> Stanford Home Sleep Center is looking for research assistants

There are research assistant positions for undergraduate students at our research group, the Stanford Home Sleep Center. We are looking for energetic, ambitious students in psychology programs who are interested in joining us to work on a research project focusing on sleep and affective neuroscience. The Stanford Home Sleep Center seeks to support the development of evidence-based treatments for individuals with sleep disorders and a better understanding of sleep in general.

Our research group investigates how different kinds of emotion regulation impairments may contribute to the formation of sleep disorders. We collect data through online platforms, behavioral and physiological in-lab assessments, functional magnetic resonance imaging of brain activation, and home-based sleep studies using polysomnography, actigraphy, and ecological momentary assessments. Data collection for this project has been ongoing since June 2017 and will continue throughout the academic year. In addition to this main line of work, our research group conducts basic research on affective processes (coping, mood, emotion, emotion regulation) with a strong interest in quantitative methods.

Clinical research opportunity in dementia for URM undergrad

https://memory.ucsf.edu/jobs#Undergraduate-Research-Assistant

The UCSF Memory and Aging Center seeks to support the work of an undergraduate student who identifies as a member of a group that is underrepresented in the health sciences. This position would provide an enriching experience in dementia care and research, as well as opportunities for direct interaction with patients and their caregivers.

Primary responsibilities will include data management, collaboration with various research groups within the Memory and Aging Center to coordinate participant recruitment and data collection, conducting literature reviews, and performing administrative tasks as needed. Students will receive hands-on training and mentorship from researchers, but are expected to take initiative on projects and have the ability to work independently as well.

We aim to utilize a National Institutes of Health Diversity Supplement, which requires that applicants identify with one (or more) of the groups the NIH considers underrepresented in health-related sciences. (Please refer to Part 2, Section 1 to see if you qualify). Please note that the funding for this position is not yet guaranteed, though we have engaged with NIH program staff in designing the role, and we are committed to working with the prospective candidate to apply for the supplement.

Highly motivated college sophomores and juniors who are interested in clinical research and dementia care are encouraged to apply, aiming to begin in the summer of 2019. The ideal candidate should be comfortable with standard productivity software (e.g., Excel, Word, Google Docs) and be able to manage data in an organized and conscientious manner. We are particularly interested in students who are fluent in Spanish, though this is not a strict requirement.

Interested candidates should send an up-to-date CV along with a cover letter detailing your interests and pertinent experiences to Madhu Manivannan (madhumitha.manivannan@ucsf.edu). Please also feel free to reach out if you have any questions about the position or would like more guidance regarding the process.

UCB Social Psychology Lab Recruiting Research Assistants

We are currently recruiting volunteer research assistants for help on a project on Political Conflict. Specifically, we are looking for detail-oriented RAs who are interested in social psychology and have about 9 hours per week to dedicate to helping transcribe real political conversations. Except for a few in-person training meetings, the work can be done remotely. If the work is done well, this volunteer position could lead to a URAP or Independent Study Position in the Fall semester.

If interested in applying, please contact Stephanie Millot at smillot@berkeley.edu with your resume and some times that you’d be able to meet for a brief interview.
Research Assistant Openings at UCSF Memory and Aging Center

The Memory and Aging Center (MAC) at UCSF is a multidisciplinary research program investigating neurodegenerative disease across a broad spectrum of clinical and translational research settings. We are currently looking for up to 12 UC Berkeley student volunteers to join labs focused on topics ranging from socioemotional processes to prion diseases to healthy aging. Students will have the opportunity to work with patients in a clinical setting, perform literature reviews, attend grand round lectures, analyze research data, and engage in various other educational and practical activities.

Interested students should expect to commit 8-16 hours per week to this position. Funding may be possible for underrepresented students through NIH Diversity Supplements; please check for eligibility here. As well, this position may qualify for UC Berkeley course credit and/or thesis work.

