McNair Scholars Program: Invitation to Apply, 10/1/19

We invite you to apply to the Ronald E. McNair Postbaccalaureate Achievement Program, also known as the McNair Scholars Program. The McNair Scholars Program recruits 26 qualified undergraduates and prepares them for admission into Ph.D. programs. UC Berkeley McNair scholars have received doctorates at many fine institutions including the University of Michigan, Stanford, Yale, Harvard, UCLA, and UC Berkeley.

Some of the benefits of becoming a McNair Scholar include conducting substantive research with a UC Berkeley faculty member, writing and publishing your research in the Berkeley McNair Journal, and presenting your research at a national McNair symposium. We also provide assistance with graduate school applications.

Application Deadline: complete and submit a hard copy to us by Oct 1, 2019.

McNair Informational Session: Thursday, September 26, 12:00 -1:30 p.m., 2515 Channing Way, Suite 11

You can also visit our website at https://mcnair.berkeley.edu/apply for additional information and eligibility requirements.

If you have further questions please contact Juan Francisco Esteva Martinez at juanfesteva@berkeley.edu (510) 642-9084

Teach for Splash at Berkeley, 10/1/19

Instill your passion about any subject to high schoolers around the Bay Area! Splash a student organization that brings over 400 high school students to Berkeley’s campus for a day of unlimited learning through classes taught by Berkeley students (YOU)! This year, Splash will be on Saturday, November 2nd.

Splash is a low-commitment, high impact educational outreach opportunity that also gives you agency on your course. You choose the topic, how many students can enroll in your class, and how many sessions you teach throughout the day. If you would like to teach with others, you can also have co-facilitator(s) in a course.

Also, all teachers get a free t-shirt and lunch!
If you or your friend(s) are interested in teaching a course to high school students, sign up to register as a teacher here.

The tentative deadline to sign up to teach a class is October 1st! The day of Splash is November 2nd.

Don’t know what exactly to teach? Know what you want to teach but want some feedback?
This year, we are also hosting two optional teacher training sessions for those who are interested on Saturday, September 21st and Saturday, October 19th from 3-5pm. You can RVSP here at bit.ly/SPLASHTEACHERWS.
If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to us at splash.berkeley@gmail.com.
ILRE Lunchtime Talk: Net Fiscal Impact of Union Membership, 10/2/19

The Relationship Between Union Membership and Net Fiscal Impact
OCTOBER 2, 2019 | 12:00 PM - 1:30 PM | 2521 Channing Way

Jose Pacas discusses how labor relations interact with public economics, suggesting that union membership has a positive net fiscal impact.

Location:
IRLE Director's Room
2521 Channing Way
Berkeley, CA 94720

About this Event:
What is the net fiscal impact of an individual's union membership status? What is the effect on taxes they pay and cost of public benefits they receive? Using data from the Current Population Survey, this talk will present evidence on how labor relations interact with public economics, suggesting that union membership has a positive net fiscal impact through the worker-level channels studied.

About the Speaker:
Jose Pacas began working at the MPC as a research assistant between 2012 and 2015. After a couple of years as an economist for the Poverty Statistics Branch at the US Census Bureau, he returned as full-time research staff in 2017. He focuses primarily on the IPUMS USA project while also helping on the IPUMS CPS project. His research has focused on using Census data to study labor markets, poverty, immigration and racial/ethnic disparities. Current research projects focus on the factors influencing poverty transitions and the net fiscal impact of labor unions. Prior work has varied from estimating the population of undocumented immigrants in the US to a historical profile of the biomedical labor force.

Undergraduate Research & Scholarships Fair, 10/3/19

We invite you to join us at the October 3rd Undergraduate Research and Scholarships Fair, from 1-4 p.m. in the Martin Luther King Jr. Student Union, Pauley Ballroom.

