- The Hanes Walton, Jr. Award for Quantitative Methods Training is awarded by the National Conference of Black Political Scientists and provides a waiver of registration fees for one or both of the four-week sessions. The Hanes Walton, Jr. Award is intended to encourage attendance in the ICPSR Summer Program by faculty and graduate students from Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), as well as women and minority graduate students and faculty at other institutions.

Application Period: The scholarship application portal will open on Monday, February 15, 2021 and close at 11:59 p.m. EST on Monday, March 29, 2021. For more information and to apply, visit the ICPSR Summer Program Scholarships page.

Re:treat App: Anonymous Mental Health/Self Care

As Berkeley students, we may be all facing similar issues from peer pressure, social anxiety, post-grad anxiety, and the list goes on: missing Oski so badly, having hard time catching up with zoom lectures, unable to go to Moffitt to study, stressful projects and final, and overall uncertainty about the future… We are therefore planning to send out this weekly newsletter to build a space for Berkeley students to share their struggles (and coping strategy potentially) anonymously, gain support from reading others’ personal stories to get through certain issues, and get some tips in dealing with emotional distress.

Feel free to subscribe by taking 10 seconds to fill out this google form (https://forms.gle/wFfgyoJyFdoRj2dh9 simply one YES question!) and we will keep you updated with the newsletter and our progress to help Berkeley students reconnect in this special time.

If you have even slightest emotional distress, please don’t hesitate to explore our website https://www.re-treat.app which helps to label your short-term daily hassles, generate your personalized 5-to-10 minute self-care mental exercises and connect you to the community anonymously.
RELAX ANXIETY
TRY RE:TREAT!

It’s normal to feel sad, stressed, confused, scared, or angry. Re:treat can help!

- share your concern anonymously and take personalized mental exercise
- suck you stress in the corner and ruminate on your thoughts
- subscribe to Re:treat weekly newsletter to hear others’ sharing and learn more about mental healthcare
- believe you are the only one who feels overwhelmed and everyone else’s life is perfect

Come On Out - Japan’s 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program

Attention students and recent graduates!

We are launching Come On Out - Japan’s 6th Annual Global English Camp Summer Internship Program and extending our invitation to top Universities and Japanese high school students for a cross-cultural learning experience.

We are currently seeking university students and recent graduates with native level English skills who are passionate about Japanese culture, gaining global experience, and mentoring others.
They will be offered the opportunity to come to Japan for five weeks from mid-July to late August, 2021. Although this is an unpaid internship, the sponsor is providing certain expenses for each intern who participates in the six-week program. Airfare, lodging, meal and transportation subsidies will be provided. The program also offers optional Japanese language classes, field trips and an overnight trip. These additional opportunities are all designed to add cultural enrichment to your summer abroad experience.

This program is vastly different from any other traditional teaching position in Japan. Interns will facilitate English conversations with Japanese high school students on a variety of relevant global topics ranging from discussing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals to their personal life missions. Interns will be able to extend mentorship to new students each week as well as form lifelong connections with their fellow interns inside and outside the classroom.

We do not have any Japanese fluency requirements. Come On Out - Japan accepts undergraduates, graduates and recently graduated students as well.

Applications are now open at http://www.comeonoutjapan.com! If you have additional questions regarding the program, please contact Come on Out - Japan directly at info@comeonoutjapan.com or via the inquiry tab on our website. Mental Health United Recruiting Members

My name is Ryan Cabote and I am a sophomore Psychology student and I recently started a student-run mental health organization called Mental Health United and we are currently looking for people to become apart of our team!

Given that, are you interested in working on projects to provide mental health resources to underserved communities? Do you want to help eliminate mental health disparities? If so, apply to become a part of the Mental Health United family! We currently have three team positions open that all pertain to different interests (e.g. Web Development and Writing). If you want to learn more, visit linktr.ee/mentalhealthunited.

Indeed, there are many other student-run mental health organizations out there, so what makes Mental Health United different from other student-run mental health organizations?

Integration. Our goal at the moment is to implement Mental Health First Aid into California Community Colleges, California State Universities, and the University of California system, in addition to other schools in California, and make the certification mandatory for all staff and students. Through integration, we are able to provide a tangible resource for the mental health community and essentially make Mental Health First Aid as common as Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). After integrating training all throughout California, we aspire to widen our impact throughout the nation and eventually internationally.

Want to become apart of the change? Join today! Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns at ryan cabote808@gmail.com. Thank you for your time!
Apply to become a part of the team!

Simply Neuroscience Action Potential Advising Program

Mentorship

Simply Neuroscience, a student-led non-profit organization works to expand interdisciplinary neuroscience education, outreach, and awareness for students. Over the past year, Simply Neuroscience has expanded to include a broader community of over 20,000 individuals spanning 49 U.S. states and 113 countries.

The recent launch of our Action Potential Advising Program (APAP) works to virtually connect young neuroscience students (“advisees”) with older professionals (“advisors”) to provide educational guidance and mentorship. The APAP’s mission is to bridge gaps in early neuroscience and psychology education through creating an international, centralized mentorship space that supports both STEM and humanities students.

Stanford Research Study - participants needed

Hi! We’re researchers in the Psychology Department at Stanford University, and we’re recruiting participants to take part in two online studies.