Please review the complete list of labs with openings here, and submit applications through this Qualtrics survey: Qualtrics survey. Contact Patrick Callahan with general questions, or contact individual lab coordinators directly with questions about their lab’s work.

Hinshaw Lab RA Opening

Announcement – Recruiting Computer Science, Cognitive Science, or Psychology Research Assistant

The Hinshaw Lab is currently seeking a part-time (~5 hrs/week) volunteer research assistant for the remainder of the semester to assist in the conduct of an EEG study investigating attention, distraction, and mind wandering processes in adults with ADHD - starting immediately. The position primarily entails assisting in the coding of EEG experiments; opportunities to assist with EEG data collection, analysis, and presentation are available for those interested. Additional responsibilities may include data and IRB management, as well as subject recruitment and screening. Ideally, candidates will have experience with Matlab and Psychtoolbox, and an interest in developmental psychopathology.

If interested, please email emarcelle@berkeley.edu with a resume and brief statement of interest.

Job Description:
- Prepares and verifies quarterly reports for accuracy before publication
- Reads and processes patient comments
- Creates graphs and tables
- Performs quality control on surveys
- Conducts data exploration and analysis on healthcare data
- Provides client service to healthcare providers

Job Qualifications:
- An interest in data analysis, health care, or research
- Strong problem-solving skills, attention to detail, and communication skills
- Interest in learning SAS, SQL, Excel, Tableau

Details:
- This is a 12-month position starting in Summer 2019
- A commitment of 12+ hours/week minimum is required
- This is a paid non-clinical position
- We are located within walking distance to the 19th St. BART station

To Apply: Please email your cover letter, resume, and unofficial college transcript(s) to: Leah.E.Roberts@kp.org. Thank you for your interest in this position.

Summer '19 Education Internship at Children's Creativity Museum, 5/21/19

Applications for our Summer 2019 Education Internship program are now being accepted, and we look forward to meeting some excellent candidates! I have attached a flyer that we welcome you to pass on to your students, as well as a job description with more details. Candidates can apply through our website here. We will accept applications through Tuesday, May 21st and Orientation will take place on Tuesday January 28th, 2019.

During our Education Internship, our Interns have the chance to gain first-hand experience working in a museum environment that specializes in Informal Education. Our staff of artists, educators, and exhibit developers offers a warm and collaborative environment in which to develop Intern's skills and interests through professional development training, one on one mentoring, and hands-on learning of our exhibits.

Summer Internship: UG Intern, Death Penalty Clinic, UCB School of Law, 4/15/19

The ideal candidate for this unique opportunity is dependable and responsible. We are looking for two interns for the summer semester, with the possibility of continuing into the fall. We require an undergraduate, preferably a junior or senior, who can commit a minimum of twenty (20) hours per week during the summer. (Fall internships are half of that time.) These are unpaid positions. The Death Penalty Clinic is a law practice engaged in direct representation of individuals facing capital punishment. Interns will have the opportunity to work with faculty, the Clinic paralegal, and law students. They will be held to the same confidentiality requirements as faculty, staff, and law students in the Clinic.

As an intern, you must be:
- dependable in terms of your time commitment
- trustworthy because of the serious responsibility of working on capital cases
- detail-oriented to best support the Clinic and, ultimately, our clients

Responsibilities include, but certainly are not limited to:
- inventory and analyzing files
- researching news databases
- exhibit and pleading organization
- extensive filing
- assisting in record preservation and management
- updating our records database

As an intern, you will be exposed to the realities of working on a capital case and engage in projects that contribute to the professional work of the organization.

For more information regarding the Clinic, see our website at https://www.law.berkeley.edu/clinics/death-penalty-clinic/.

To apply, please email your resume and a cover letter explaining your interest to Heather Canfield, Clinic Paralegal, at hcanfield@clinical.law.berkeley.edu by Monday, April 15, 2019 at 8:00 am. Please submit materials in PDF format and begin the file name of each document with your last name. We will interview select applicants either via Skype or in person.