All Cal students, faculty, and staff are invited to this annual event where you can learn everything there is to know about research opportunities and prestigious scholarship opportunities at UC Berkeley. The event is free & accessible. Dozens of research and scholarship programs will have tables at the fair where you can meet representatives and get information.
Additionally, throughout the afternoon there will be thematic breakout sessions where you can listen to staff and students talk about specific topics of interest to you. Please see the above poster for breakout session details.

Global Poverty & Practice Minor Info Sessions, 10/4/19

The GPP Minor introduces students to the theoretical frameworks, methods, and practical skills necessary to engage with global poverty and inequality in effective ways.

The minor requires five courses and a "Practice Experience." This experience is a central component of the minor in which students partner with domestic or international nongovernmental or community organizations, government agencies, or other poverty or development programs, on various dimensions of poverty action – from food security and sustainable technologies to economic justice and grass-roots political power. The combination of the coursework for the minor and this real world experience allows students to connect theories and practices of poverty action. Funding is available to support students’ practice experiences.

The deadline to declare the minor this semester is Wednesday, October 9th. There are no prerequisites required to declare.

The Declaration Form and additional information about the minor can be found at:
http://blumcenter.berkeley.edu/gppminor.

The LAST Information Session about the minor will be held in Blum Hall 100A/B (Ground Floor) at the following time”
Friday, October 4th 11 AM - 12 PM
Contact gppminor@berkeley.edu with any questions.

➢ Graduate College of Education at SFSU Open House, 10/5/19

At San Francisco State University, we have tried to make the process of accessing admissions to our teaching credential programs, educational specialist and speech pathology programs as seamless as possible. We know that the low cost of our one-year and 18 month programs is highly attractive to incoming students. However, our online application system, CalState Apply, can be a challenge.

The Graduate College of Education is hosting an open house on October 5th from 9:30AM-1:30PM in Burk Hall at 1600 Holloway Avenue Burk Hall, Room 501 San Francisco, CA 94132. The link to the RSVP can be found here:
https://events.eventzilla.net/e/sfstate-gcoe-application-summit-and-open-house-2138762492?preview=1568061065011

The event is open will provide prospective students with an opportunity to meet faculty, staff, and current students to learn about the programs, degrees, and credentials offered. There will also be a $25 fee waiver for credential program applications.

➢ Diversifying Clinical Psychology Event at UMass Amherst, 10/5/19

UMass Amherst is hosting its first annual professional development event entitled Attaining a Doctorate in Clinical Psychology: Guidance for Students of Color and from other Underrepresented Groups. It is a day-long event on Saturday, October 5th.

We are able to offer several small travel stipends and some of the programming will be available via zoom, for those unable to attend in person.

➢ Career Exploration Workshop, 10/7/19

Free the PhD: Career Exploration Workshop
Are you considering a career outside of academia? The Postdoc Industry Exploration Program (PIEP) is thrilled to announce a very special career exploration workshop by Dr. Vania Cao, founder of Free the PhD (www.freethephd.com). Don’t miss this unique opportunity!

Workshop description:
Are you concerned about your job prospects? Have you spent time exploring what careers are available beyond academia, and how you can find the right one for you?
If not, it’s time to get started! Join our Hands-On Career Exploration Workshop, where you will use Free the PhD Career Cards to explore real job postings by real companies and organizations. You will walk away with an intimate understanding of how to dissect almost every kind of job out there into its core functions and responsibilities, helping you identify potential job options that align with your interests, personality and skill sets.
If you’re ambitious, we’ll also help you reach out to people with jobs you're interested in, to build your network and connect you with new people!
Whether you’re invested in becoming a PI, or if you can’t wait to leave the bench, this interactive workshop will challenge you to expand your horizons and knowledge about the modern workplace. It never hurts to have a solid Plan A (or Plan B) in mind for your future, so come get it started during this workshop!

