Casa de Esperanza Internship Program

I am with Casa de Esperanza, a non-profit in Houston, Texas. Casa de Esperanza provides residential care to children birth through six who are in crisis due to abuse, neglect, or the effects of HIV. Care is provided in our neighborhood by our Hands of Hope interns. Our interns, most of whom are recent college graduates, join us for a year of service (a twelve-month full-time post-graduation internship). Applicants wishing to complete shorter internships are considered

Internship and Volunteering Opportunities: Week of September 14, 2020

on a case by case basis. We provide on-site housing (interns live with the children they are caring for) and interns join us from all over the United States to be part of our internship program.

Information about our internship may be found here:

<https://www.casahope.org/hands-of-hope-internship>

The application for our internship may be found here:

<https://www.casahope.org/application-part-one>

Interns in our program gain valuable experience that is relevant to a number of fields and future career goals while simultaneously making a meaningful difference in the lives of a vulnerable.

We will have groups joining us in January, June, and August of 2021.

MOTIVATE Mentoring Program

Hello,

I hope this email finds you safe and well.

My name is Destiny Hernandez. I recently graduated from UCLA with a Bachelor's Degree in Neuroscience and I am working on the start of a virtual mentoring program, MOTIVATE, in the Montebello Unified School District. I am currently requesting those interested in the potential mentor role to fill out this form to provide a number of prospective mentors to the school district as we work together. If you could please send this out to your students, faculty, and alumni, I would greatly appreciate it. Here is a brief description of the program:

MOTIVATE is a mentoring program that aids to provide the students of the Montebello Unified School district resources that would aid their path to their career goal. The program aims to close the education gap by pairing students with mentors who have reached/are on their way to a career goal similar to the students' goals to share their experiences, their knowledge, and their guidance.

I hope you consider giving back to the community with a little bit of your time. Once again, here is the interest form. I look forward to hearing from you all. If you have any questions, please reach out to dghernandez1224@gmail.com

Thank you,
Destiny Hernandez

Freedom Fall 2020

Calling all students interested in politics and power-building!

Are you looking to make a political difference while learning valuable skills and earning academic credit this fall? We want to share Freedom Fall 2020, a unique opportunity to stay involved in politics while earning academic credit in the run-up to the extremely consequential November election. To sign up, enroll in AAS 197.2 by searching for class #15133.

Professor Saru Jayaraman (president of One Fair Wage) is leading Freedom ~~Summer~~ Fall 2020, a social movement, organizing, and voter engagement program this semester that builds upon her successful Freedom Summer 2020 campaign. This past summer, 150 students from all over the country engaged thousands of potential voters in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Florida, and New York.

Internship and Volunteering Opportunities: Week of September 14, 2020

This semester, join students from across Cal's campus in an effort to continue building the power and voice of low-wage worker voters who have been most impacted by the pandemic.

Inspired by the original Freedom Summer in Mississippi, this program will allow you to participate in a field course (AAS 197.2) for up to 4 units of credit in which you will help organize low-wage workers to vote using One Fair Wage's nonpartisan voter engagement strategies. Here are some program details:

- You will be trained and supported by veteran professional organizers before you work with voters.
- There will be weekly check-ins, but you will earn credit by calling and building relationships with voters on your own schedule.
- Each unit of credit requires approximately 3 hours of work, so if you take the course for 3 units, you are committing to 8-10 hours of voter engagement a week.
- If you want to participate, but do not want or need the academic credit, you can do so. Please email reed.levitt@berkeley.edu to get signed up. (This option is open to volunteers beyond Cal, so feel free to share with friends and family outside the university!)

To participate in Freedom Fall 2020, enroll in AAS 197.2 by searching for class #15133.

Please enroll as soon as you can so we can get you trained and engaging voters by the end of this week!

Student experiences from Freedom Summer 2020:

Leslie Laredo, Florida team: "I was able to connect with incredibly empathetic individuals - every single individual I managed to talk to spoke in the "we," knowing full well that they were not the only subminimal wage worker being discriminated against during the pandemic. Each person continuously stressed the need for reform so that it can help EVERYONE impacted. It was inspiring and grounding all at once."

Courtney Mitchell, Michigan Team: "I had a conversation with a mother of 6 from Detroit. She had six children, was without a car, and because of COVID, was without of a job. When it came time to ask her about signing up for a mail ballot, she was so excited because without a car and six children, showing up at the polls was nearly impossible for her. Talking with her was memorable for me because her resilience was inspiring, and it was really awesome to know that I had possibly made an impact on her by sharing an easier way to vote.”
