AAPI General Wellness Guide Resources

Here is the AAPI Wellness Guide 2021.

It is one of many products from the AAPISC, led by Lisa Hirai Tsuchitani and Marcia Gee Riley. AAPISC is an inaugural advisory body to the Chancellor and her Cabinet under the executive sponsorship of VCEI Oscar Dubón that was created in 2019 to increase awareness about and address campus climate issues for AAPI undergraduate and graduate students, staff, and faculty: https://diversity.berkeley.edu/aapisc

CaHPSA Recruitment, 8/26 - 9/17

CaHPSA is a health advocacy club looking to promote universal healthcare and other issues in healthcare through our two committees: Project White Coat and Health Alerts. Project White Coat is an opportunity for students to work to become registered insurance counselors who can then advise and help community members sign up for health insurance. Health Alerts is a committee more focused on the policy, political, and legal side of healthcare, with members advocating for issues in healthcare by contacting representatives, learning more about the Affordable Care Act and other important pieces of America’s healthcare system, developing resources that can be used to educate the community, and much more. More information about our organization and recruitment can be found on our website: cahpsa.berkeley.edu. Feel free to follow us on Facebook (CaHPSA Berkeley) and Instagram (@cahpsaberkeley) or feel free to email us at cahpsa.berkeley@gmail.com.

Berkeley Scientific Journal Recruitment, 9/10

Interested in science communication or journalism? Need to pick up a couple units for next semester? Then come join the Berkeley Scientific Journal Decal, UC Berkeley's premier undergraduate science journal. Through our Interviews, Features, and Research & Blog teams, you'll have the chance to work on all flavors of science writing, including quick study stories on recently published journal research, interviews with faculty members working closely on the coronavirus pandemic, and articles exploring how science interfaces with the world around us. Check out our website [bsj.berkeley.edu] to learn more about our DeCal and journal, see past issues, and apply! Our application deadline is September 10th.
Global Pen Pal Program, 9/10

The Global Pen Pal Program is a great opportunity for both domestic and international students to network and learn other cultures.
Global Pen Pals is a one-on-one pairing program where BIO matches an international student to another student (either domestic or international) to allow students to make connections from a distance, and take part in cultural exchange. The goal of the program is to connect UC Berkeley students from across the world during a time when they may not be able to be present physically in the US or on campus, as well as to increase cross-cultural exposure and international learning.

Baruch College I-O Ph.D. Program Open Houses, 9/14 - 11/2

The industrial and organizational psychology program of the Graduate Center and Baruch College (City University of New York) will hold virtual open houses for fall 2022 admissions on:

- Tuesday - September 14th from 6:30pm-7:30pm EST
- Tuesday - October 12th from 6:30pm-7:30pm EST
- Tuesday - November 2nd from 6:30pm-7:30pm EST

The open houses will be an opportunity to learn more about the Ph.D. program and application process, hear from current students and faculty, and engage in a question and answer session.

Advanced registration is required. You can register for the event here. After you register, you will receive a link to the virtual event.
Please contact Dr. Charles Scherbaum (Charles.Scherbaum@baruch.cuny.edu) with any questions on the registration or event.

UCDC, 9/16

The UC Washington Program (UCDC) will resume in-person programming for the fall 2021 semester. Students from across the University of California will live and take classes at the UC Washington Center and intern at agencies, offices, and organizations across the greater DC area. In order to ensure the safety of all participants, UCDC will operate at half capacity. The student cohort from Berkeley will be made up of 20 juniors and seniors from a range of majors and interests, including climate change, immigration, health care policy, journalism, art history, and others.

For students interested in learning more about UCDC, please follow this link. Email with any questions or to set up an advising appointment.

The application deadline for the Spring 2022 semester is September 16, 2021.

OSU Diversity Recruitment Day, 9/17

The Department of Psychology at Oklahoma State University will be hosting a Diversity Recruitment Day on Friday, September 17, 2021.

The focus of this event is recruitment oriented while still providing important information to marginalized scholars about the application process and highlighting the diversity efforts in the Department of Psychology at Oklahoma State University.

Second Annual Harvard Prospective PhD and RA Event in Psychology, 9/17

The Harvard Department of Psychology is hosting the second annual Prospective PhD & RA Event in Psychology (P-PREP). The goal of this workshop is to recruit and provide mentorship and support to students from historically under-represented groups in STEM with their applications to graduate school, lab manager, and/or research assistant positions.

This program is free and open to students who are applying to doctoral programs or lab manager / research assistant positions this fall. The workshop will take place October 16-17, and participants will receive one-on-one mentorship from a member of the Harvard Psychology Department on their application materials after the workshop.

More information, including details on how to apply, can be found here: https://psychology.fas.harvard.edu/pprep
Participants had an overwhelmingly positive experience in the program last year. Here are what a few participants had to say about the program:

“I attended Harvard’s PPREP program this weekend and it was the most helpful graduate school info I’ve ever received. EVERY grad school should provide programs like this if they’re serious about diversity, equity, and inclusion work!”

“Feeling lucky & grateful to have participated in Harvard’s PPREP this weekend. Panelists gave indispensable, candid advice on applying to psych grad school and navigating academia with a marginalized identity.”