When and where:
The workshop will take place on Monday October 7th from 4.30 to 7 pm on the UC Berkeley campus. Specific place to be announced. Food/drinks will be served. Sign up here: https://www.eventbrite.com/e/free-the-phd-career-exploration-workshop-tickets-73453937705

About the workshop leader:
Vania Cao received her Ph.D. in Neuroscience from the National Institutes of Health Graduate Partnerships Program with Brown University. After transitioning out of academia into an industry job, she founded Free the PhD; a company dedicated to helping postgrads find jobs outside of academia.

 órgo Speaker Series: Bargaining Power of Older Workers, 10/9/19

The Bargaining Power of Older Workers and the US Labor Market
Teresa Ghilarducci
Wednesday, October 9 | 4-6pm
2521 Channing Way

Workers over age 55 are projected to fill more than half of the 11.4 million net new jobs created between 2016 and 2026. Despite their numbers, older workers’ bargaining power in the labor market has been declining, threatening to suppress wages and working conditions for all workers.

Ghilarducci, a nationally-recognized expert in retirement security, will discuss seven reasons older workers have lost bargaining power:
- Eroding retirement income security;
- Decline of unions;
- More insecure employment relationships;
- Persistent age discrimination;
- Geographical immobility;
- Ineligibility for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC); and
- Older workers’ relative propensity to work for smaller firms.

Cal in the Capital Program, 10/12/19

Cal in the Capital is an internship fostership program which prepares and sends a cohort of around 70 UC Berkeley students a year to Washington, D.C. to complete a summer internship. Cal in the Capital interns come from all classes, majors, backgrounds, and areas of interest, and any student looking to grow professionally is encouraged to apply. To date, more than 3,900 Cal in the Capital interns have served over 1.6 million hours of service in hundreds of professional settings, including Congressional offices, think tanks, national non-profit organizations, media centers, private companies, research institutions, and more.

Our program provides housing and accommodations in D.C., along with a semester DeCal in which directors provide one on one application feedback and assistance, as well as group lessons and networking opportunities. Scholarships and funding are also available for students with financial need; we are here to help students succeed in a competitive, professional atmosphere and provide all the resources which do exactly that!

We have 3 upcoming info sessions so that students may learn more about the program and ask our student directors questions. Please inform your students of these upcoming info sessions:

- 10/2 at 7pm in Dwinelle 234
- 10/8 at 7pm in Dwinelle 234
- Please help us spread the word to all UC Berkeley students about what great opportunities this program presents! Applications are due October 12, 2019 at 11:59 PM PST. Any assistance you can provide would be much appreciated. Please see below for more information or visit our website.
- If you would like flyers to hand out to students please feel free to email us back!

2019 UC Davis Pre-Health Conference, 10/19/19

This conference is one of the largest pre-health conferences in the nation. Each year 3000+ pre-health students come to the UC Davis campus to explore different health related career paths, experience hands-on healthcare activities via interactive workshops, and connect with other pre-health students and health professionals from around the nation.

Additionally, we aim to have over 200 exhibitors from health professions schools from across the nation. This gives advisors and students an opportunity to ask tough questions, connect with representatives. The Pre-Health Fair takes place from 10 am to 3 pm, so there is plenty of time to both visit the Fair and attend a couple of workshops.

The schedule for this year’s Conference is as follows:
7-9 am: Check In & Breakfast
9-10 am: Keynote Speaker: Dr. Piri Ackerman-Barger, PhD, RN
10-11:15 am: Pre-Health Fair
11:30 am-12:30 pm: Lunch
12:45-1:45 pm: Workshop Session I
2-3 pm: Workshop Session II
3:15-4:15 pm: Workshop Session III

Group registration is available for 10 or more, which reduces the ticket cost to $10 per person. Please encourage your students to purchase their tickets early, as we have sold out in the past. Bus or shuttle parking is available. Those who drive cars and park in the nearby garage will need to pay for campus parking at $9. Registration fees include: access to the conference, a t-shirt, bag, breakfast and lunch if they choose a sponsored lunch. Lunch may also be purchased on their own or through Eventbrite.
Apply to Health++, Stanford’s Health Hackathon, 10/19-10/20/19

Health++ is Stanford's weekend-long hackathon enabling engineers, designers, entrepreneurs, and healthcare professionals to collaborate on meaningful challenges in the healthcare space.

