Local Family looking for Respite Worker

Our family is looking for a student interested in working with our son who is a highly gifted 16 year old with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

It’s a part time job 5-10 hours/week - their title – “Respite Worker”! This is a FUN job!
If you are pursuing a degree in psychology, social work, behavior analysis, behaviorist, speech pathology, or even a teacher – this could be a great part time job for you!
This is an in-person position so you would have to be willing to come in our home (with mask) and work closely with our son.
Qualifications: be an energetic, wacky, active, and chatty person with great communication skills! You do need to have a car, be reliable and show up as scheduled and we hope build a long-term relationship over the next year – that’s it Pretty Simple.
Our previous respite worker would plan super exciting activities with our son! Go on hikes, bicycle rides, play lots of board and card games, and regularly plan cooking / dessert menus.
Spend the day comparing recipes, shopping and buying ingredients, gathering baking equipment, making the recipe, cleaning up, and of course eating the results. YUM!!

And there are many other possible adventures, all with skill-building opportunities involved for a kid who needs practice just chatting, verbalizing what he is doing, talking about his own interests and yours!
As a bonus, mom (LMFT, BCBA) would be willing to teach/mentor you and share whatever other knowledge she has (Regional Center, social work for the county, foster care, DOR, special ed, etc...).

The person selected would have to be able to start ASAP and would have to be willing to onboard with our respite agency (including filling out an application and other paperwork and submit all their information during the hiring process). They would submit time sheets, to be signed by me, to the respite agency weekly. Depending on our son’s eventual schedule with distance learning high school classes, we have the possibility to offer between 5 and 10 hours a week. We would like to eventually settle on a reliable fixed schedule, but this may need to be flexible, depending on his weekly demands.
Extra points if you know a young man who might fit the bill and extra points for a younger person (closer to his age since he has plenty of older professionals who work with him). But we would be happy to meet an older person and a woman is totally fine.
Thanks
Peter Weschler

Fall 2020: SLC Writing Program Ambassador, 9/14

We hope you are safe and well during the last days of summer break!
As you have partnered with us through our services, you have experienced the friendly faces that welcome you into our virtual Vèvè Writing lounge each and every day. How would you like to be one of those smiling faces? Well, here’s your chance!

The SLC Writing Program is excited to share that we’re launching a new work-study position for the Fall 2020 semester: Writing Program Ambassador. As ambassadors, you get the fun opportunity to contribute to fostering an open and inclusive environment for writers in the Vèvè Writing Lounge. We’re looking for enthusiastic students interested in cultivating professional skills, joining a diverse community of peer staff, and helping to shape the undergraduate writing experience at Cal.

We accept applications on a rolling basis; our review dates are 8/31, 9/7, and 9/14. Priority will go to early bird applications received by 9/7. Starting pay is $16.04/hour. Multilingual and multidisciplinary students are strongly encouraged to apply. Please feel free to share the word with your networks.

Berkeley Food Institute Communications Assistant, 9/13

Berkeley Food Institute Communications Assistant
Appointment: September 21, 2020, – May 14, 2021 (10 hours per week).
Work Opportunities – Week of September 7, 2020

Compensation: $17.25/hour (raise to $18/hour on January 1, 2021)

Application Deadline: September 13, 2020, 5pm Pacific Time

The Berkeley Food Institute (BFI) at the University of California, Berkeley seeks to transform food systems to expand access to healthy, affordable food and promote sustainable and equitable food production. We empower new leaders with capacities to cultivate diverse, just, resilient, and healthy food systems. We pursue our mission through interdisciplinary programs in education, community engagement, research, and policy.

The role of the Communications Assistant is to provide vital support for BFI’s external communication activities. BFI will thoroughly train the Communications Assistant in print and digital communications tools, though preference is given to candidates with working knowledge of software and platforms like those listed under “Qualifications” below. The position works closely with all BFI staff and is supervised by Chris Cassidy, BFI Communications Director. All hours will be worked remotely until the UC Berkeley campus returns to in-person operations. See full position details here.

- Have 1 to 2 years of experience managing research trials
- Have experience working with study sites and institutional review boards (IRBs).
- Have experience with electronic data capture systems such as RedCap, RedCap Cloud or similar.
- Are self-motivated and have the interest and ability to thrive in a small company environment
- Are skilled problem solvers who want to gain knowledge and develop new skills
- Are eligible to work in the US without sponsorship
- Have the ability to work on-site in downtown San Francisco following the present period of remote work

Experience with

- working in an agile clinical trials team
- Google suite and Microsoft Office programs
- programming or scripting languages such as Python is a plus (but not required).

Where We Work

Our office is in downtown San Francisco, near the Embarcadero Muni/BART stop.

What We Offer

Posit Science is a great place to learn and grow. We offer

- A competitive salary
- Medical, dental, and vision benefits for you (and your family members)
- Four weeks of annual paid time off
- A balanced approach to work
- Opportunities to grow your skills and take on new challenges
- Meaningful work that helps people live better lives

Come Work with Us

Interesting? Email us at jobs@positscience.com, tell us a bit about yourself in the email, and attach your resume. Please mention “Clinical Research Coordinator” in your subject line, so we know what job you are applying for. At Posit Science, we know that everyone’s brain is different, as a result of the life they’ve led, and we value all kinds of brains and all kinds of people. Everyone is welcome to apply.