Study 1 takes about 25 minutes, and you will receive a $5 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will play seven child-friendly drawing and guessing games and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit the following link on a laptop or desktop using Google Chrome or Firefox: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/RR_adults/expE.html

Study 2 takes about 20 minutes, and you will receive a $4 Amazon gift card for your participation. Here is some more info:

- In this study, you will pick things that are related and then answer some questions about yourself.
- You must be at least 18 years old and have lived in the US most of your life.
- To participate, visit this link: https://langcog.stanford.edu/expts/coglink/index_E.html

You can participate in both studies (but only once per study).

For your $4, $5, or $9 Amazon gift card: Note your Participant ID (displayed on screen at the beginning and end of the study) and email it to langcogculture@gmail.com. If you participate in both studies, please include both Participant IDs in your email. We will email you your gift card within 3 days.

Please help us spread the word by forwarding this message to any friends and family who might be interested in participating!

New Minor in American Studies

The minor in American Studies is designed to help students write and communicate more clearly, especially those students in large social science and science programs. It will also encourage students to take advantage of the one of largest and most diverse course curricula available anywhere in the world as well as learn to think deeply about issues and commitments arising from their work in their major programs in light of the specific American contexts of culture, politics, policy, forms of media, and so on.

A minor in American Studies will culminate with a "capstone" project to be completed in a seminar course taught by AS affiliated faculty, where students will research and write (and in some cases, web publish or present in public venues) in-depth "features" aimed at communicating ideas and scholarship to a wide audience.

For more information, please visit our website and contact me if you have questions.

IRLE Student Publication Series

As part of IRLEs goal to advance the next generation of labor and employment scholars, our Student Research Brief series highlights student-led academic research conducted by UC Berkeley graduate and undergraduate students. Check out recent student research or make a submission.

Haas BASE Summer Business Program

If you are free this Summer we have a unique summer business program at Haas. We will facilitate the Haas BASE Summer Program remotely in 2021, including instruction, career workshops and company events. We have reduced the cost of the program from $10,000 to $8,500 for 2021. Partial financial aid may be available.

If you are free this summer here is an opportunity to complement your Cal degree with a rigorous summer business program and add the words "Haas" and "Business" to your resume.

The Haas School of Business invites you to consider the BASE Summer Program (Business for Arts, Sciences and Engineering). BASE is a six-week business boot camp that enables non-business majors and recent graduates to take business courses while earning full academic credit. Some former BASE students have gone on to earn MBA degrees, while others have accepted jobs in marketing, product development, consulting, financial services, and technology. BASE students receive many benefits, including custom workshops, company events, small class size with top professors and Haas Alumni Network benefits.

The ideal participant of the BASE Program is an undergraduate student majoring in liberal arts, sciences or engineering. BASE is the only premier business summer program or institute where students can earn units.

What Our Alumni Say about the Program

"After BASE I ended up getting a job at Oracle in their sales department and I love it here. I believe that BASE was a huge component of the success I had getting this job, and knowing how to operate in a business setting. I also would like to note the reaction people have when they find out I went to Haas. I've received a lot of positive feedback from recruiters, managers, and my peers." Collin Barlow, UC Berkeley Psychology.

"They call it Berkeley's hidden gem for a reason; its rigorous, exciting, fun, challenging, looks great on your resume, and it’s an amazing way to grow as a person and make connections with successful students from all over the world. It's a program that transforms complete strangers from all over the world into one big family that never wants to be apart. You are going to wish the program never ends. I would recommend the BASE program to everyone who wants to gain a deeper understanding of business, loves having fun, and wants to create memories and relationships that will last forever." Manvinder Singh, UC Irvine Economics.

"BASE was a wonderful and inspiring endeavor. Since the first day of orientation, I came to realize the competitiveness of the program because everyone has their own academic background, internship experience, and networks. Due to the fact that it is a 6-week intensive program, everything was fast-paced and the workload was extensive. However, I was able to manage my time effectively and successfully collaborate with classmates on class assignments. Additionally, the program has professional development workshops and my favorite one was a Negotiations workshop with Professor Holly Schroth. Overall, I strongly believe that the program helped me get ready for senior year because I came back with a different mentality, drive, and motivation! The BASE Program can equip you with the business knowledge and professional skills needed once you start off your career. It is a great investment for your future! The BASE Program exposed me to new ways of thinking, strategizing, and networking. Being in a room with top-ranked students from across the nation was inspirational and thankfully I was able to establish strong relationships with my classmates, professors, and staff." Edgardo Vazquez, UCLA Economics
"The BASE program gave me an essential, foundational business background that I continue to carry into my education, research, and more recently, internships. Particularly as chemical engineer with a technical background, companies like Chevron, AbbVie, and P&G have been impressed by my additional understanding of finance and marketing and the fact I attended the Haas Business School. This has distinguished me as an applicant in an incredibly competitive pool and led to multiple offers, even as a mere sophomore." Lauren Simitz, Northwestern University Chemical Engineering.

Partial Financial Aid for Berkeley Students

Some UC Berkeley students are eligible for partial summer financial aid which can partially cover the cost of the program. More information is here (BASE courses are 9 semester units in Summer Session D): http://financialaid.berkeley.edu/summer-aid

Application Process

We encourage you to apply as soon as possible given the popularity of the Program in the past 23 years. There is no application fee.

Check out the BASE website if you have any questions. We look forward to reading your application!