This year, we're going BIGGER—more prizes, more food, more workshops, more sponsors, more fun workshops and activities. Anyone is welcome to apply, regardless of field of expertise! That means, NO EXPERIENCE IN CS REQUIRED. Our most interdisciplinary teams often create the best hacks!

CFA - KIDS FIRST: David L. Kirp Prize for UCB Undergrads, 10/28/19

Prize for Undergraduates Working to Improve the Future for Children and Youth
Each year the KIDS FIRST: David L. Kirp Prize awards $2,500 to one or more UC Berkeley undergraduates who have developed innovative strategies to increase opportunities for children and youth or who have demonstrated a commitment to improving the future of children and youth. The prize is open to students from all majors, and the application deadline is October 28, 2019. Application and more details are available here: https://issi.berkeley.edu/kids-first

Eligibility
The prize is open to UC Berkeley undergraduate students from all majors who are registered during fall semester 2019.

Applications for New Media Undergraduate Certificate, 11/1/19

Undergraduate Certificate in New Media
Applications due: November 1, 2019
The Berkeley Center for New Media is an interdisciplinary research center that studies and shapes media transition and emergence from diverse perspectives. Through critical thinking and making, we cultivate technological equity and fairness in our classrooms, in our communities, and on the internet.
A new media certification provides enhanced skills in analyzing and/or designing future media with an awareness of historical, social, and cultural perspectives that might not be visible from a single discipline. Emphasizing a critical understanding of the nature and implications of new media, our students draw on theories and methodologies from the arts, the humanities and social sciences, and science and engineering, to innovate while questioning the impact of new media on the human experience.

Our students are eligible for a host of opportunities through the Center, including our prestigious Eugene Jarvis fellowships, research support, and unique experiences with the world-class speakers we bring to campus.

We are accepting applications for admission to the Designated Emphasis (DE) in New Media Ph.D. program, the Graduate Certificate in New Media M.A. program, and the Undergraduate Certificate in New Media program. All applications for Fall 2019 admittance are due November 1, 2019. Find out more!

Through the Looking Glass: Using Imaginal Resources to Heal Shame, 11/2-3/19

Through the Looking Glass: Using Imaginal Resources to Heal Shame
A Workshop for Therapists and Other Helping Professionals with Sheila Rubin, LMFT, RDT/BCT and Bret Lyon, PhD, SEP

Saturday, November 2, 10am–6pm & Sunday, November 3, 10am–5:30pm
In Berkeley, just off the I-80

$350 full price / $325 with full payment by September 28
Special price for interns

13 CE Credits — CAMFT CE provider #134393

When clients get stuck in shame, the most powerful way to help them get unstuck may be to activate their imagination. In the Imaginal Realm, logic and time are fluid and flexible. What actually happened can be explored and changed. What was stuck in the cognitive realm can be reexamined and shifted. Shaming situations from the past can be revisited and resolved. In this workshop, we will utilize techniques from Drama Therapy, Focusing, Expressive Arts Therapy, Jungian creative imagination and Hakomi. We will explore the critical voices and/or the childhood scenes that are still driving the internal shame dynamic in the client.

You will learn to help clients:
- Externalize shame so that it can be worked with directly.
- Work with roles, parts and shame-based introjects.
- Access strength, resilience, inner resources and role repertoire.
- Find a deeper understanding by working with objects you already have in your office.
- Utilize imaginal techniques to give the shame back, so that it stays in the Imaginal Realm.
Once the shame is worked through in the Imaginal Realm, the client can interact with the world differently.

There is no prerequisite for this course. It can be taken by itself or as part of a sequence.

TO REGISTER, please visit the Schedule page at http://www.CenterforHealingShame.com. Space is limited.

For details about our complete training program in Healing Shame, visit our website, where you can also check out articles and free Healing Shame webinars.