UJPB Call For Submissions, 9/26

We are now accepting submissions for the Undergraduate Journal of Psychology at Berkeley’s 2022 issue! Rolling submissions are accepted until September 26th, 2021.

UJPB accepts and reviews original undergraduate research from all psychology-related fields, including psychology, neuroscience, cognitive science, and linguistics. This includes senior honors theses, course term papers, independent research projects, and literature reviews. Multiple submissions from the same author, as well as multi-university collaborations, are welcome!

This is a great opportunity for Psychology students who have recently taken Psychology 101 and have a paper already written for submission.

Please follow the link at the bottom of the page to submit your article.

To submit an article for review, please fill out this form: https://forms.gle/ouymiPVEPw7RyV9n8

For additional inquiries, please email team@ujpb.berkeley.edu or visit our website at UJPB Home.

If you have interest in becoming an editor for UJPB, please find us on the Decal page.

Cal Poly MS in Psychology

Applications Now Being Accepted

MASTERS OF SCIENCE IN PSYCHOLOGY
The Master of Science (M.S.) in Psychology at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo is a 90-quarter unit professional degree program that fulfills the educational requirements for the state of California’s Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT) license. The program’s mission is to provide the state of California with highly competent masters-level clinicians trained to counsel individuals, couples, families, and groups in a multicultural society.

Skills Learned
GAIN expertise in assessment, diagnosis, and treatment with individuals, couples, families, groups, and children.
ACQUIRE personal, academic, and practical knowledge of concepts, theories, and applications of Counseling and Psychotherapy.
LEARN from diverse and experienced practitioners and scholars in the field.
SERVE clients from the community and develop skills and confidence during supervised clinical traineeships and in our on-campus practicum training clinic, San Luis Obispo Counseling Service.

Career Prospects
Graduates of the M.S. in Psychology Program find career opportunities in public service agencies, such as County Mental Health and Department of Social Services, as well as in private non-profit and private practice counseling centers. About 15% of graduates also pursue doctoral studies in Clinical or Counseling Psychology.

Admission Requirements - APPLY NOW
TO APPLY: Go to: psycd.calpoly.edu/graduate/application-information for instructions on how to apply to our program via Cal State Apply (calstate.edu/apply). Applicants must possess a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA of 3.0. Accepted applicants will be required to have completed courses in Research Methods in Psychology (or related field), Introductory Statistics, Personality Theory, Abnormal Psychology (Psychopathology), and Lifespan Development (Developmental Psychology). Applicants are required to submit an application including a personal statement, three letters of recommendation and official transcripts to Cal State Apply. Applications for Fall 2022 must be submitted on-line by January 9, 2022.
1:54 Autism Spectrum Disorder DeCal

1:54 Autism Spectrum Disorder DeCal class is back for fall 2021.

Enroll through Cal Central: CCN 23111
Tue 5-7pm, SOCS 60. Start Date 9/7/21
1 Unit P/NP
Contact: SpectrumDeCal@gmail.com, harisri@berkeley.edu

- The only Decal to be featured on a US President’s Instagram, this Decal covers both myriad critical issues in autism as well as issues that range the lifespan.
- This is a low-stress, low academic workload, but super informative decal that will enrich your understanding of autism. Past students have given rave reviews.
- Class Structure: The first hour is a combination of short lecture topic, student presentations and group discussion. The 2nd hour features a speaker or a panel covering different areas.
- This is a Pass/No Pass 1 unit DeCal. 70% is needed for a pass.
- Assignments: There is a student midterm paper, a final reflection as well as a final group project which students have enjoyed doing

What past students have said:
- This course has been one of the most eye-opening courses I have taken so far.
- This was the first class discussing disability studies that I’ve taken, and I loved it. I loved how so many facets of autism were covered. I loved the guest speakers, and the fact that autistic voices really shaped this class. The DeCal format made it so that the class was casual in the sense that there was less pressure on grades. Instead, there was emphasis on building community and providing space for discussion, led by facilitators who were knowledgeable, kind, and enthusiastic about the subject matter...Thank you for all of your hard work putting on one of the most memorable classes I will take at Cal.

DiversaTech Recruitment

Hey there! We're DiversaTech, a student-run tech consulting group, and we’re currently recruiting new members for our Fall 2021 teams.

At DiversaTech, we firmly believe the most innovative solutions arise from diversity of thought. With more unique perspectives, we are able to better empathize with our clients and ideate truly novel solutions. Each semester, we make it a mission to recruit students from all corners of the Berkeley community, which is why we’re reaching out to you!

While you may not have considered joining a consulting group before, DiversaTech strives to make every member’s experience valuable by tailoring projects and professional development opportunities to their personal needs. Since our project teams are reformed every semester, members will continue to learn new skill sets alongside new teammates throughout their time in DiversaTech. From developing content strategy for edtech clients like Edmodo to ideating new features for popular apps like Snapchat, members will get to explore new interests and industries each semester. We also offer workshops and mentorship to ensure all our consultants feel ready to tackle their projects – regardless of prior experience.
To learn more about us and our recruitment process, please visit www.diversatech.org/apply or our Facebook event at https://fb.me/e/JuKzCVRQ. Feel free to also reach out to diversatech.berkeley@gmail.com with any questions. Hope to meet you soon!