CALL FOR UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH PAPERS

Have you completed a research paper in a psychology-related field (i.e. psychology, cognitive science, neuroscience, linguistics)? Are you looking for a platform to publish your work? If so, The Undergraduate Research Journal of Psychology at UCLA (URJP) WANTS YOU to submit your papers for our annual publication, expected to be released Spring 2019.

URJP is an organization dedicated to informing the community of psychological findings through research run by undergraduates from all universities. Last year, we received submissions ranging from local to international universities. URJP is one of the few established psychology journals that publish undergraduate psychological research.

To submit, the papers must fulfill the requirements below:

- Original work completed by undergraduates (includes senior honors theses, independent research, reviews, theoretical papers, and other scholarly writing)
- Never before been published
- APA formatted (we can help with this!)

If you have not completed an independent research project, we still encourage you to apply by submitting a “literature review article” which does not require access to research data.

The deadline to submit papers is November 8, 2019. Multiple submissions from one author are welcome. If you would like to submit an article for consideration, please complete the following:
• Replace any identifying information (i.e. author name, institution) with empty brackets, to ensure anonymity within the selection process

• Visit our website's submission page, https://urjp.psych.ucla.edu/submissions/

• Once you have filled out the form above, send the following in an email to psychjournal.ucla@gmail.com
• In the body of the email, include the following information: (1) your full name, (2) full article title, (3) article type (i.e., literature review, research article), (4) your email address

More information regarding our submission criteria and types of articles accepted can be found on our website, https://urjp.psych.ucla.edu/
If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at psychjournal.ucla@gmail.com for further information. To view our prior publications, please visit our website at https://urjp.psych.ucla.edu/publications/. We look forward to reviewing your submissions!

The Global Urban Humanities Initiative (GUH) offers undergraduate and graduate students unique opportunities for interdisciplinary, project-based, fieldwork-based learning on cities and urban culture with a focus on arts and humanities, architecture and city planning. We offer a certificate program and support research, exhibitions, publications, and symposia. GUH is a joint project of the College of Environmental Design and the Arts & Humanities Division of the College of Letters & Science.

Social Justice and First Gen Student Programming,

1. Careers in Social Justice Event 10/1

I am partnering with the Labor Center and professionals in the Bay to put on an event for students passionate about social activism. Here is a blurb which includes a link to the event on Handshake for the event. I have also attached a flyer.

Careers In Social Justice
Tuesday, October 1st, 5-6:30pm
Career Center- Blue & Gold Room
Interested in turning your passion for social issues into an actual job? Come meet with professionals who have found careers in social justice and activism to discuss options during school and post-graduation
Please sign up on Handshake

2. First Gen Focus Groups

We are conducting focus groups to help with our first gen programming:

-----------------------------------
The Career Center will host its annual First Generation Career Conference on February 8, 2020.
Are you the first in your family to earn a 4-year degree?

Through this event, you will learn practical skills about the job and internship search process, networking, and most importantly, how to craft your narrative and celebrate your strengths as first-generation students.

We want to hear from first gen students about their experiences at Cal and what they hope to see at this year's event.

We are hosting 3 sessions to get your input on October 8, 9, and 10 from 12:00-1:00 pm. You only need to attend one session and lunch will be provided.

If you have questions or would like to participate, please email Kelly Li at kellyli13@berkeley.edu.

If you cannot make these sessions, please fill out the survey to share your ideas: http://bit.ly/FirstGen2020-

[Lunchtime Talk] The Relationship Between Union Membership and Net Fiscal Impact
Wednesday, October 2, 2019, 12:00-1:30pm
UC Berkeley Labor Center
2521 Channing Way
Berkeley CA

Jose Pacas discusses how labor relations interact with public economics, suggesting that union membership has a positive net fiscal impact.

What is the net fiscal impact of an individual's union membership status? What is the effect on taxes they pay and cost of public benefits they receive? Using data from the Current Population Survey, this talk will present evidence on how labor relations interact with public economics, suggesting that union membership has a positive net fiscal impact through the worker-level channels studied.

Lunch provided with RSVP

About the Speaker

Jose Pacas began working at the MPC as a research assistant between 2012 and 2015. After a couple of years as an economist for the Poverty Statistics Branch at the US Census Bureau, he returned as full-time research staff in 2017. He focuses primarily on the IPUMS USA project while also helping on the IPUMS CPS project. His research has focused on using Census data to study labor markets, poverty, immigration and racial/ethnic disparities. Current research projects focus on the factors influencing poverty transitions and the net fiscal impact of labor unions. Prior work has varied from estimating the population of undocumented immigrants in the US to a historical profile of the biomedical labor force.

Tuesday, October 15, 2019, 5:00-6:30 PM

ESC-IFPTE Local 20
810 Clay St.
Oakland CA

Co-Sponsored by the UC Berkeley Labor Center and CA Labor Federation

Event Speaker: Steven Greenhouse

Join us for a conversation with book author and longtime New York Times labor correspondent, Steven Greenhouse. His latest book, Beaten Down, Worked Up: The Past, Present, and Future of American Labor, is an in-depth look at working men and women in America, the challenges they face, and how they can be re-empowered.

ABOUT BEATEN DOWN, WORKED UP

In an era when corporate profits have soared while wages have flatlined, millions of Americans are searching for ways to improve their lives, and they’re often turning to labor unions and worker action, whether #RedforEd teachers’ strikes or the Fight for $15. Wage stagnation, low-wage work, and blighted blue-collar communities have become an all-too-common part of modern-day America, and behind these trends is a little-discussed problem: the decades-long decline in worker power.

Steven Greenhouse sees this decline reflected in some of the most pressing problems facing our nation today, including income inequality, declining social mobility, the gender pay gap, and the concentration of political power in the hands of the wealthy. He rebuts the often-stated view that labor unions are outmoded—or even harmful—by recounting some of labor’s victories, and the efforts of several of today’s most innovative and successful worker groups. He shows us the modern labor landscape through the stories of dozens of American workers, from G.M. workers... to Uber drivers, and we see how unions historically have empowered—and lifted—the most marginalized, including young women garment workers in New York in 1909, black sanitation workers in Memphis in 1968, and hotel housekeepers today. Greenhouse proposes concrete, feasible ways in which workers’ collective power can be—and is being—rekindled and reimagined in the twenty-first century.

This event is free and open to the public.

➤ Innovators @Cal Event

Event Info:
Innovators@Cal

Thursday, October 10 | 6:00pm PT | Banatao Auditorium & B100 Blum Hall

Hosted by Big Ideas, Jacobs Institute for Design Innovation, CITRIS Tech for Social Good, Fung Institute, Women in Tech Initiative (WITI), BHEP (Haas), and the Foundry, Innovators@Cal is an exciting event that fosters collaboration across the UC Berkeley campus. Innovators@Cal provides students and student teams with opportunities to advance their ideas and ventures through two-minute pitches on stage and whiteboard sessions where teams can discuss their ideas with audience members, receive feedback, recruit new team members, and more!

This event is for you if:

• You have an idea or startup and are looking to build a team.
• You are "entrepreneurial curious" and interested in joining a team.
• You are interested in entrepreneurship resources available at Cal.
• You want to find like-minded people innovating solutions for big problems.

This year, Innovators@Cal is proud to present Keynote Speakers Nikhil Arora and Alejandro Vélez, Big Ideas winners (2011) and co-founders of Back to the Roots. Based in Oakland, Back to the Roots makes indoor gardening kits and aquaponic fish tanks for producing organic mushrooms, herbs, and vegetables at home. Back to the Roots has evolved from a college kitchen experiment into an urban gardening company with a mission to reconnect families back to food. RSVP here to sign up and pitch your idea! RSVP on Eventbrite to attend the full event!
